"Wake up! It's Saturday!"

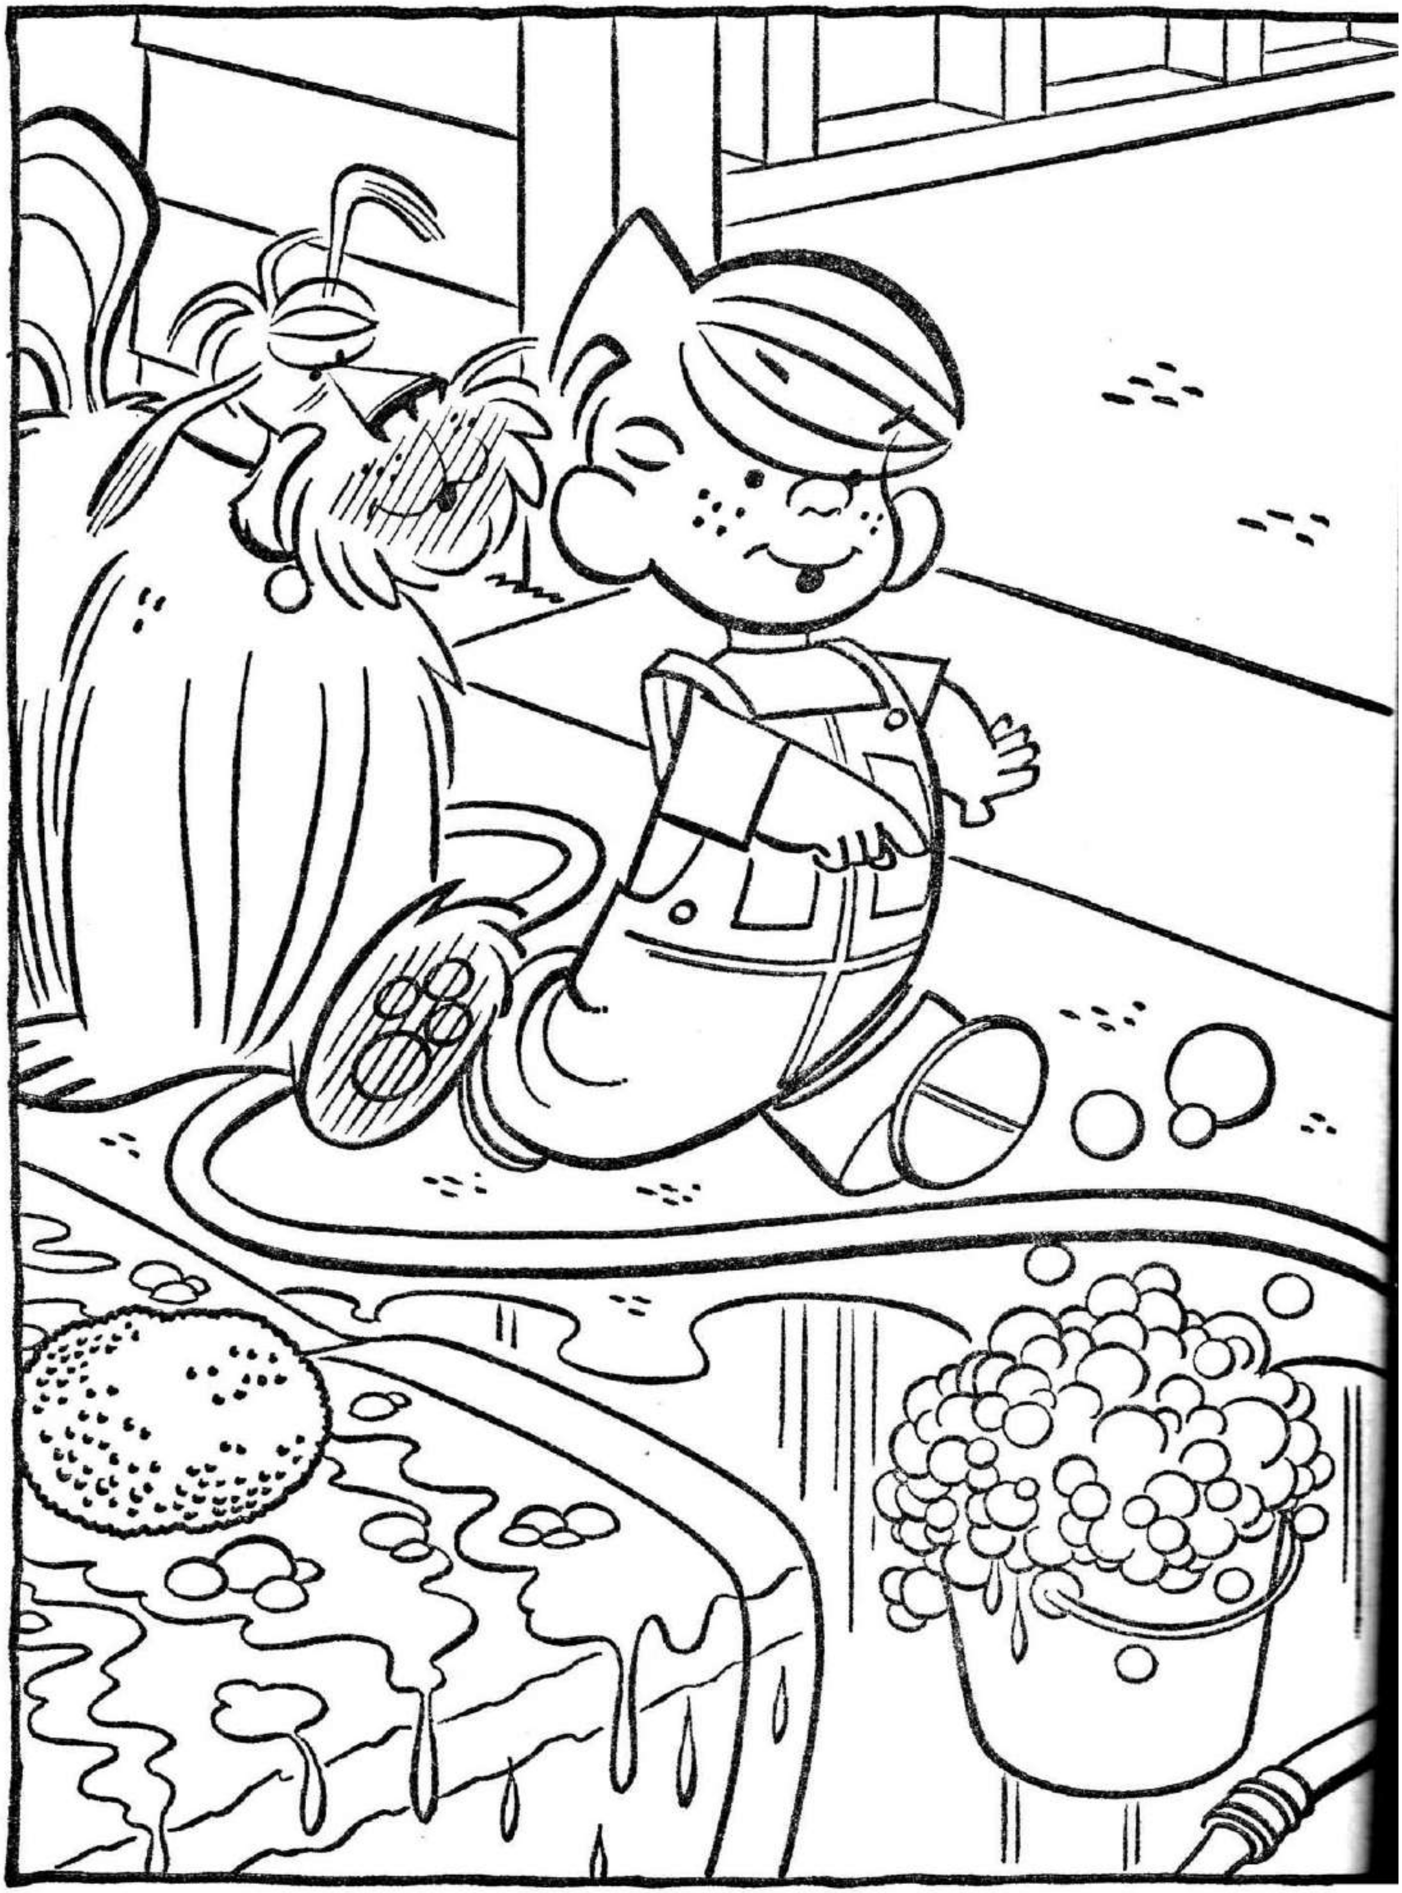

"Don't you love Saturdays?"

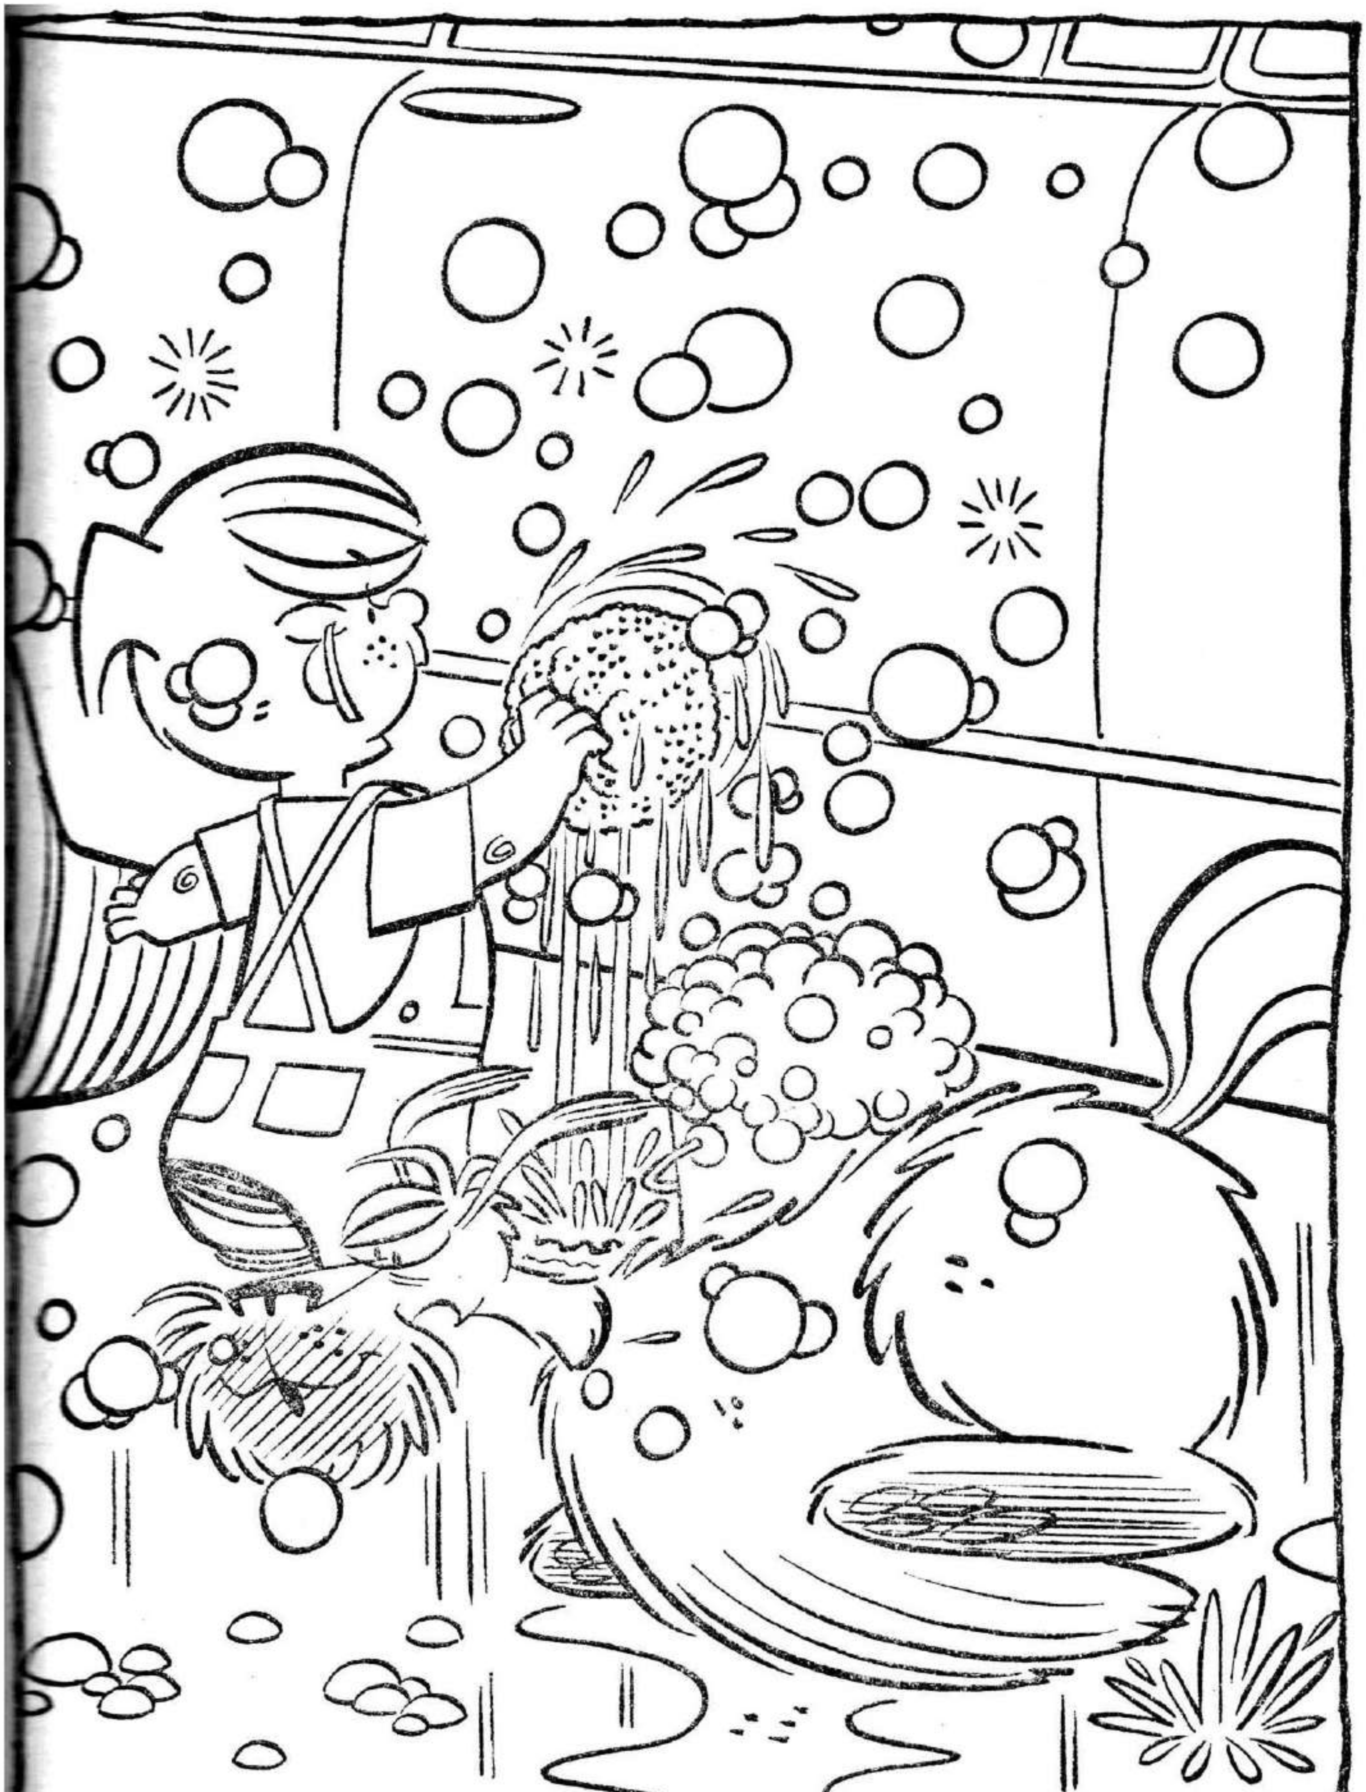

Dad's washing the car.

"Telephone call, dear!"

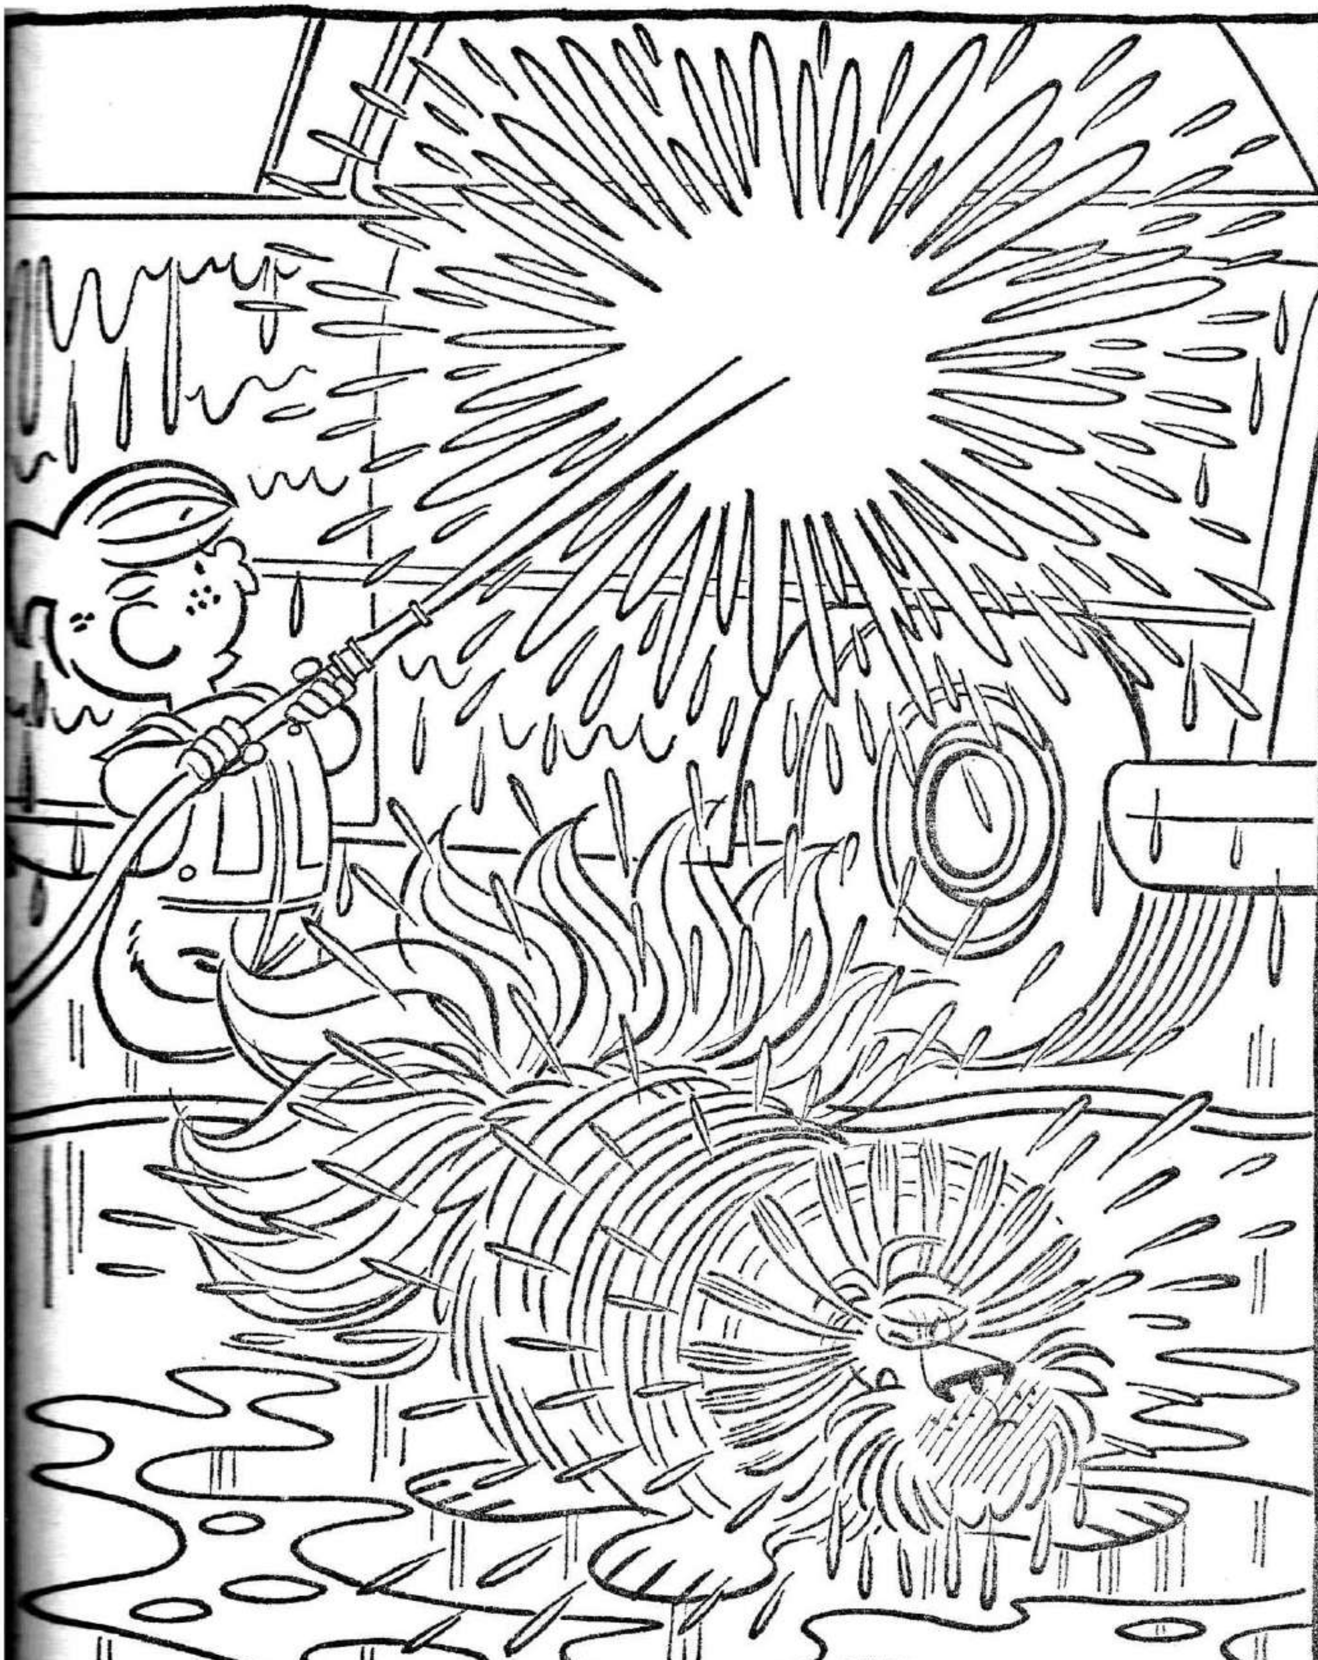

"Oh boy! Let's help Dad!"

"Get it good and clean!"

"Now I'll rinse it off!"

"Dad will be surprised!"

“No, no, Dennis!”

The car windows were open!

"I washed the car!"

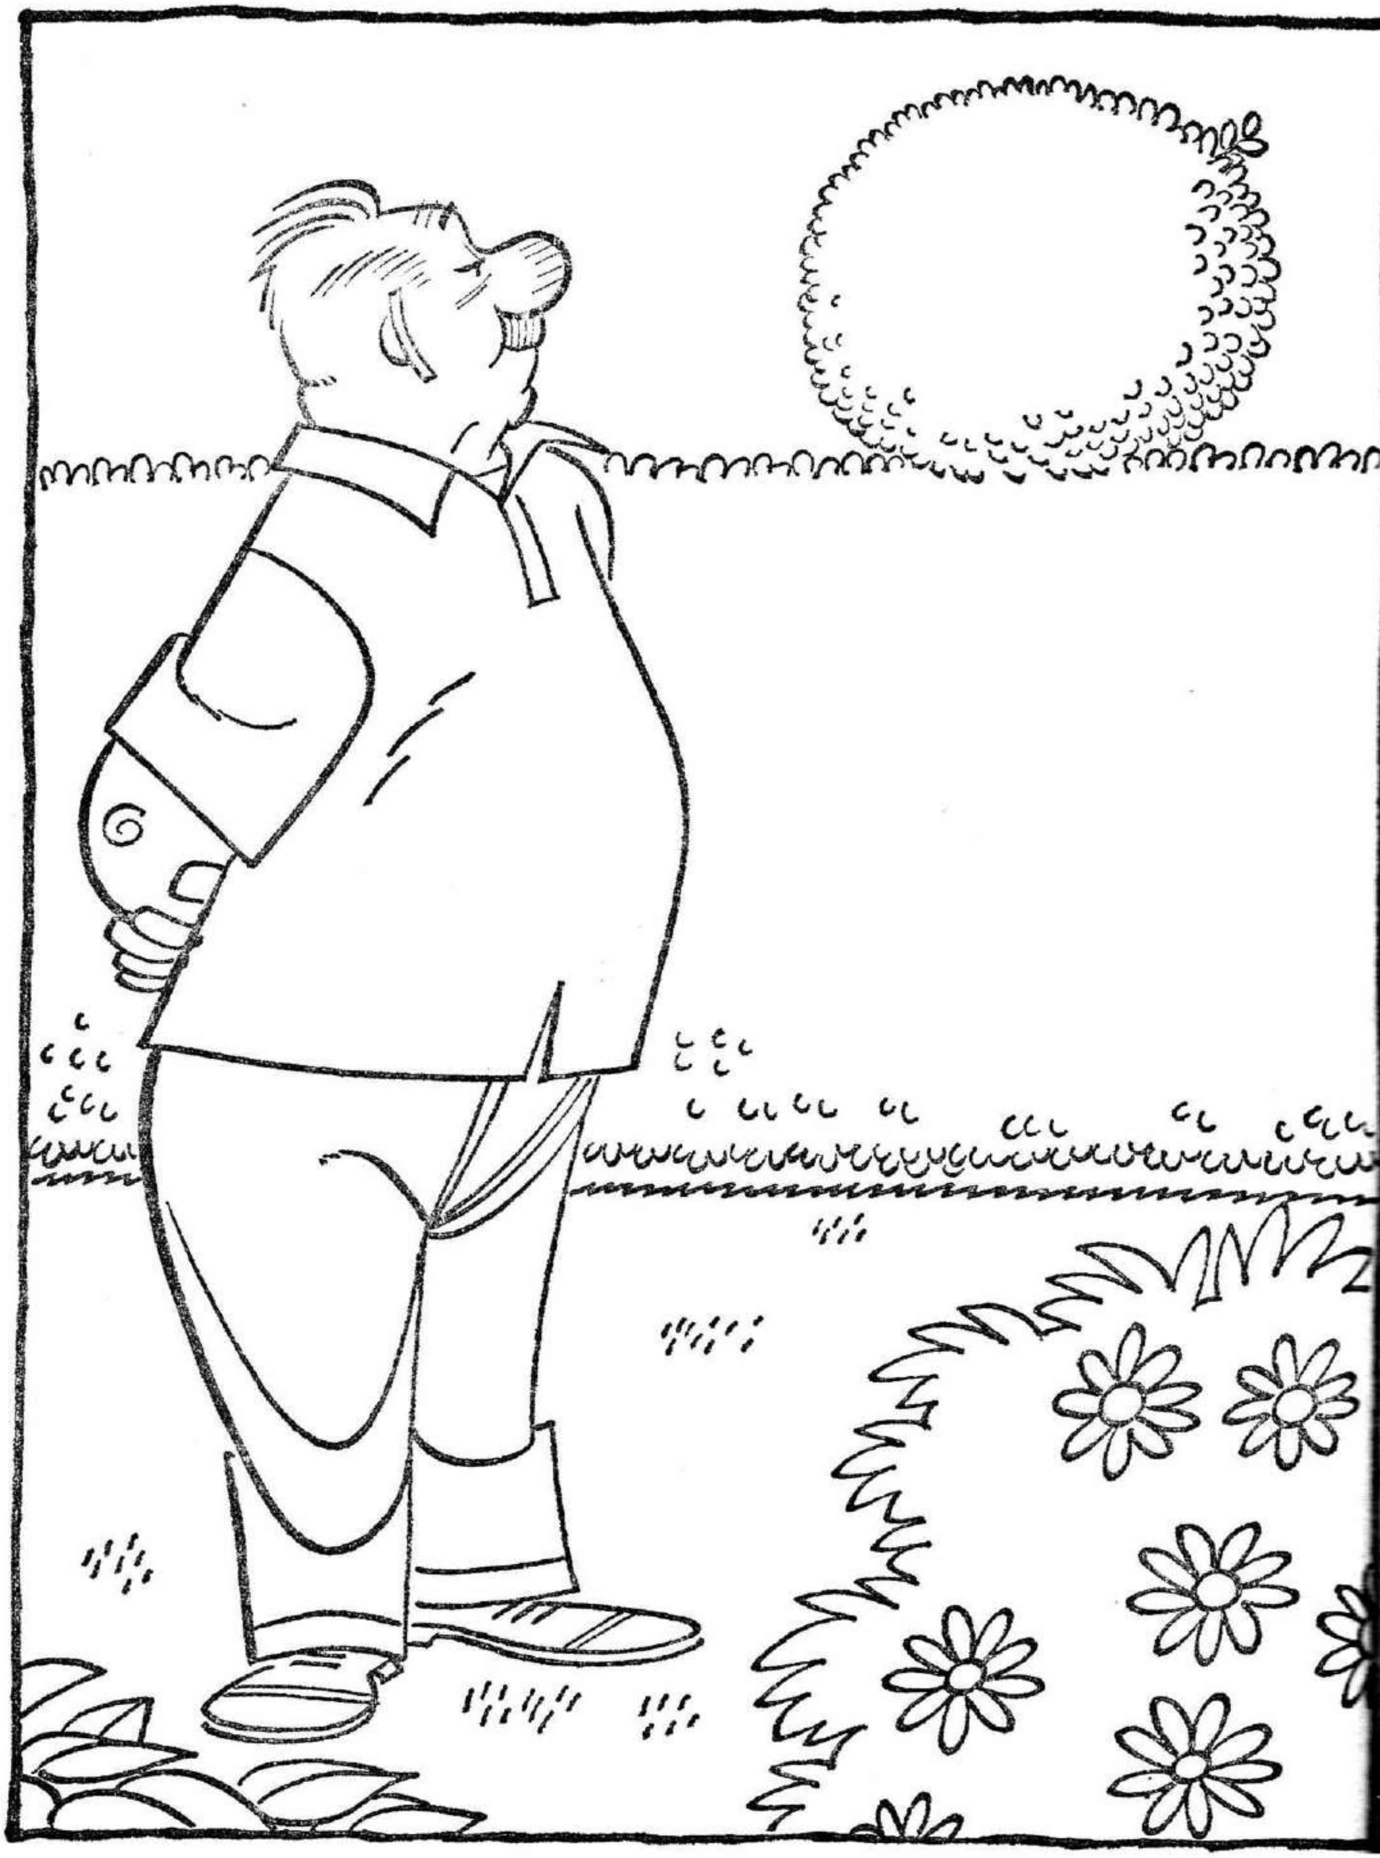

"There's good ol' Mr. Wilson!"

Mr. Wilson loves his garden.

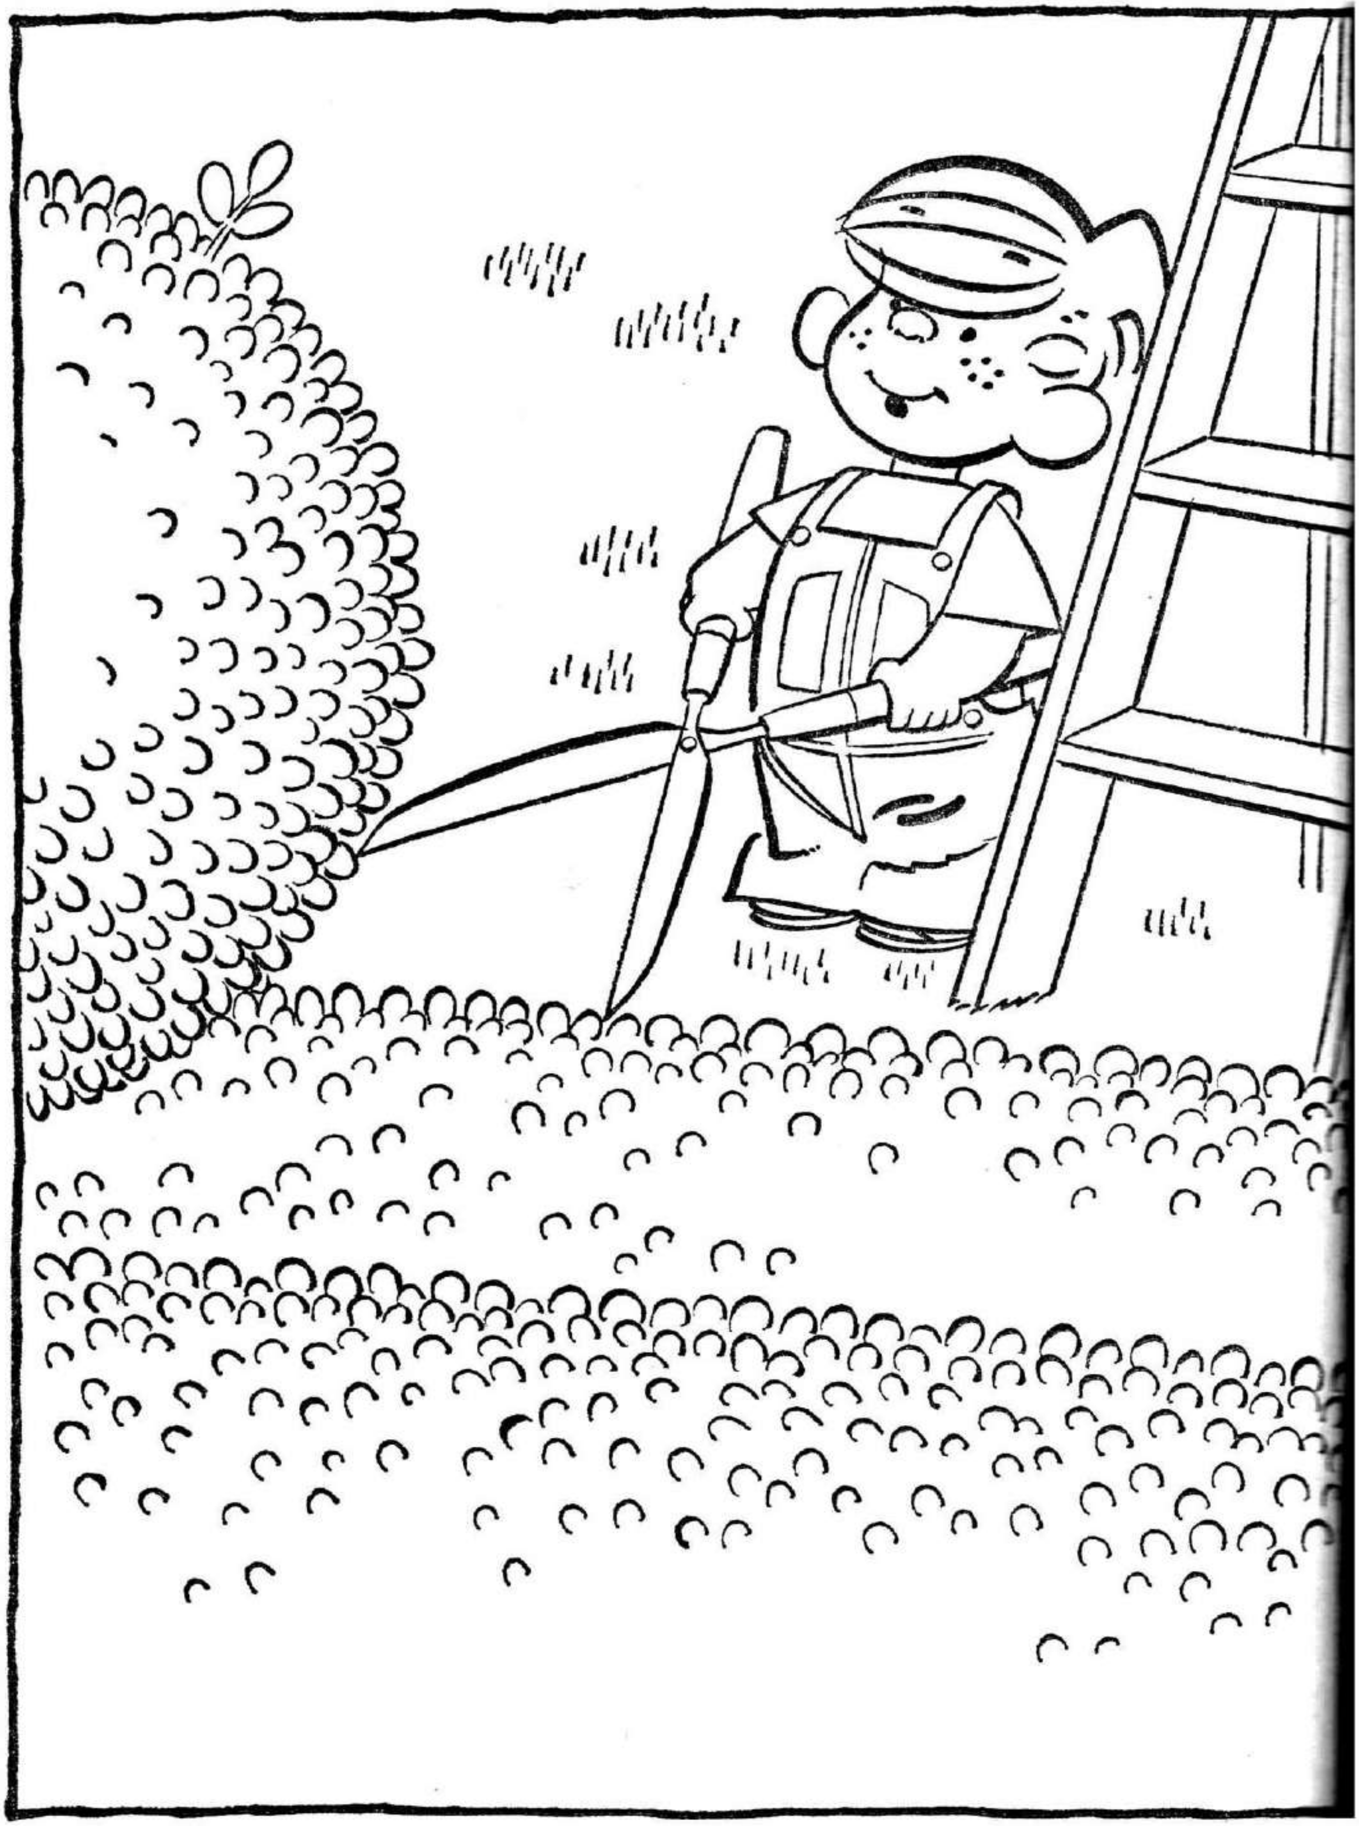

Mrs. Wilson does, too.

He has a beautiful hedge.

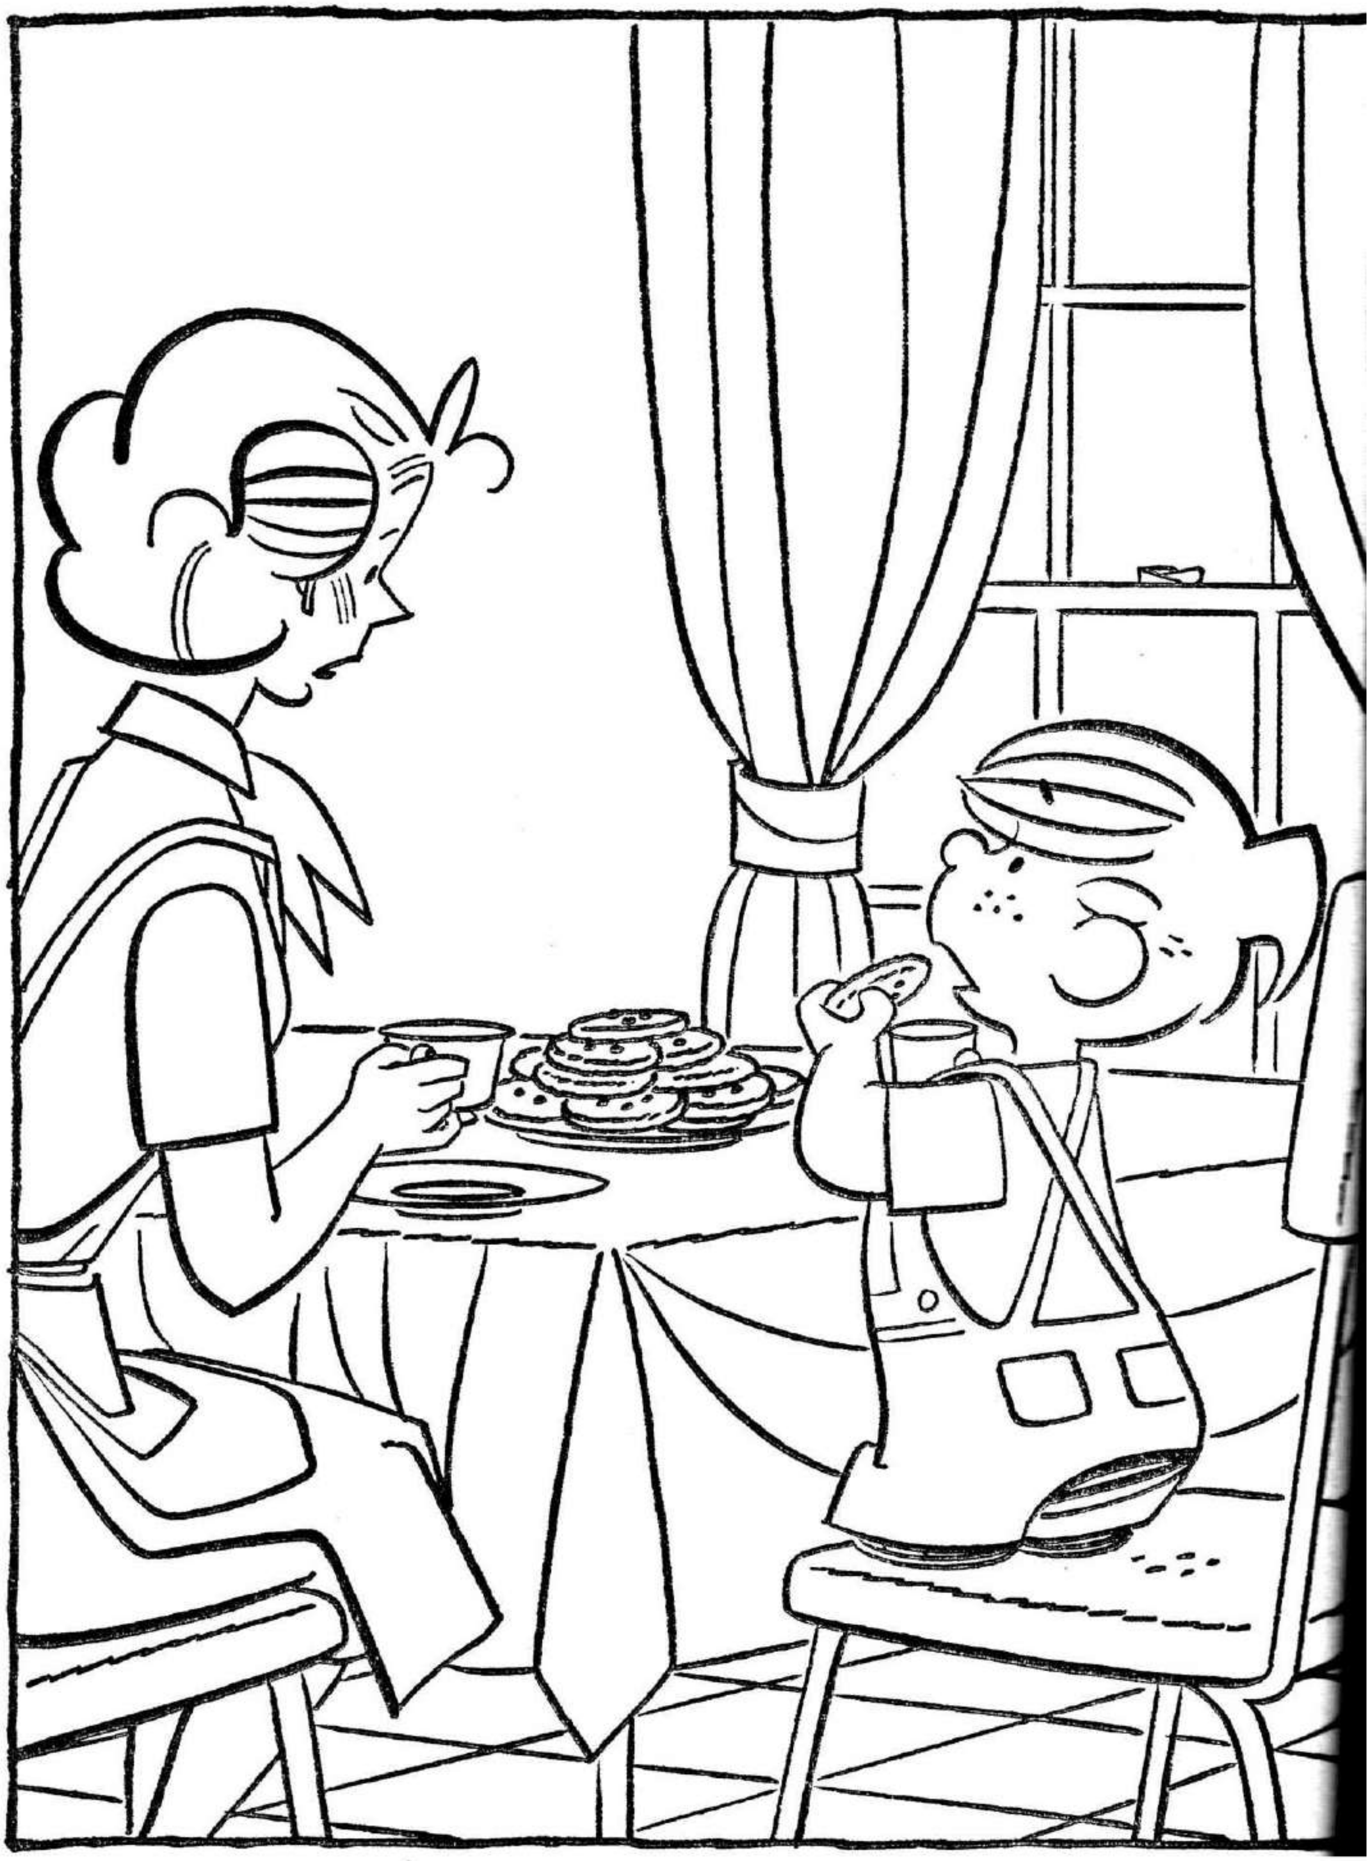

"I'm proud of my hedge!"

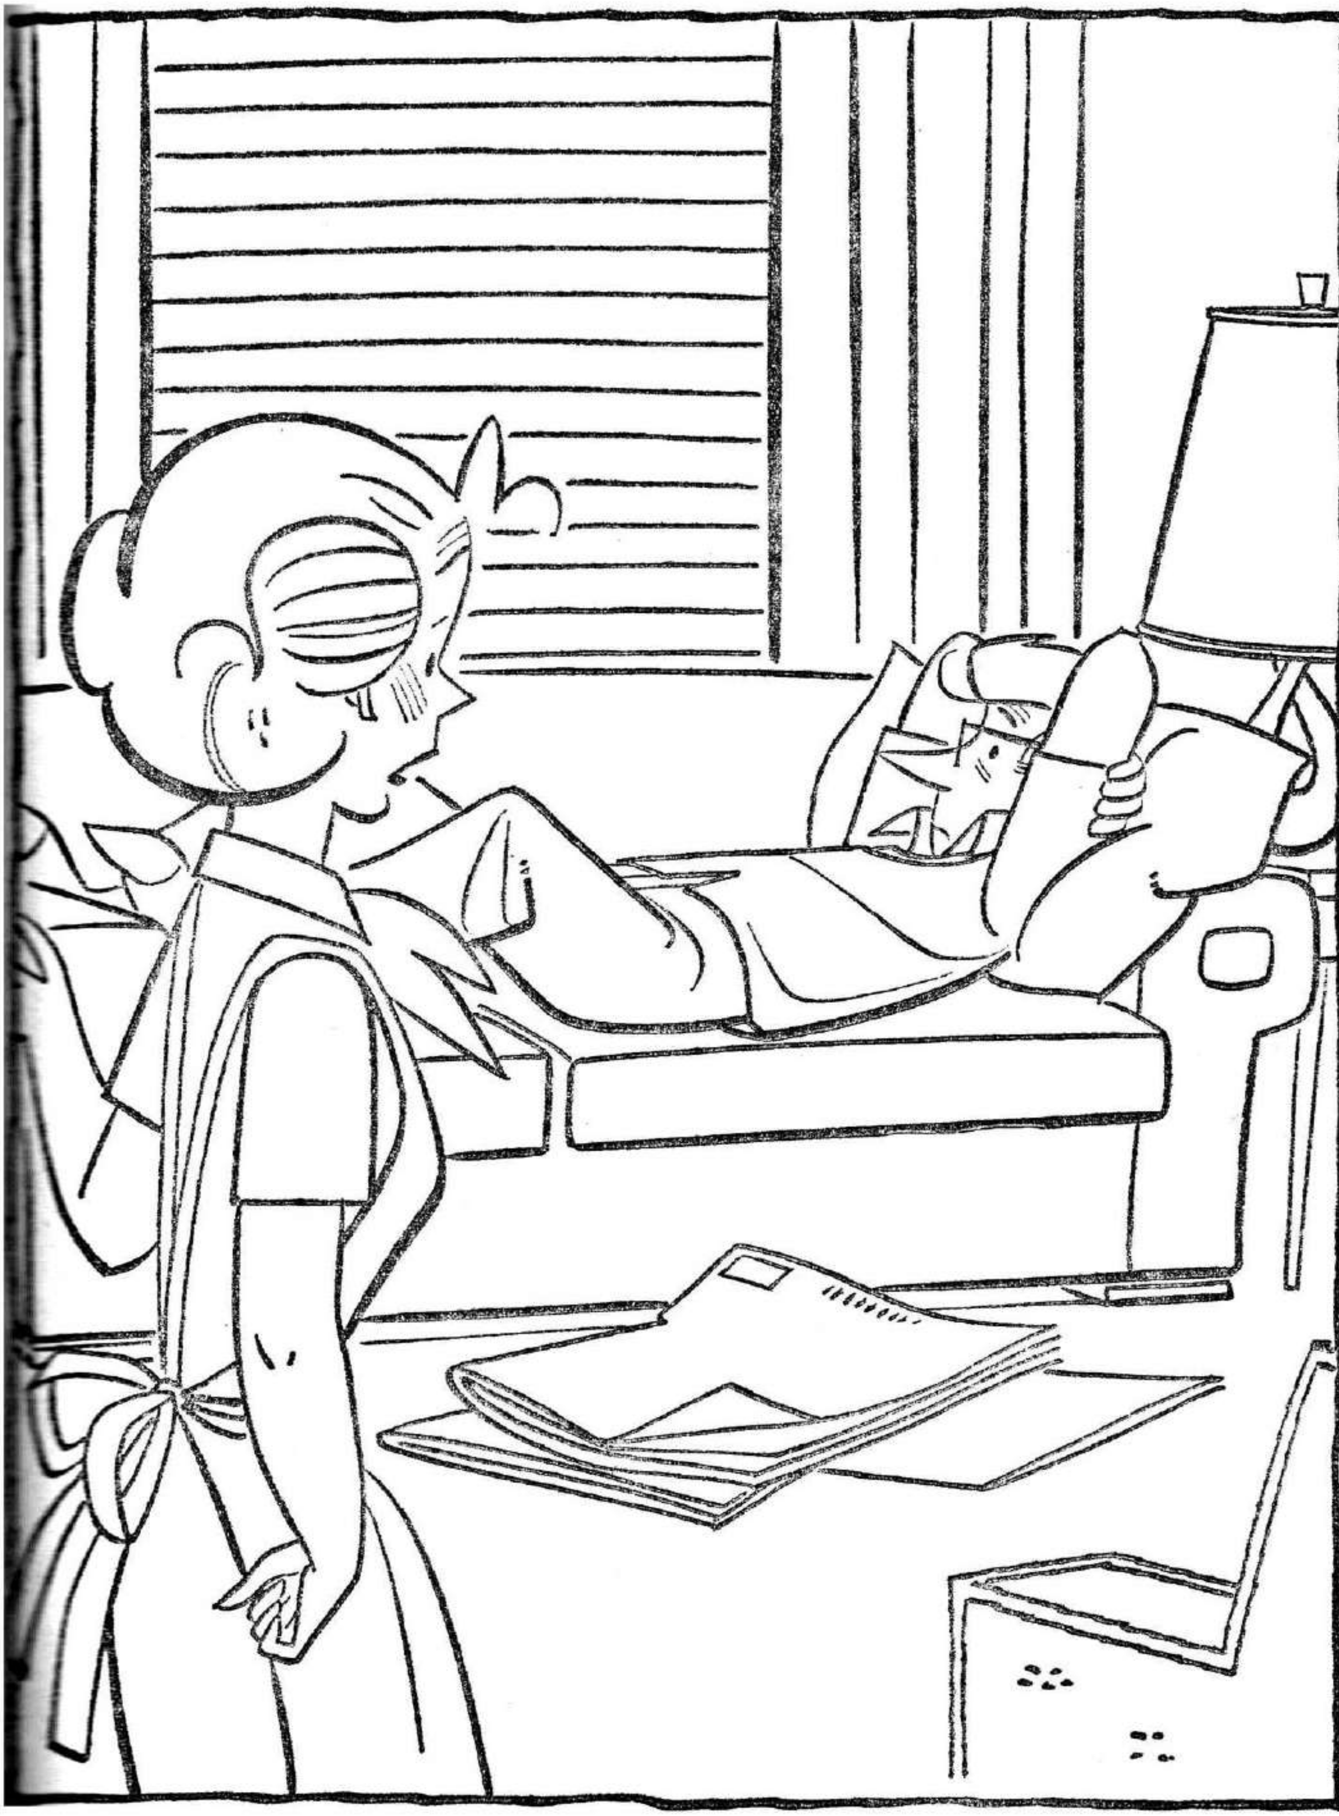

"I'll help Mr. Wilson!"

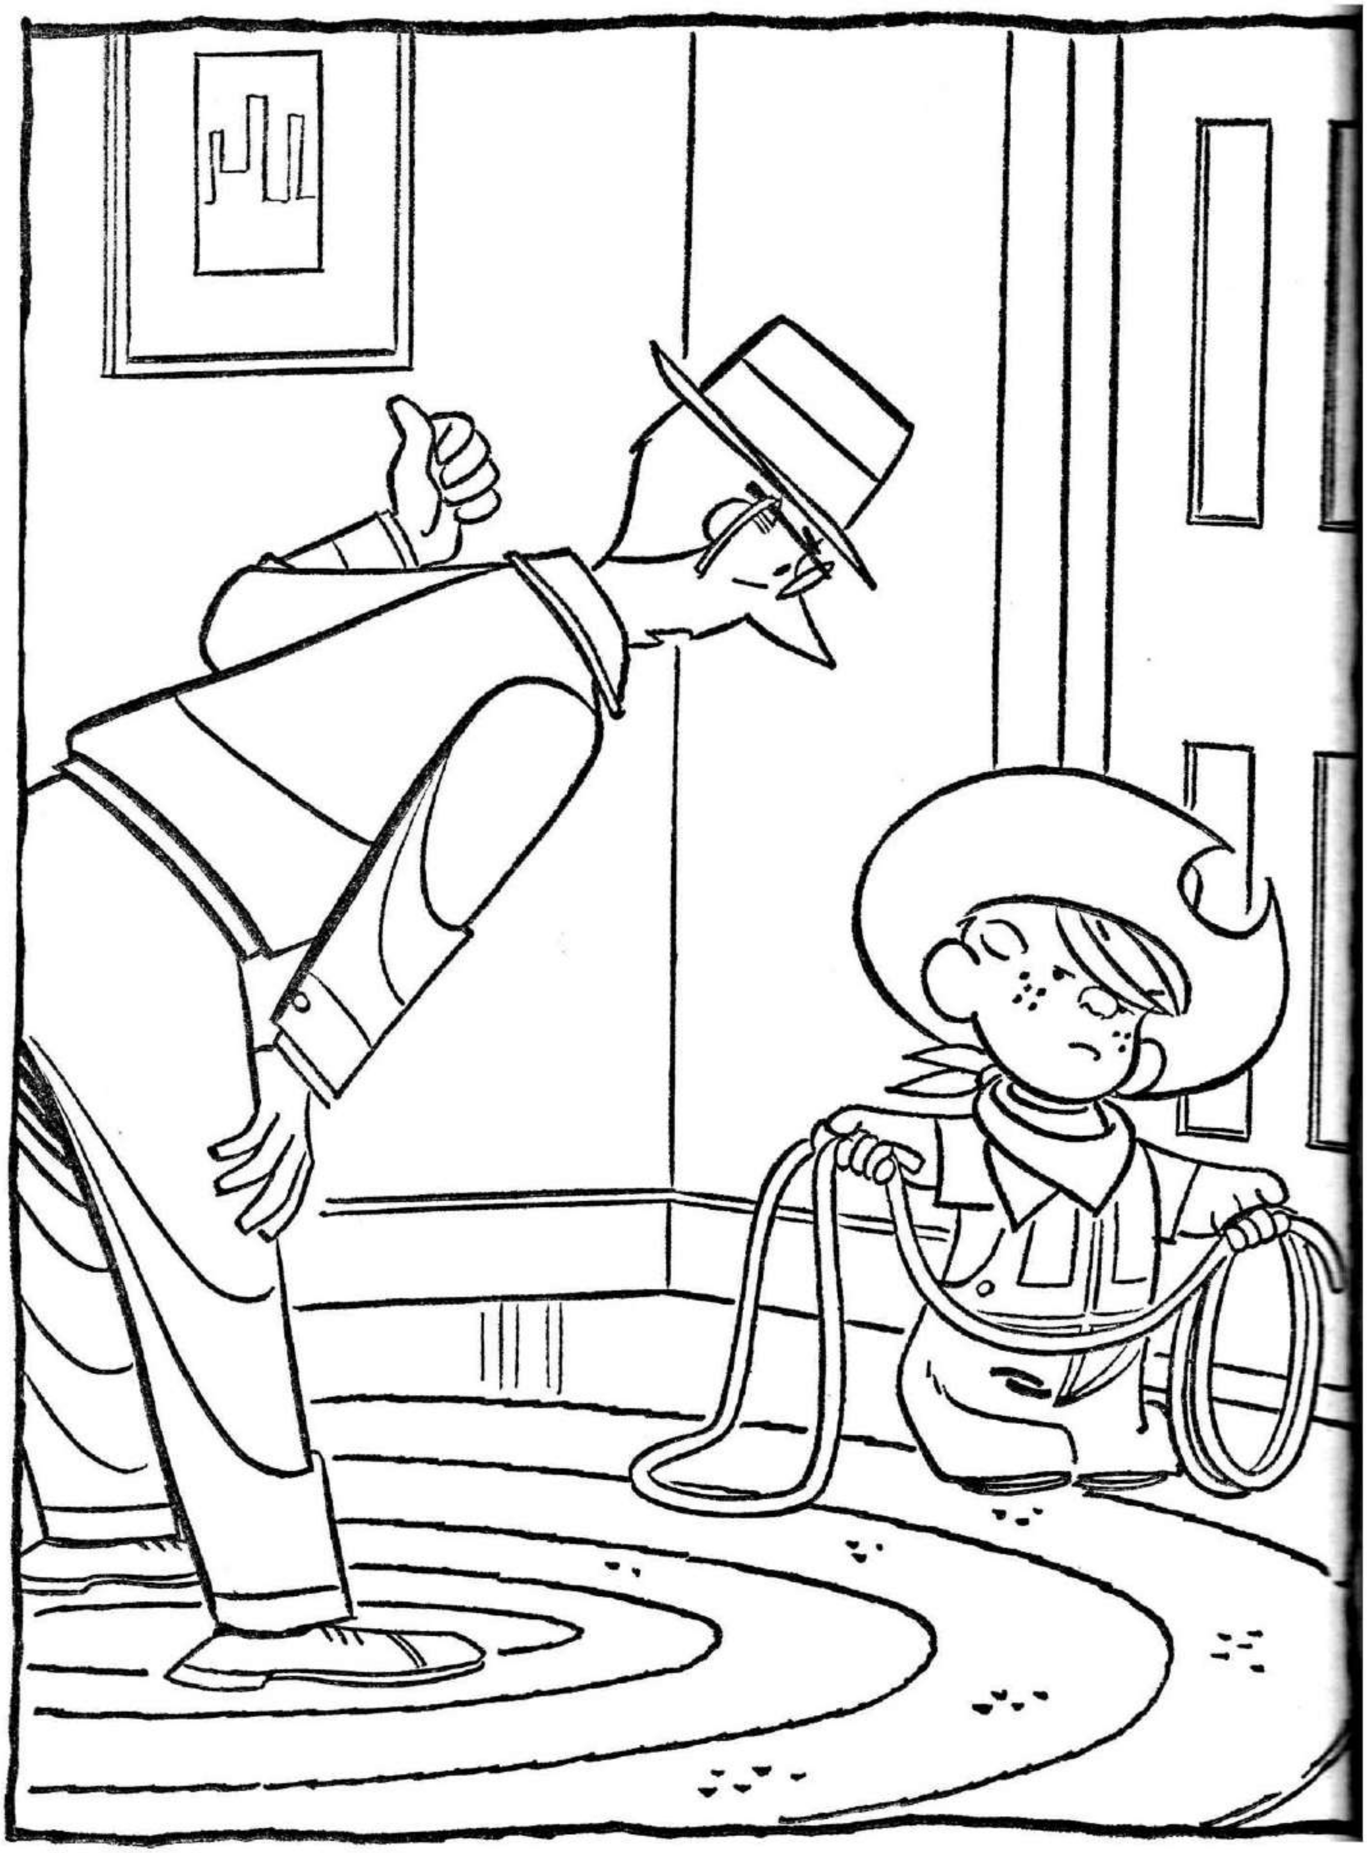

"Dennis! Go home!"

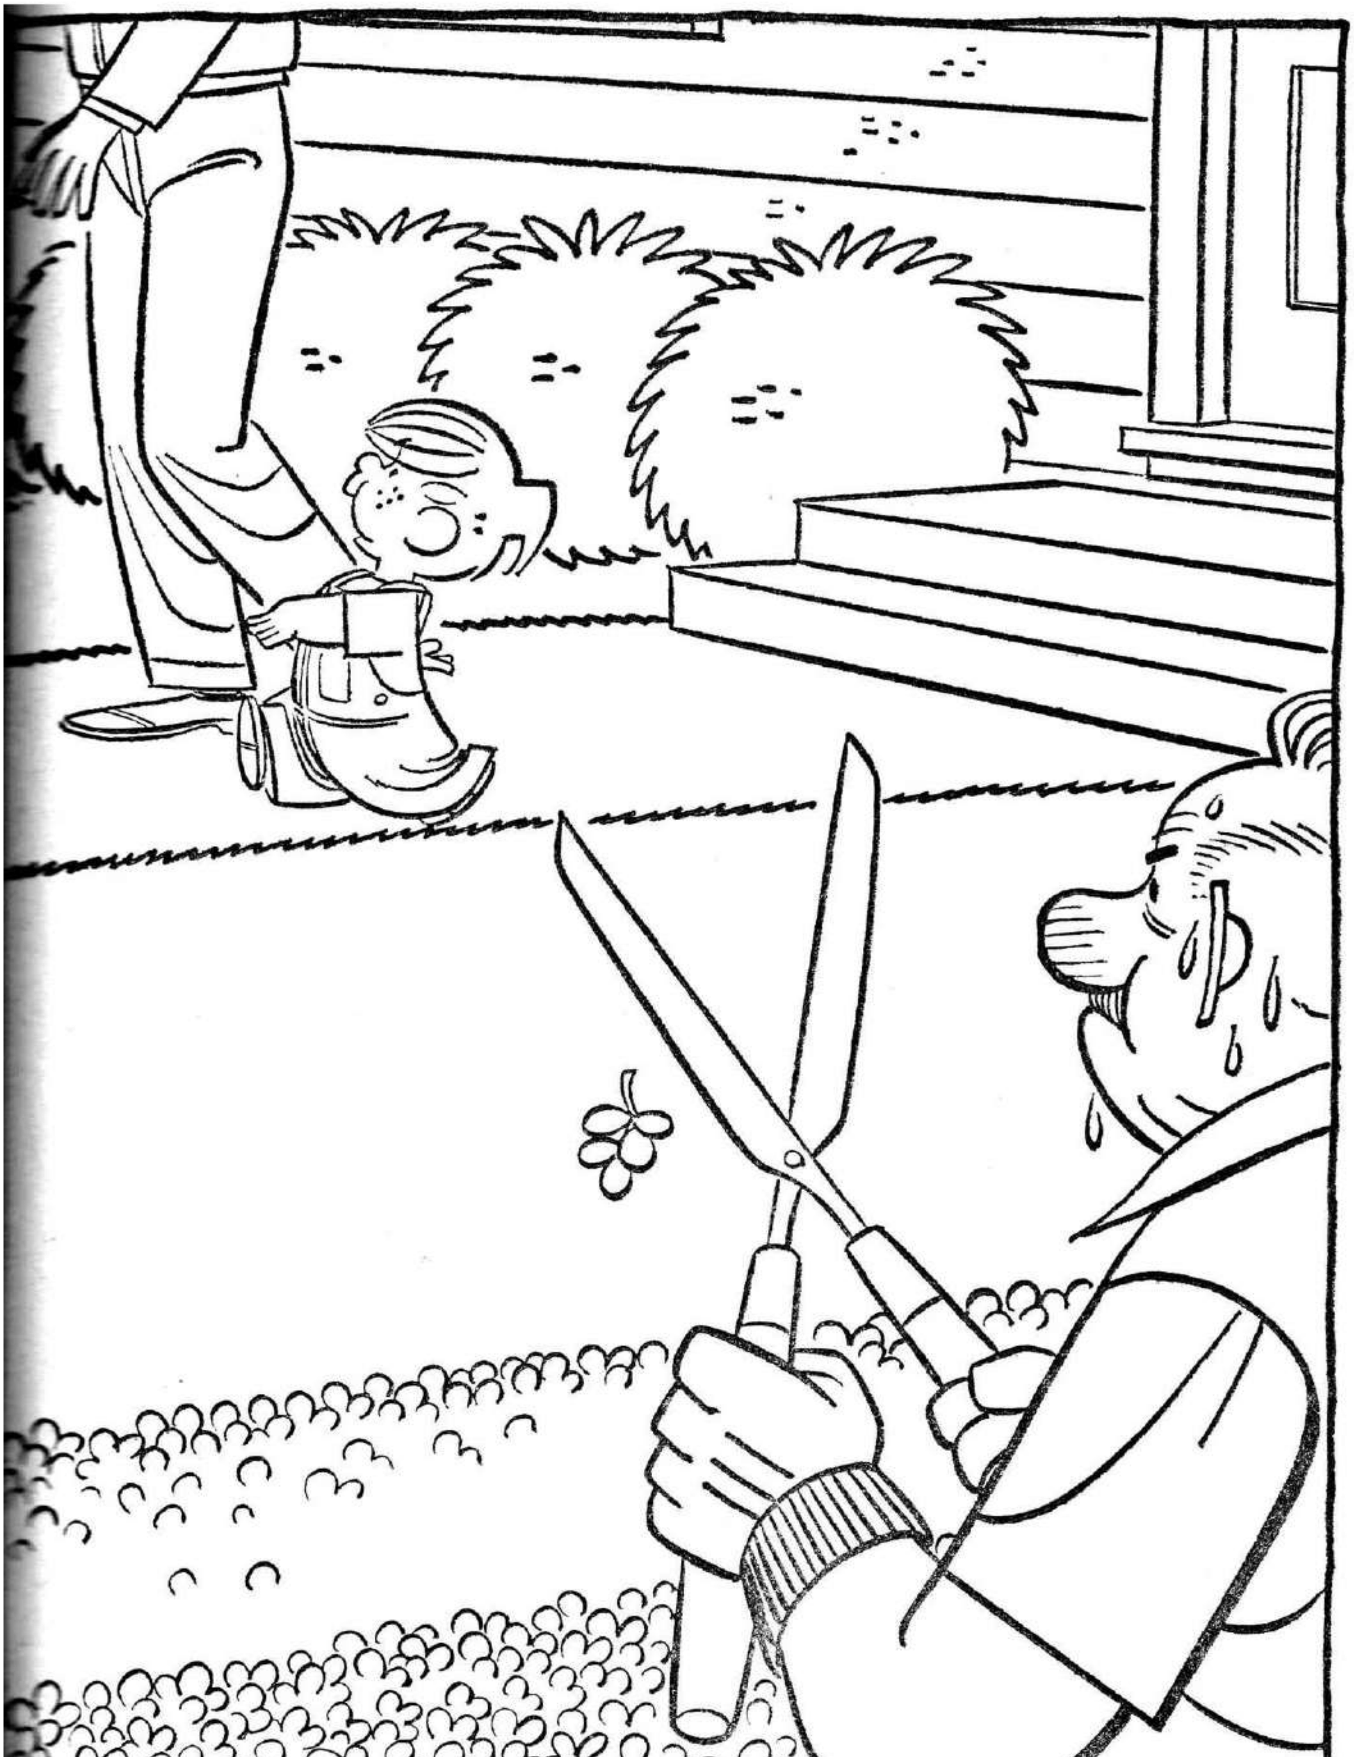

"I cut Mr. Wilson's hedge!"

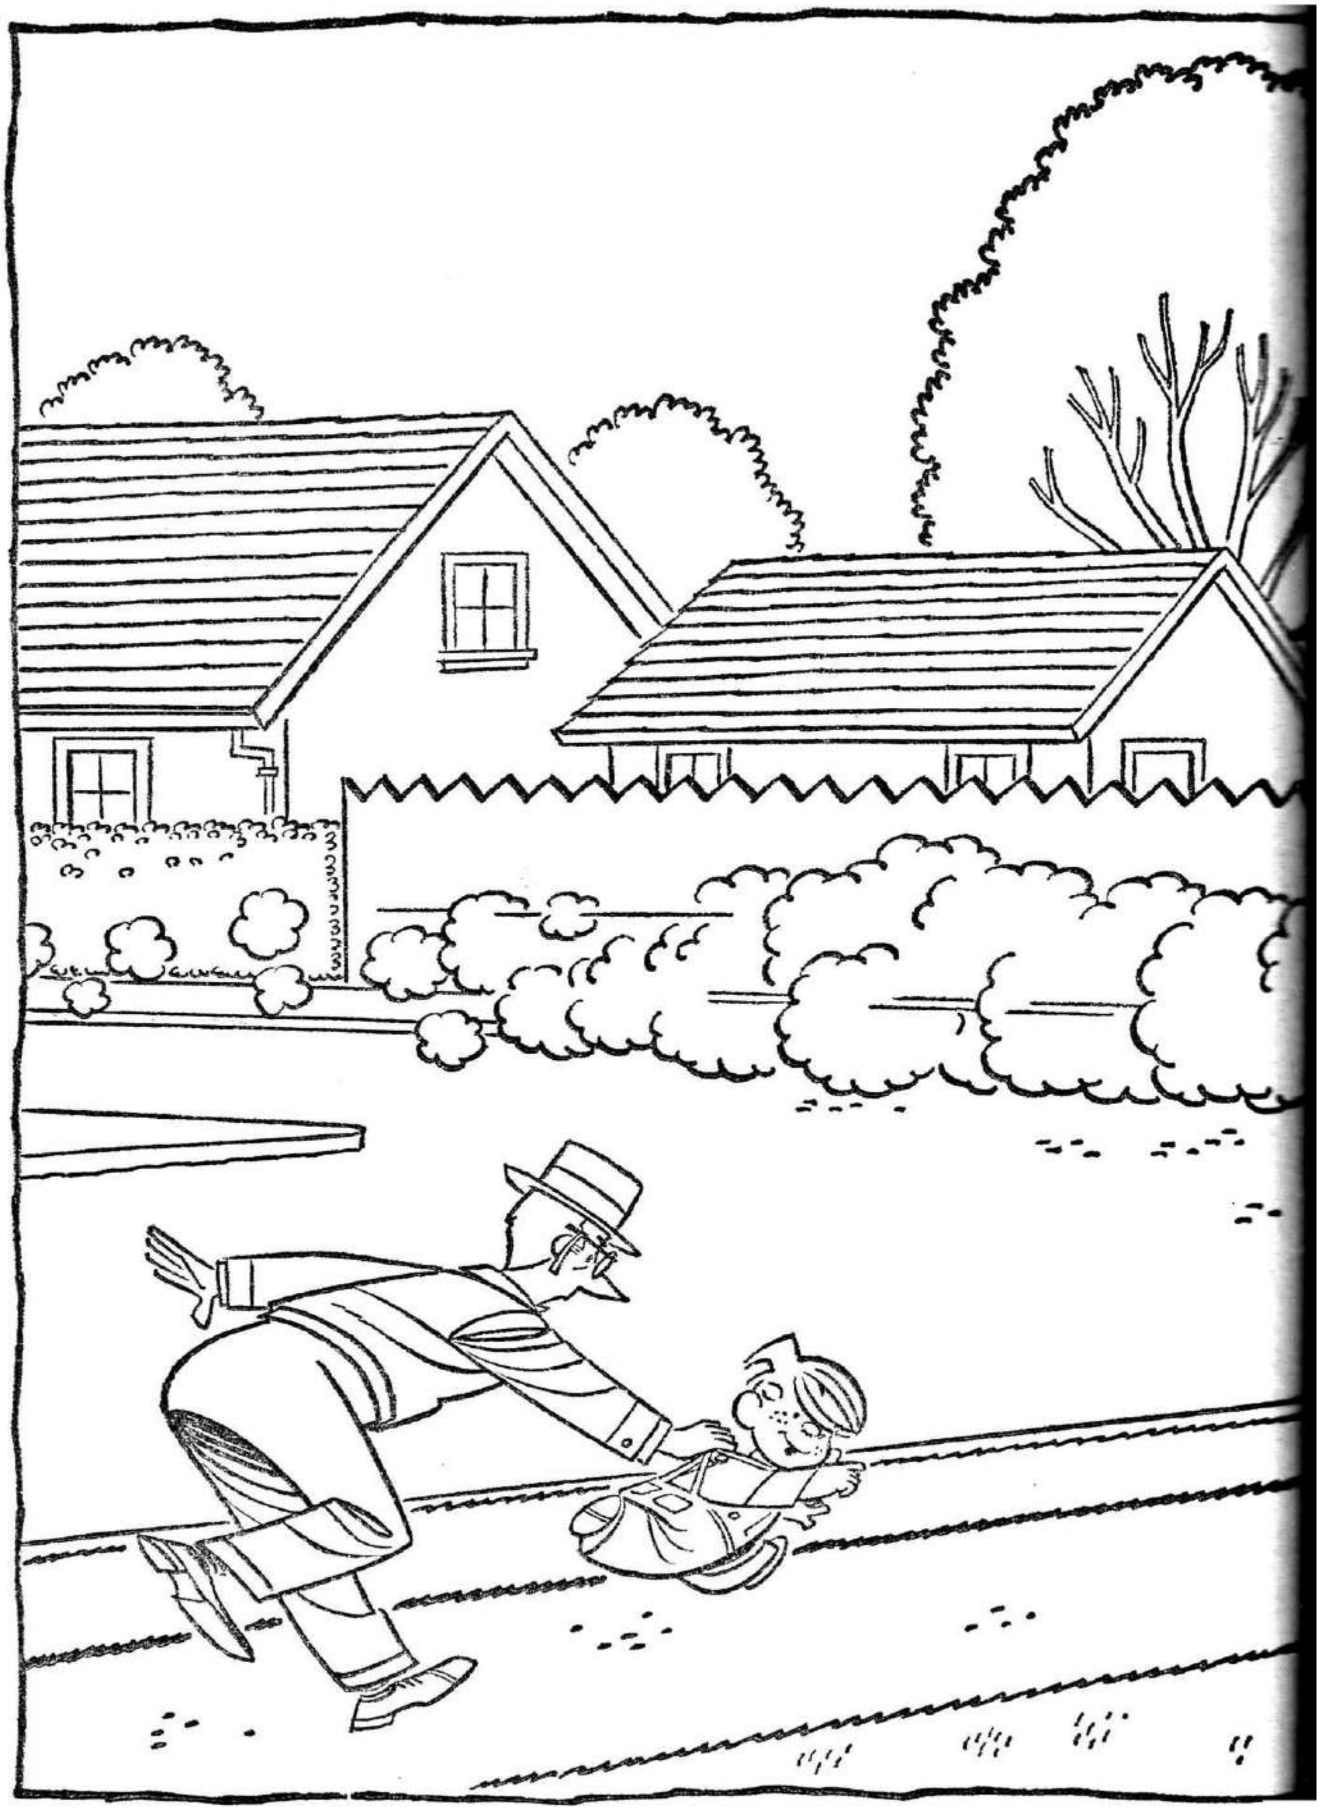

"Please take Dennis somewhere!"

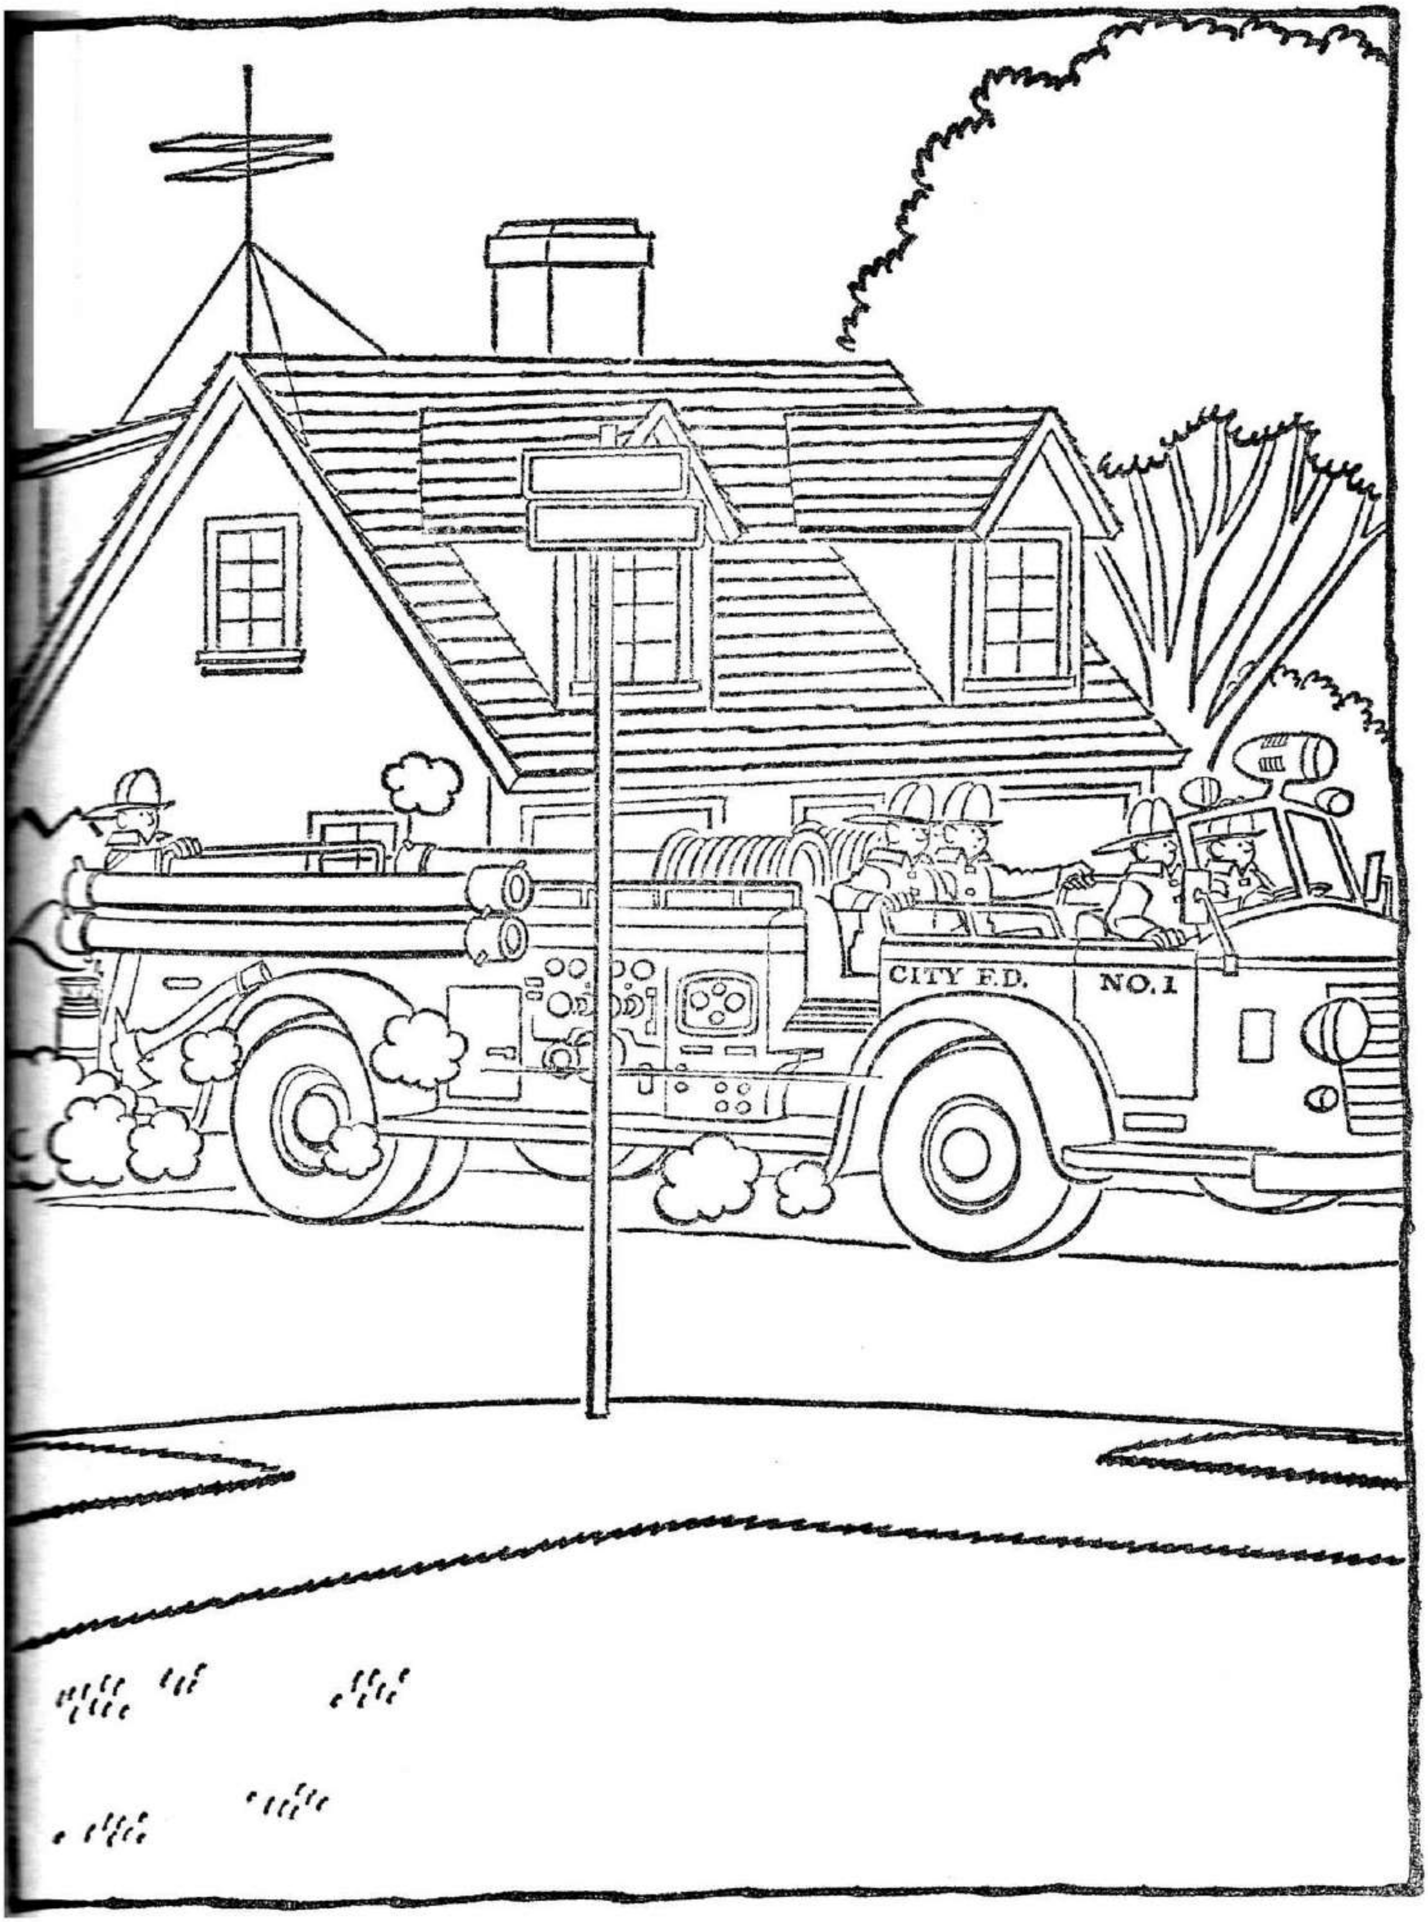

"No—not to Texas."

Dennis likes to go places.

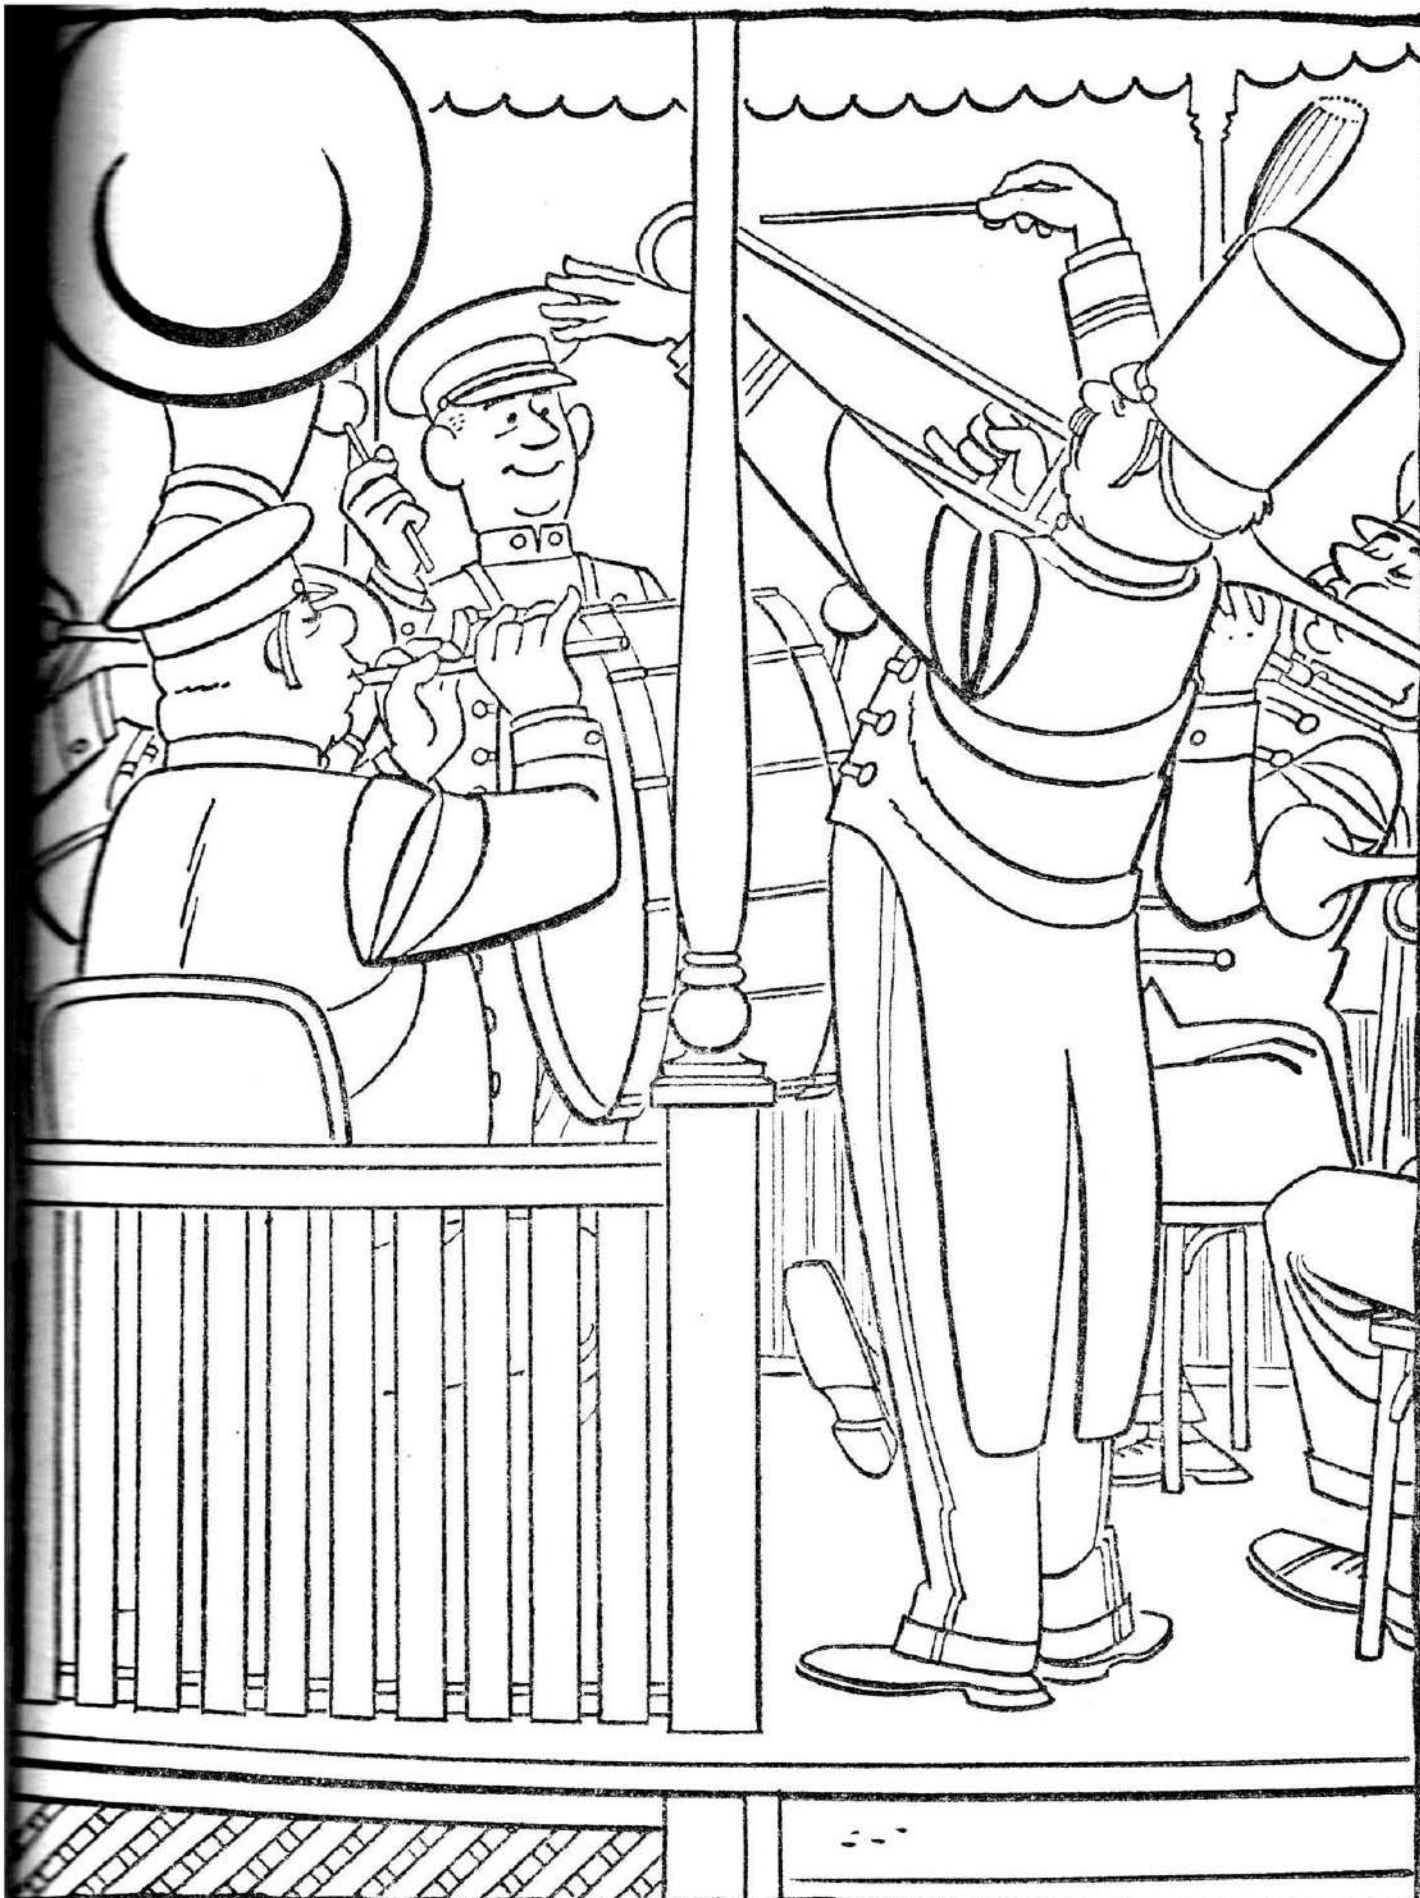

"No, Dennis....

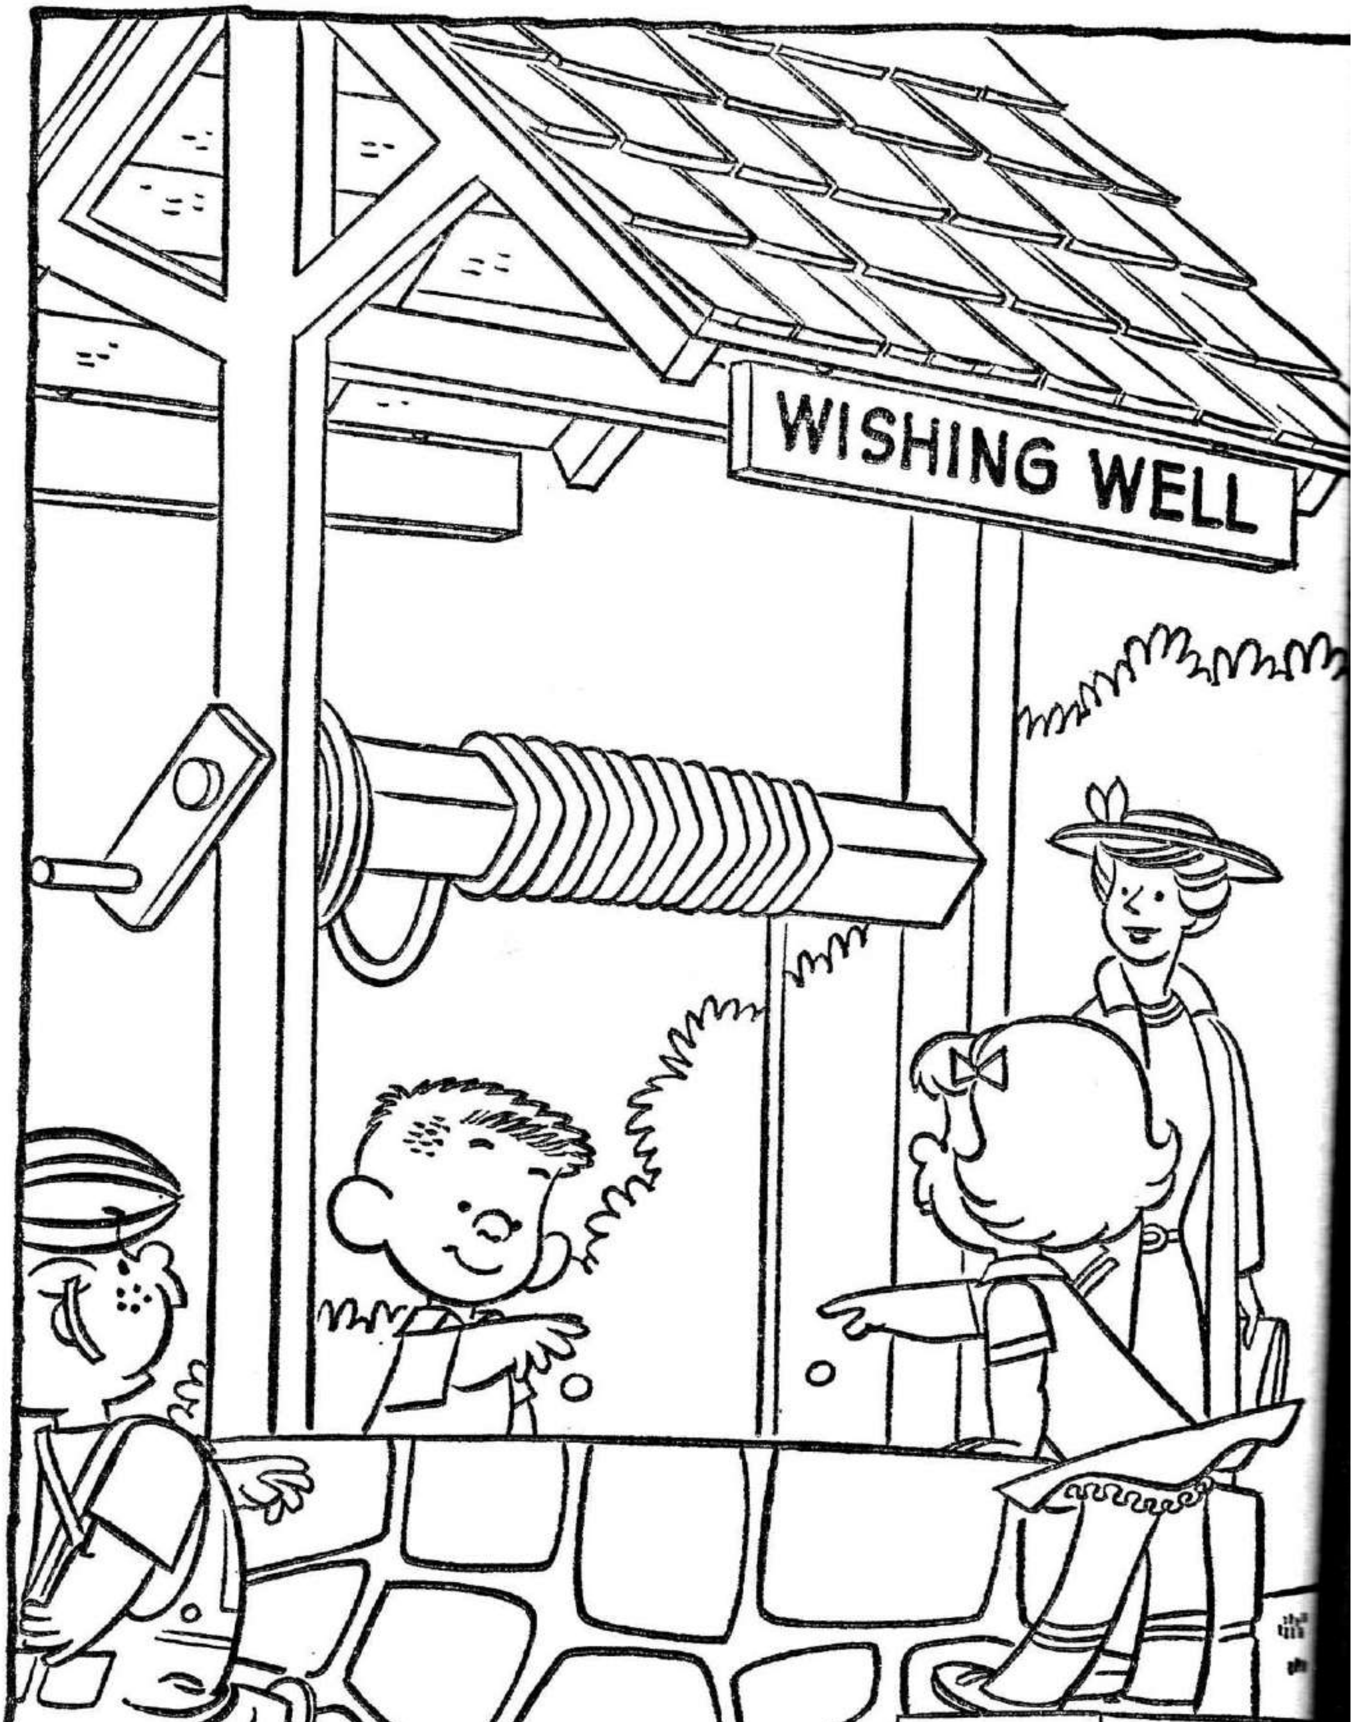

"....they don't need any help."

"Let's go through the park."

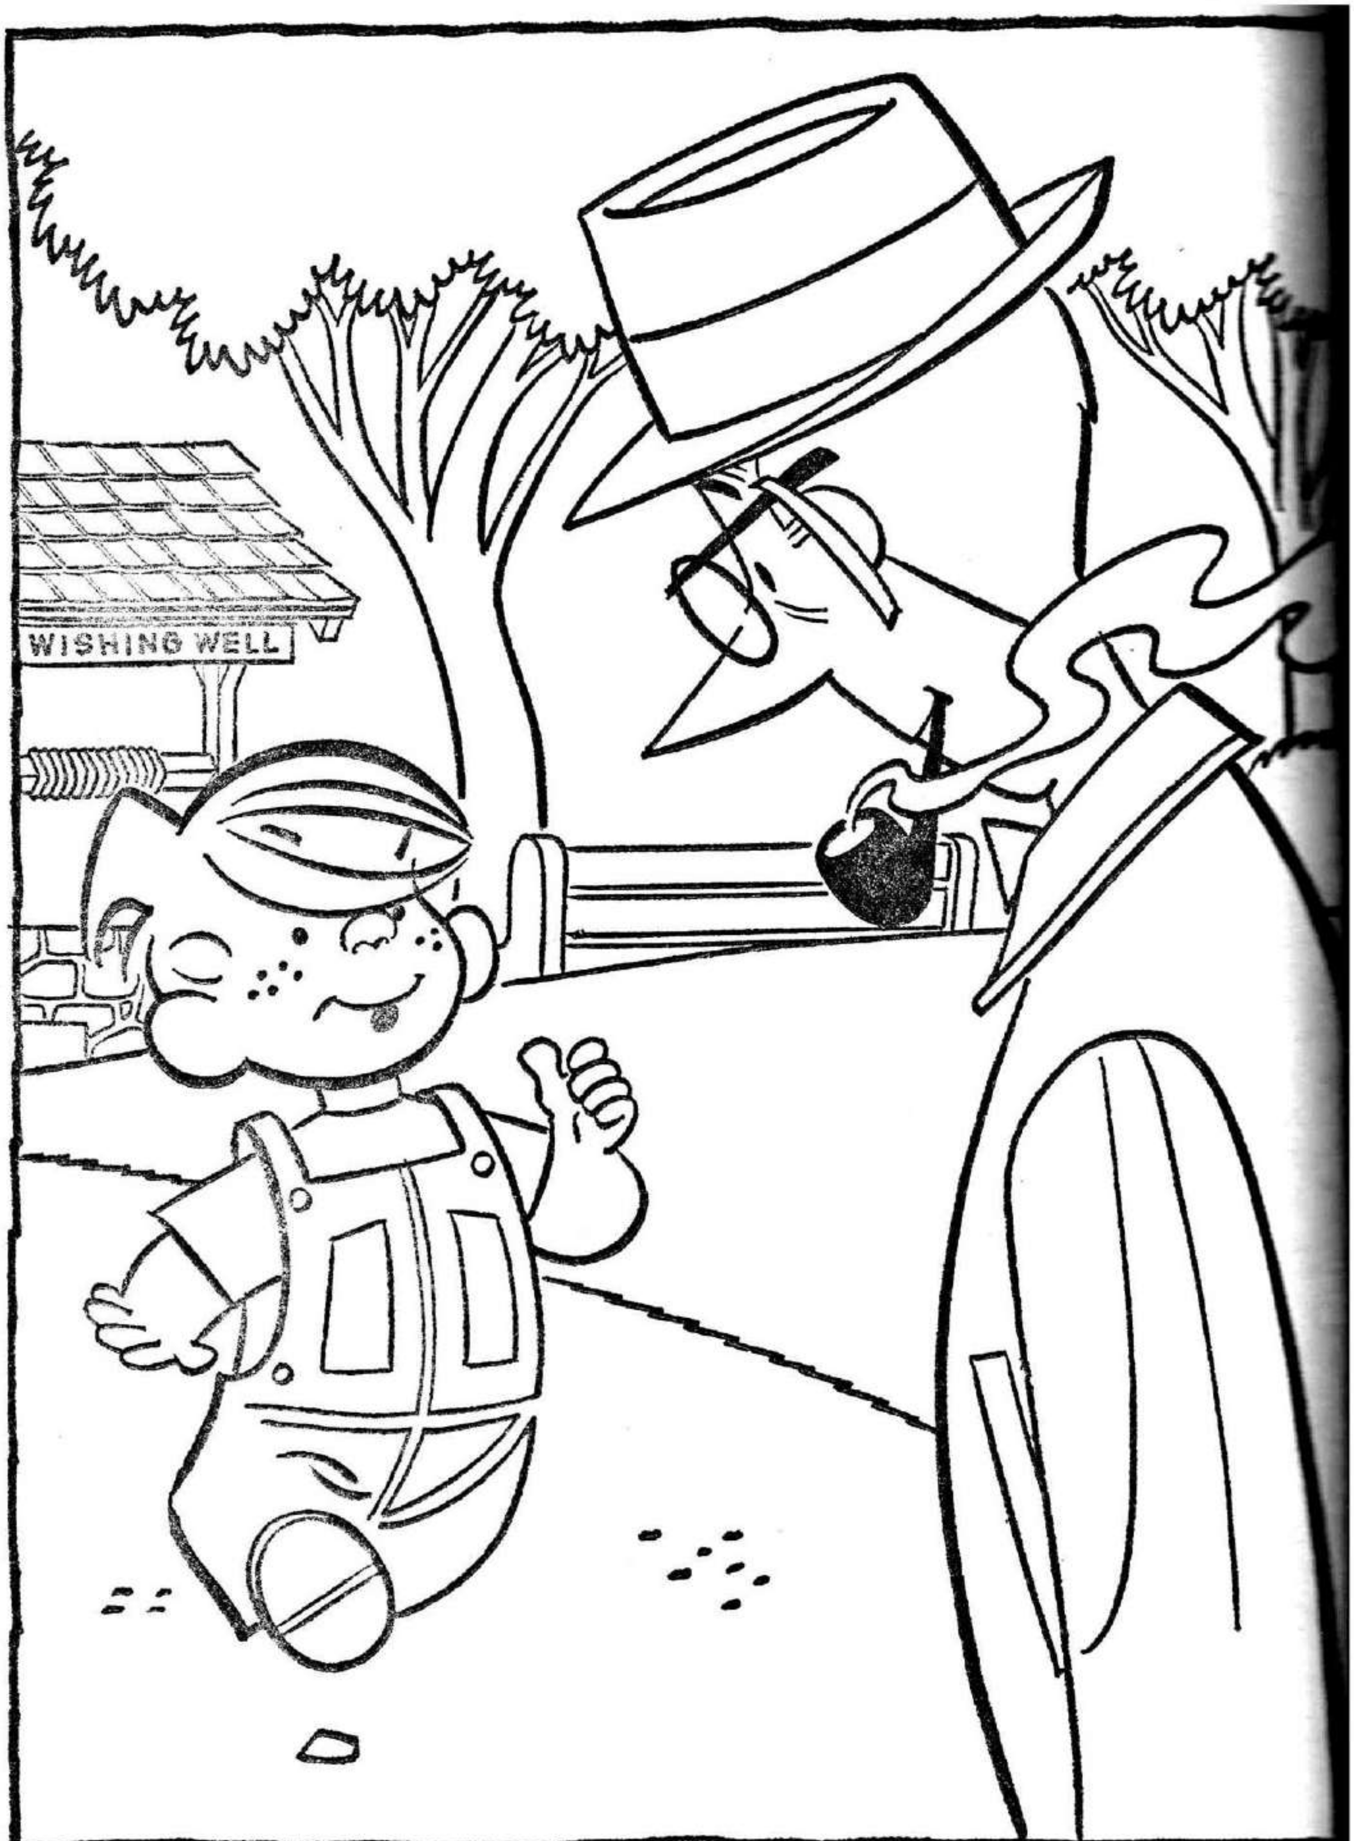

The band is practicing.

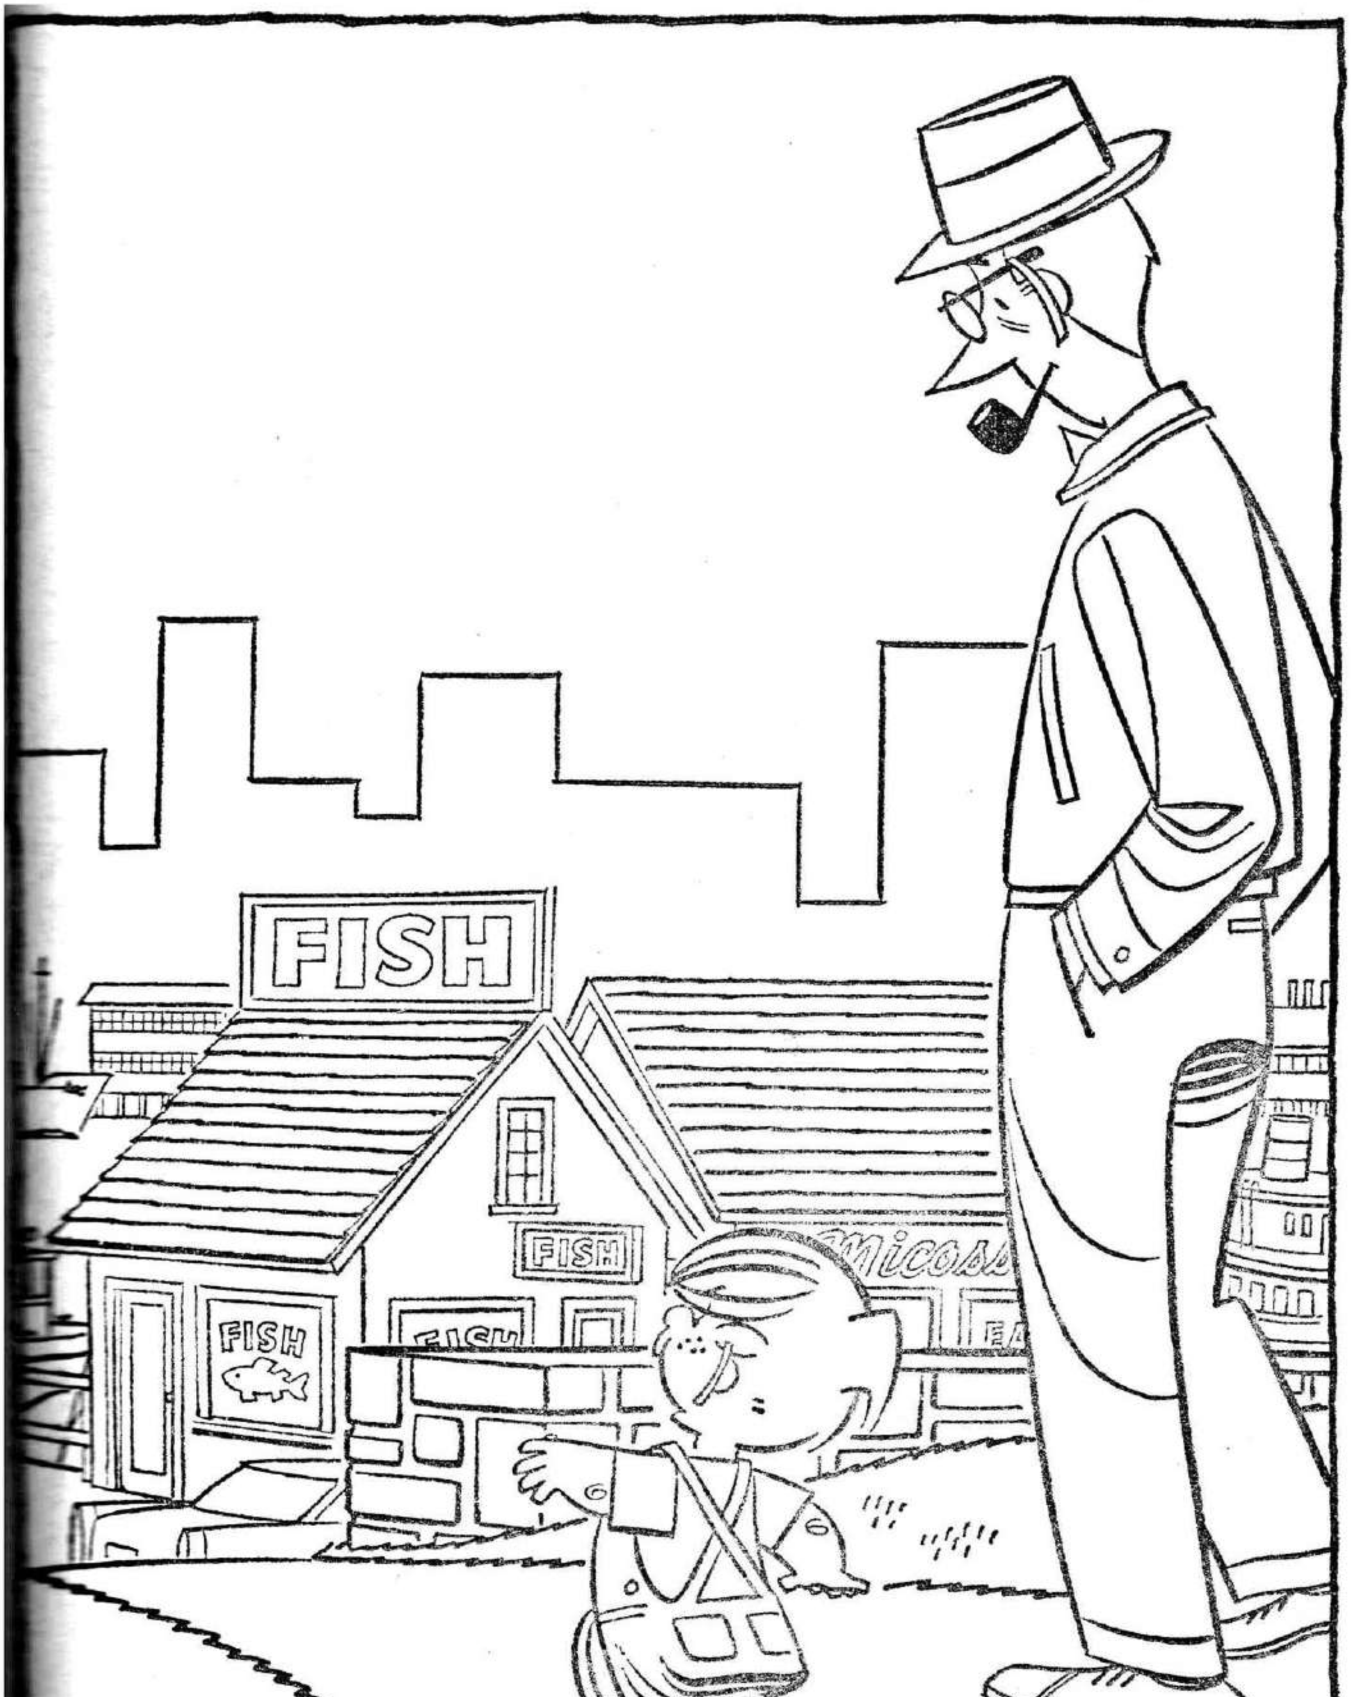

The wishing well.

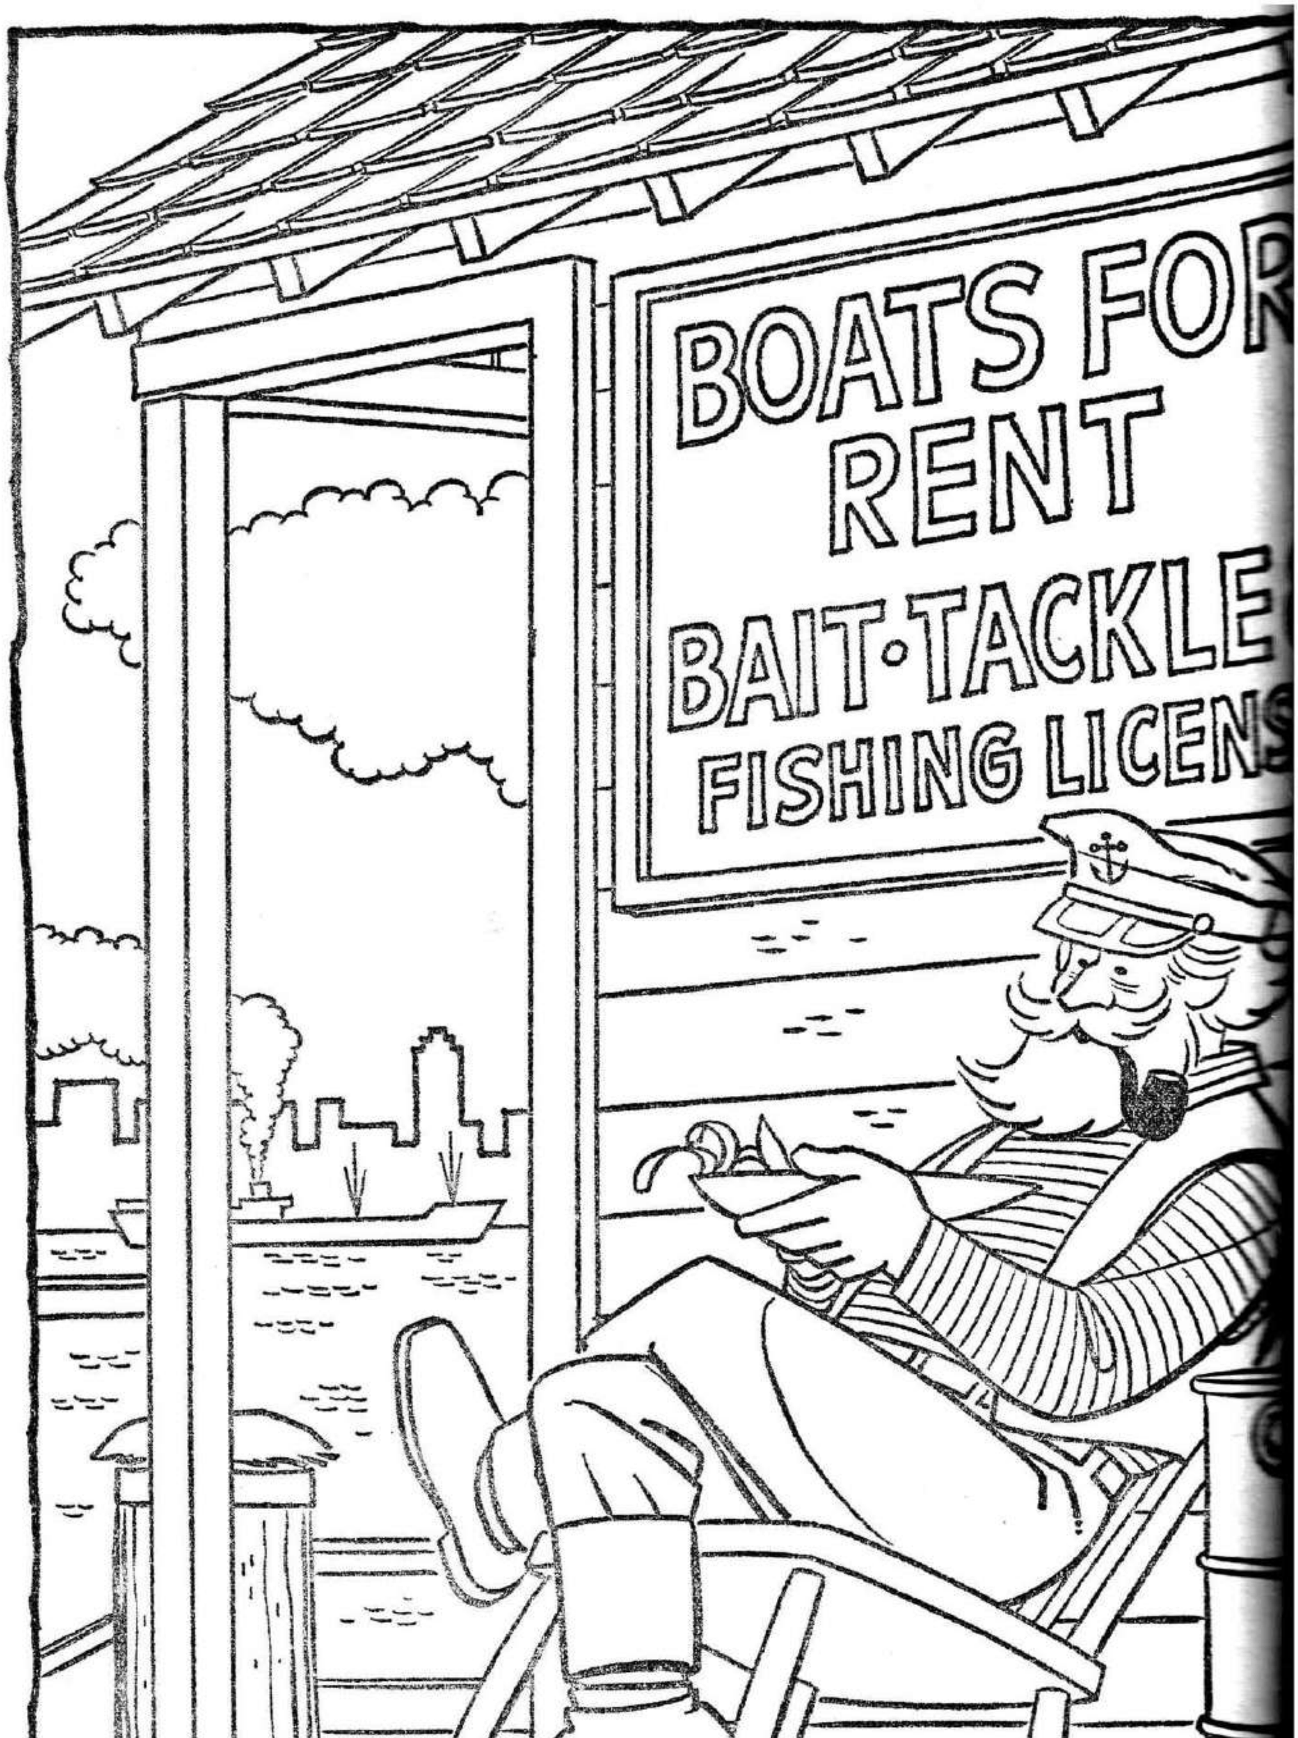

Dennis makes a wish.

"I wished for a boat."

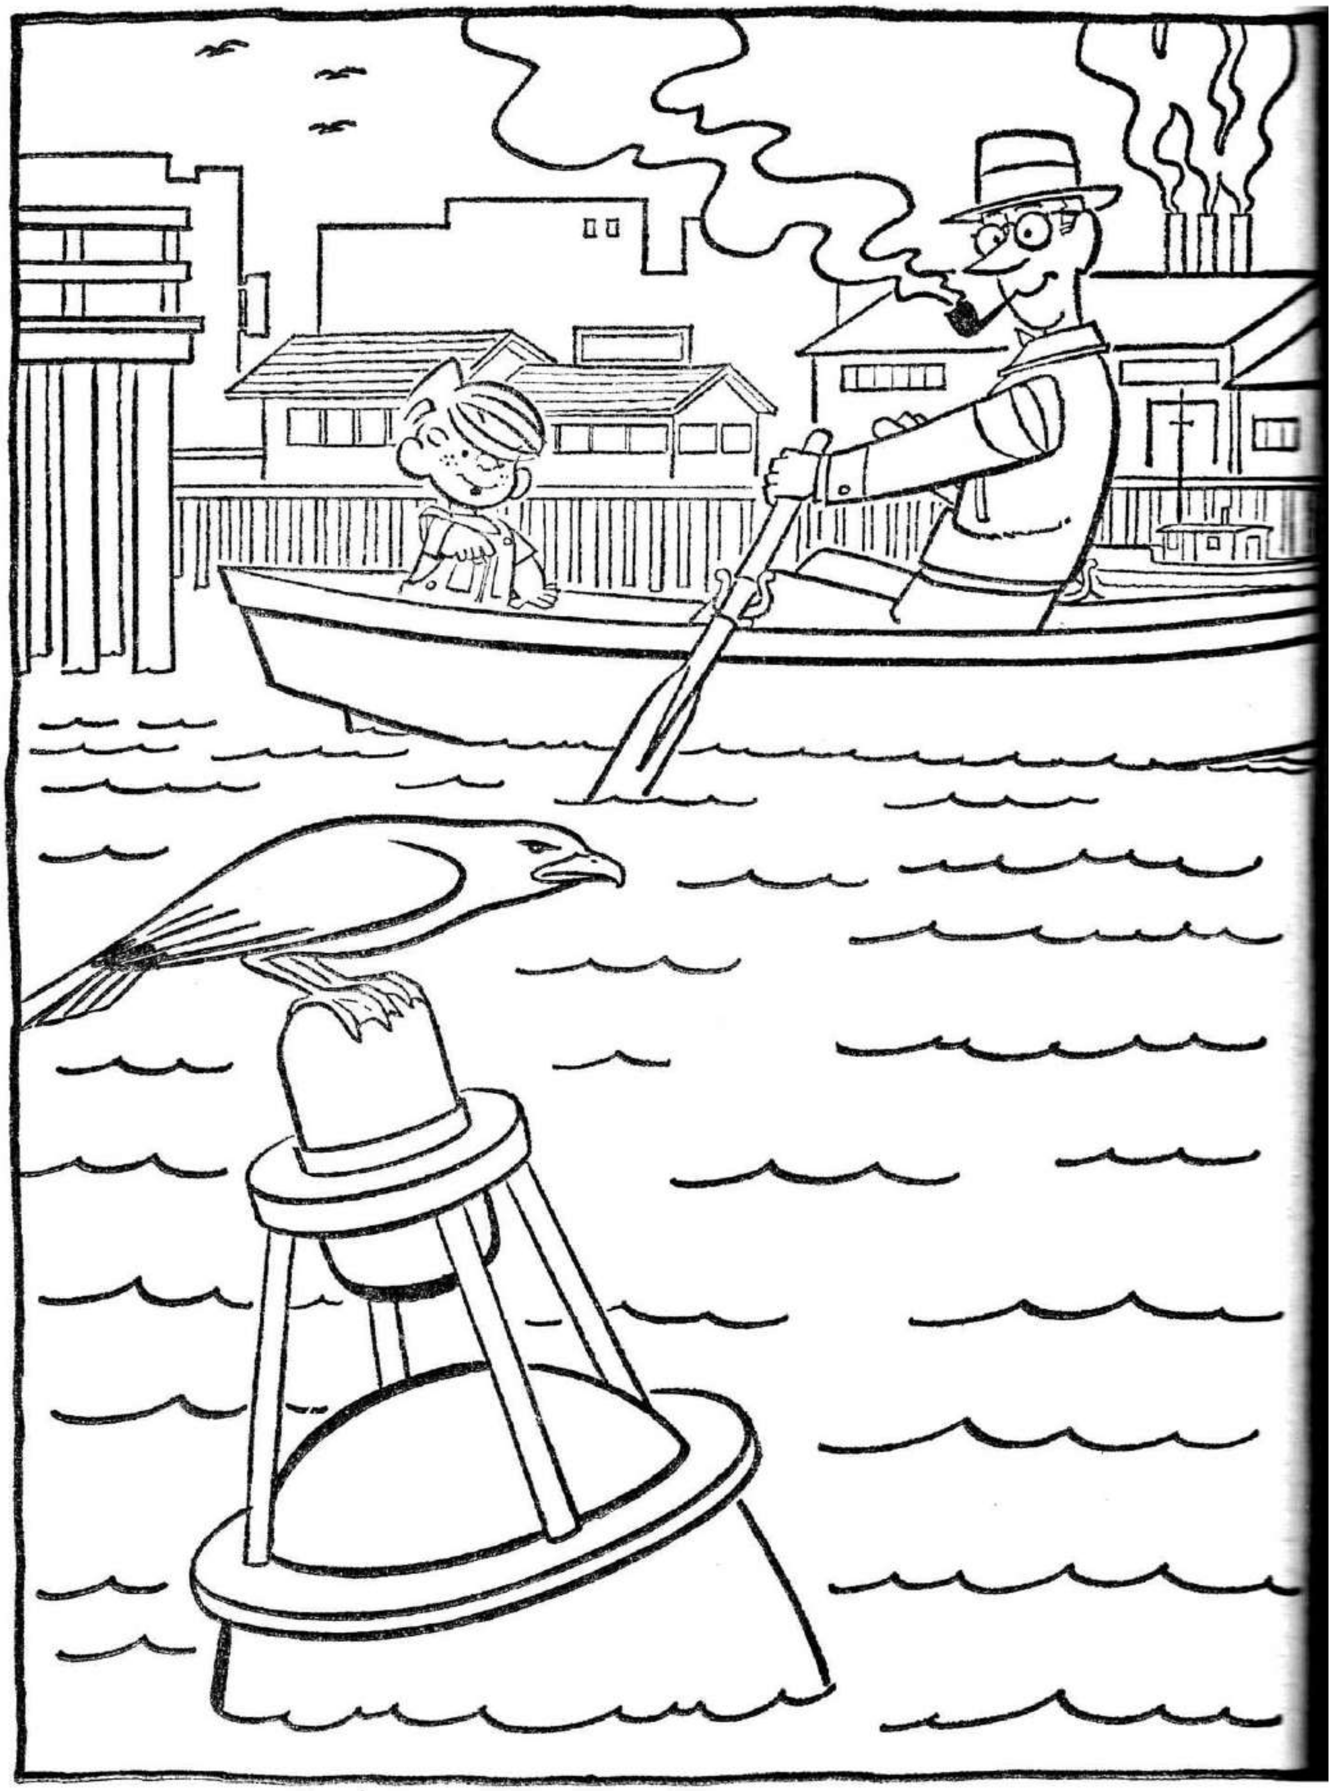

Dad makes wishes come true.

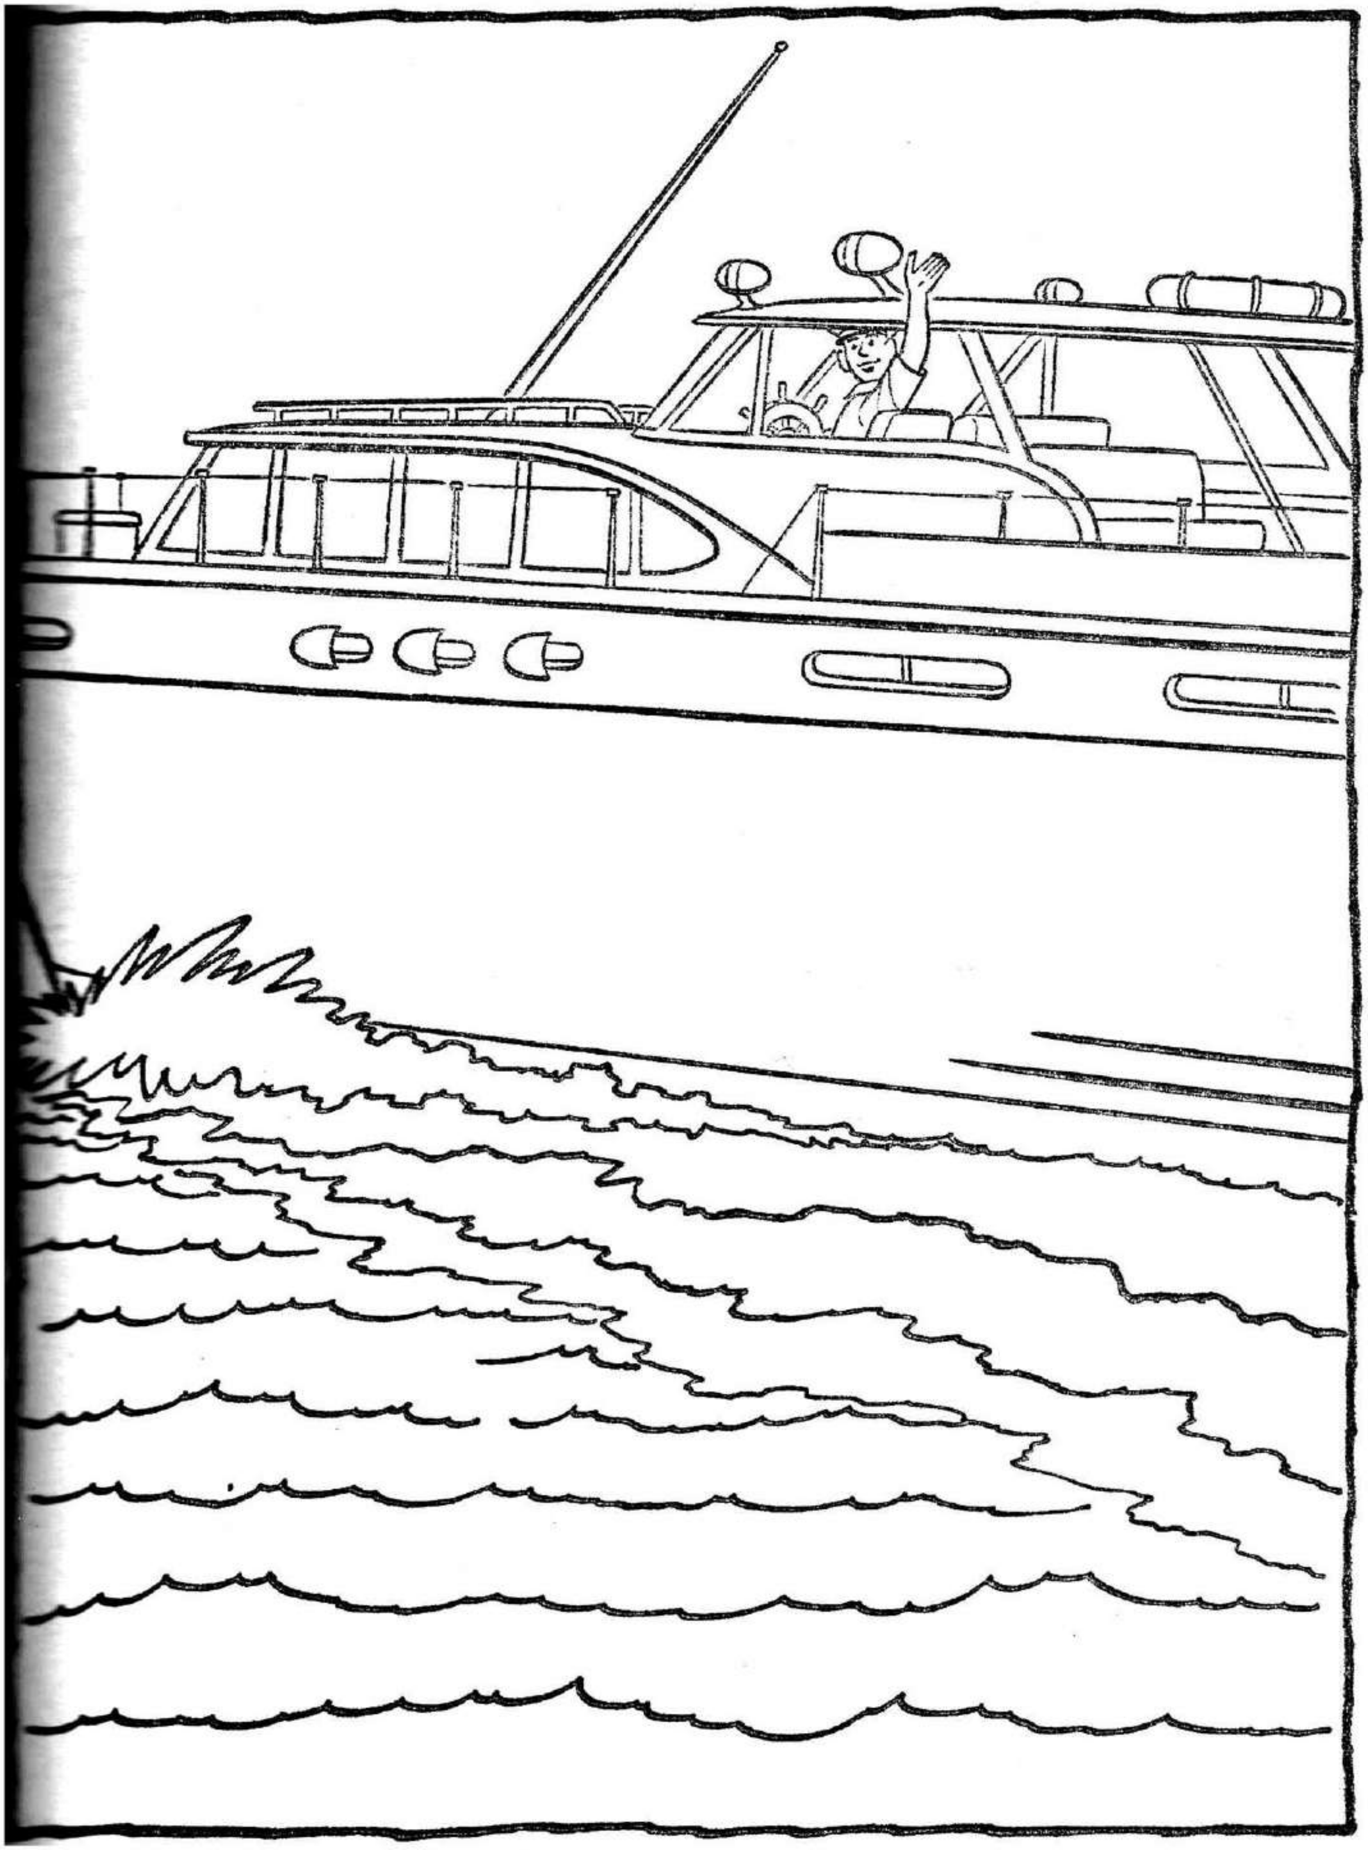

Captain Bill rents boats.

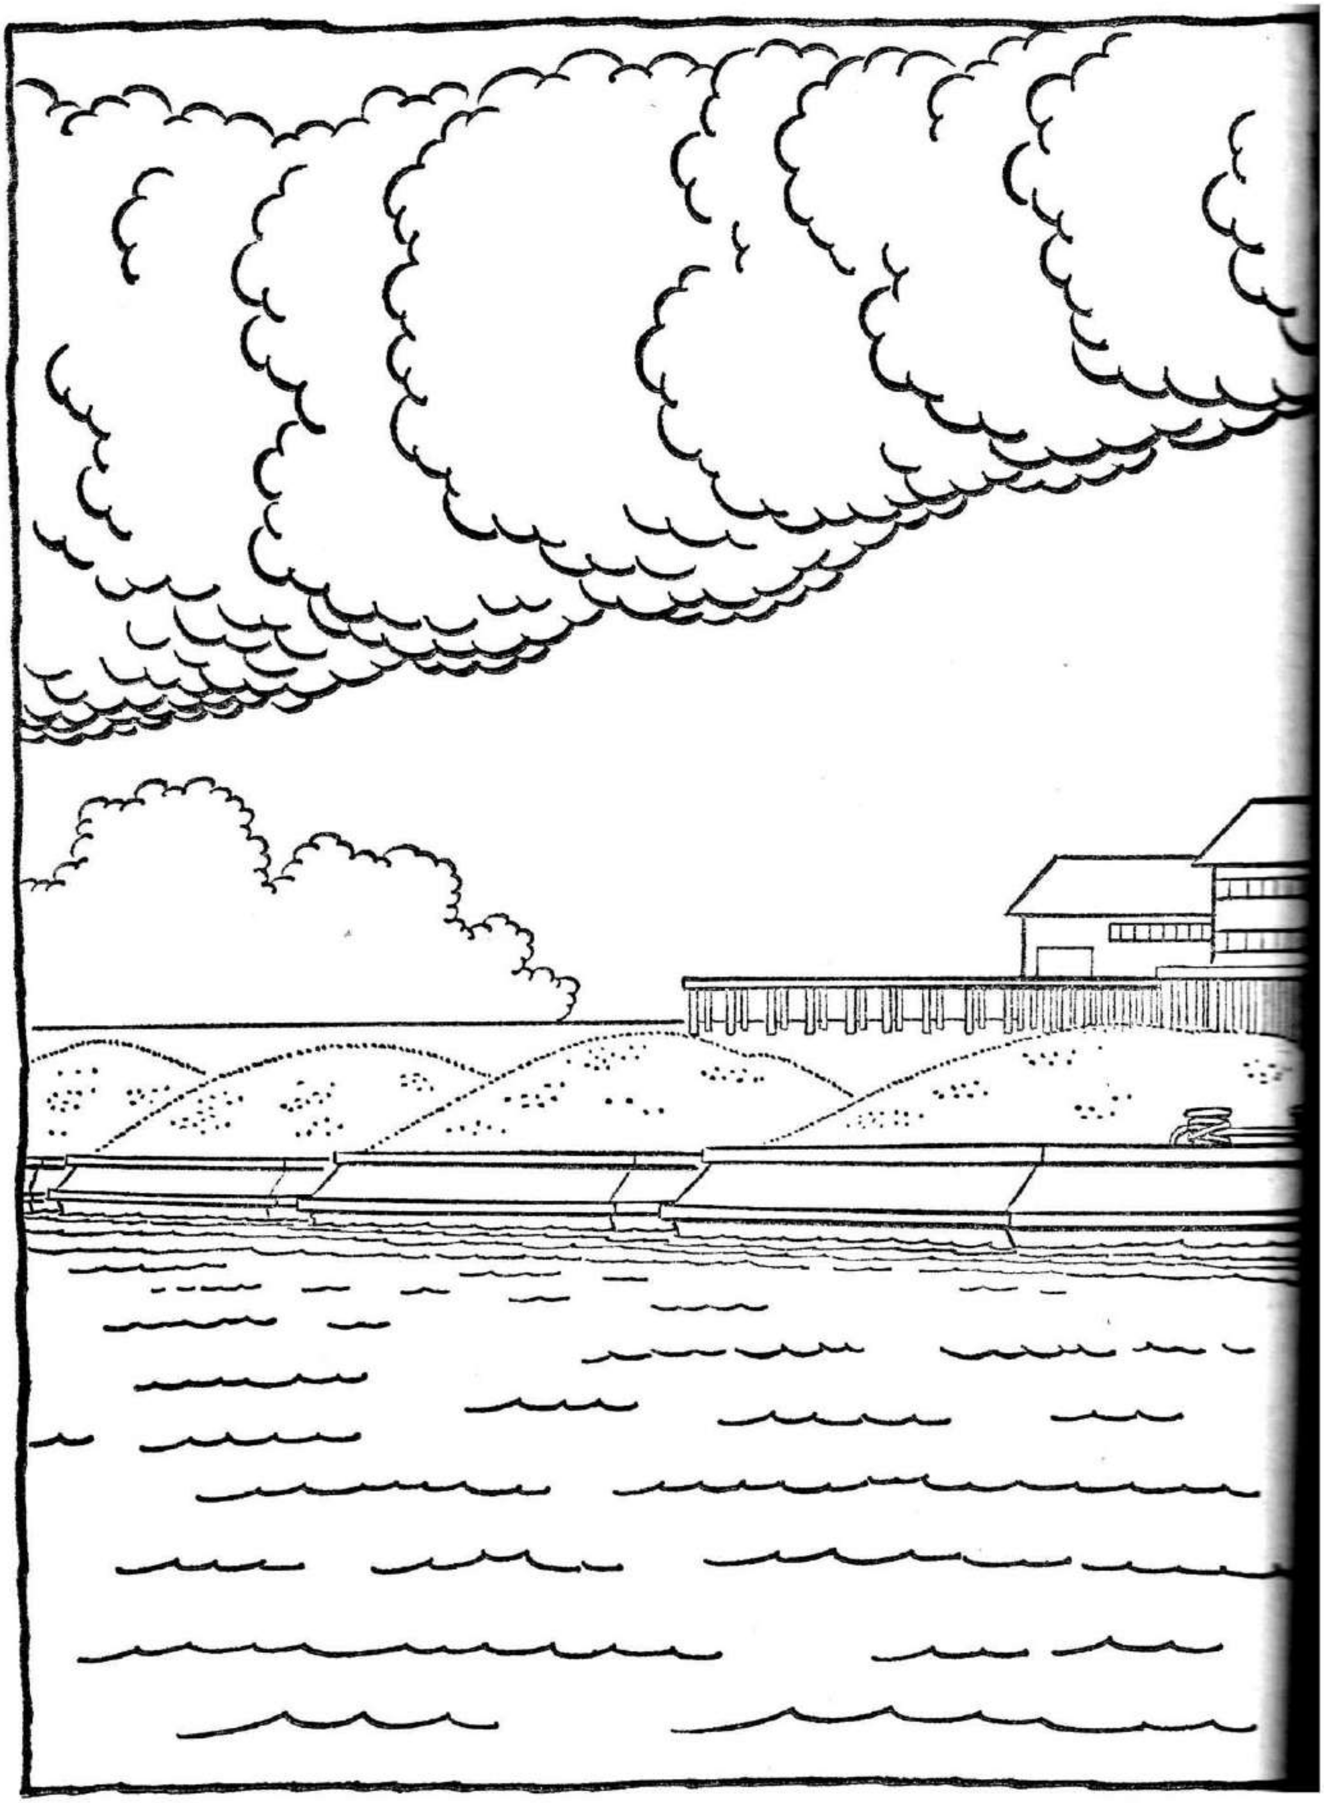

"You can take that one."

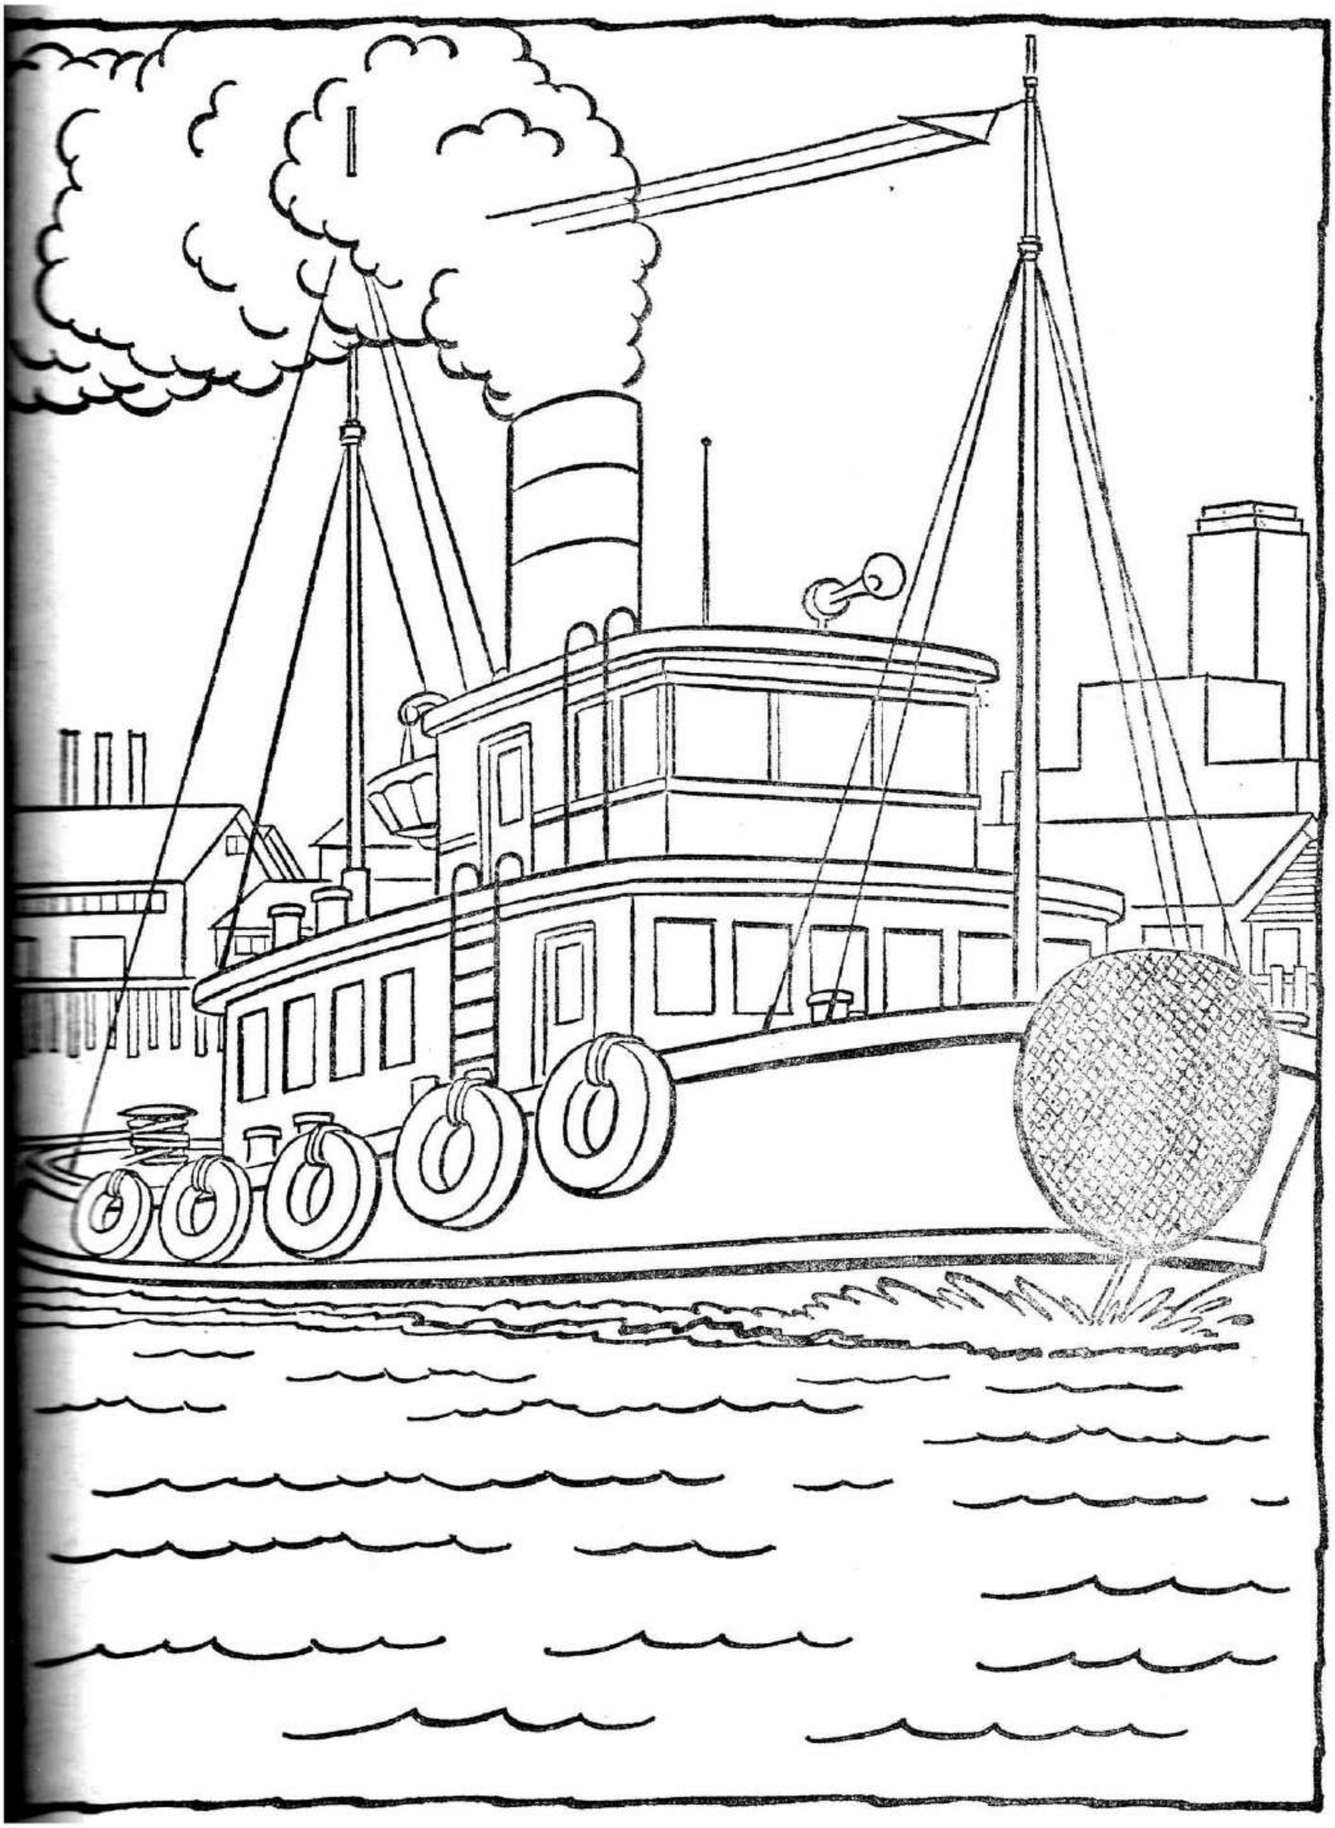

"Look at the big pigeon!"

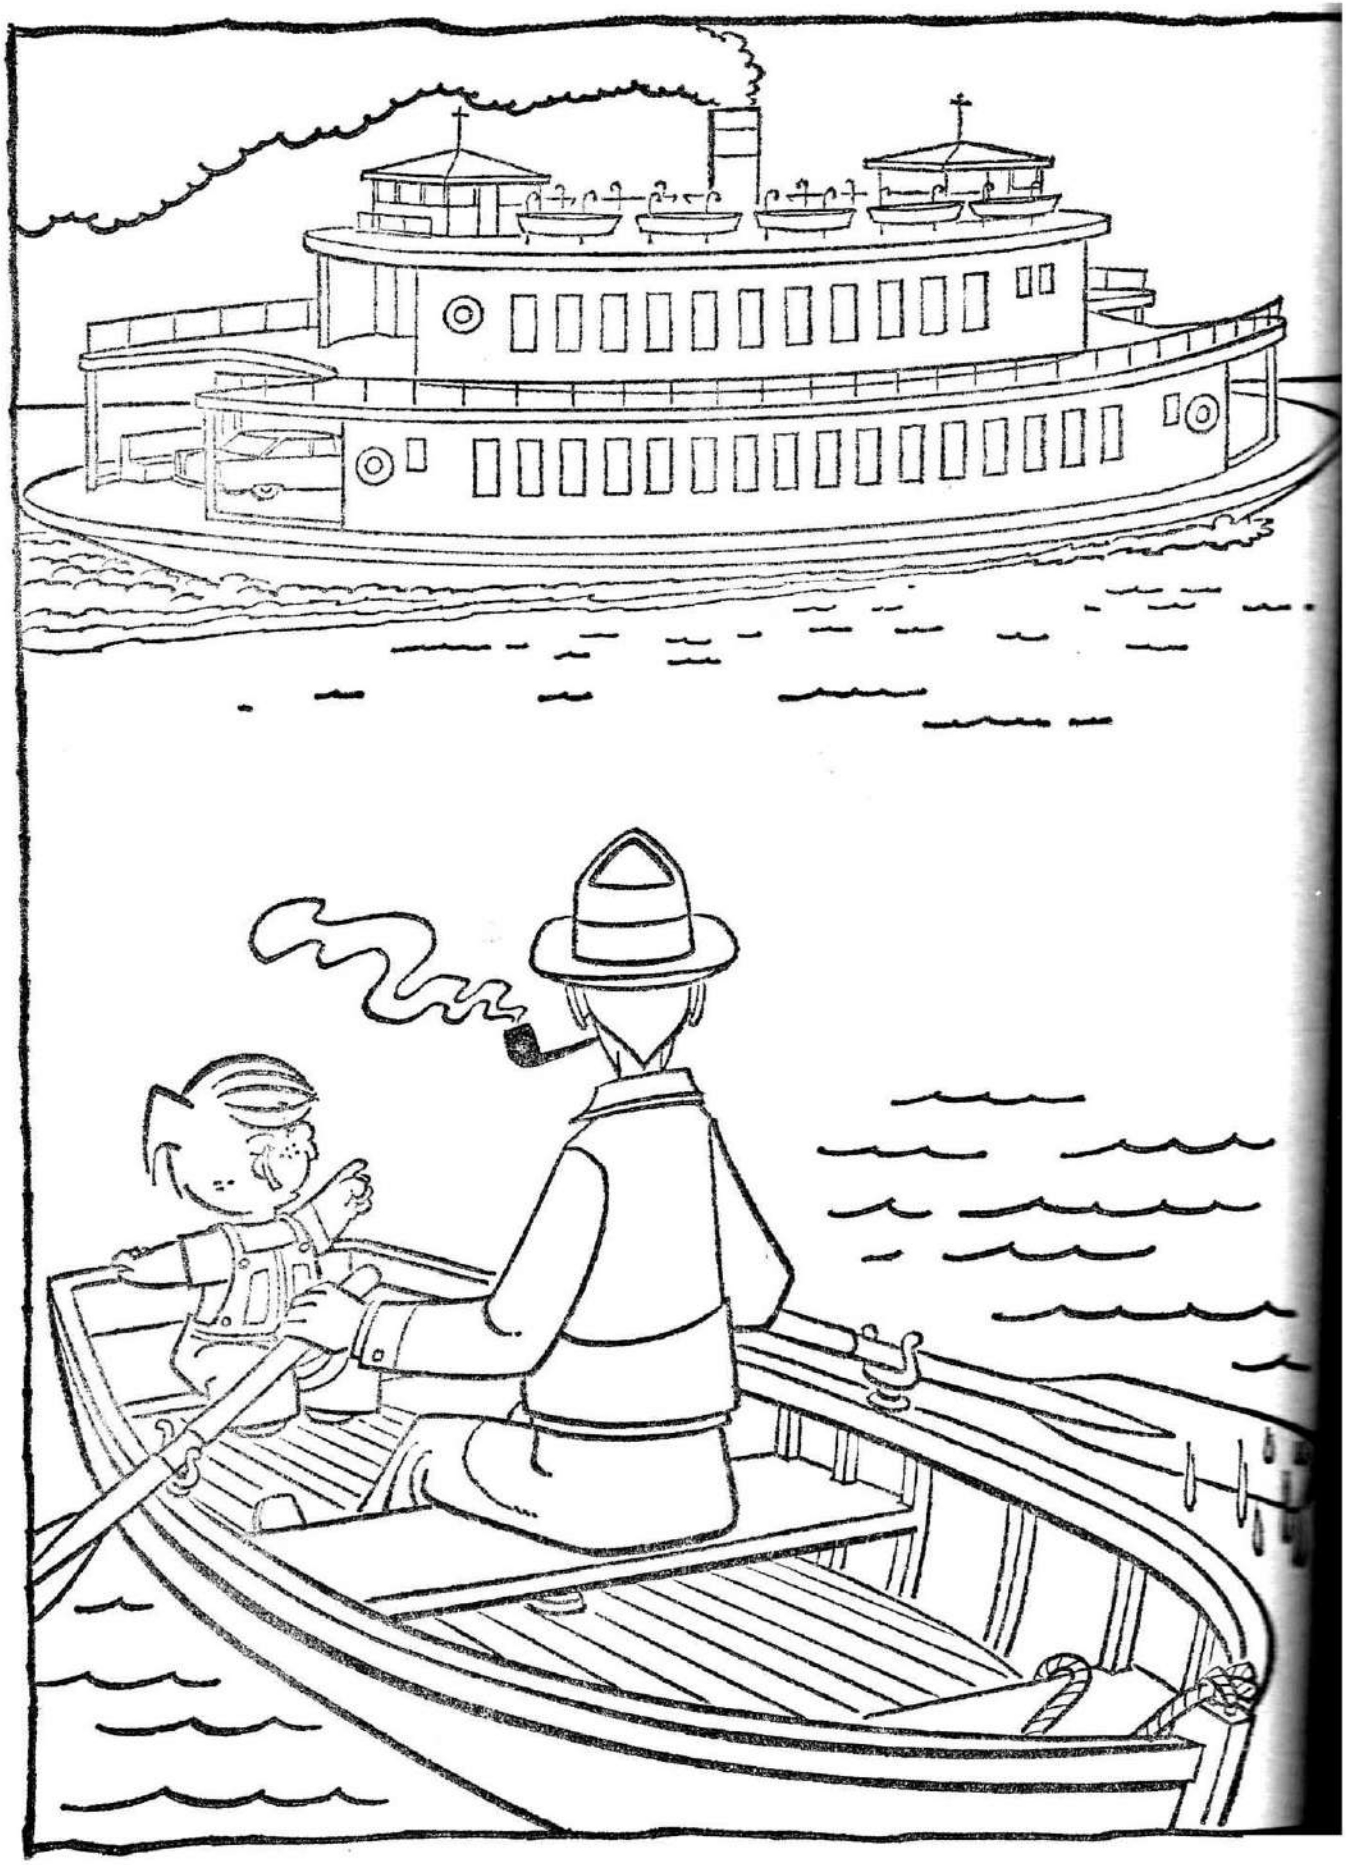

A big cabin cruiser.

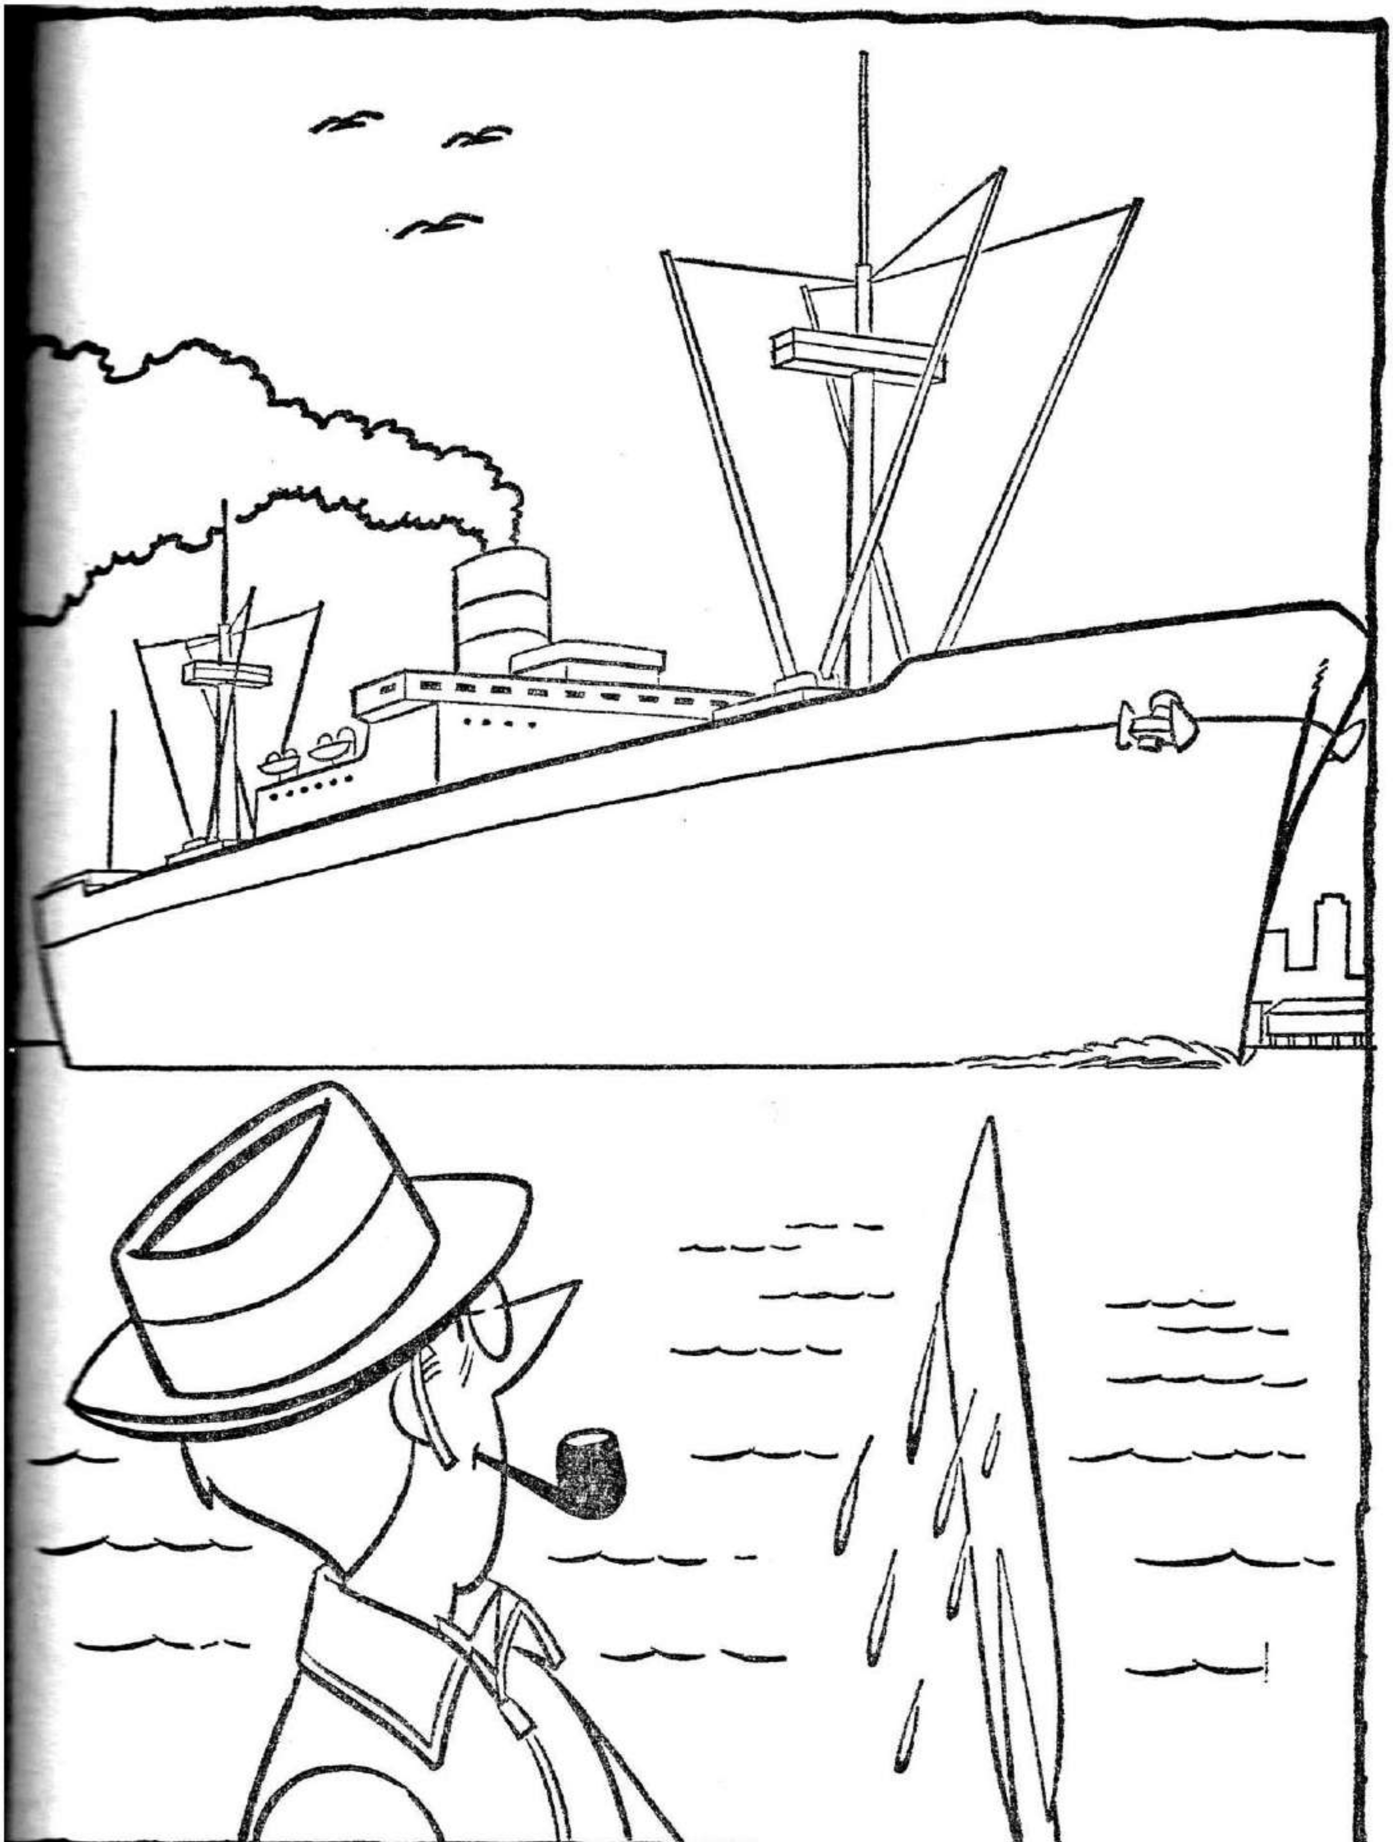

The tug tows barges.

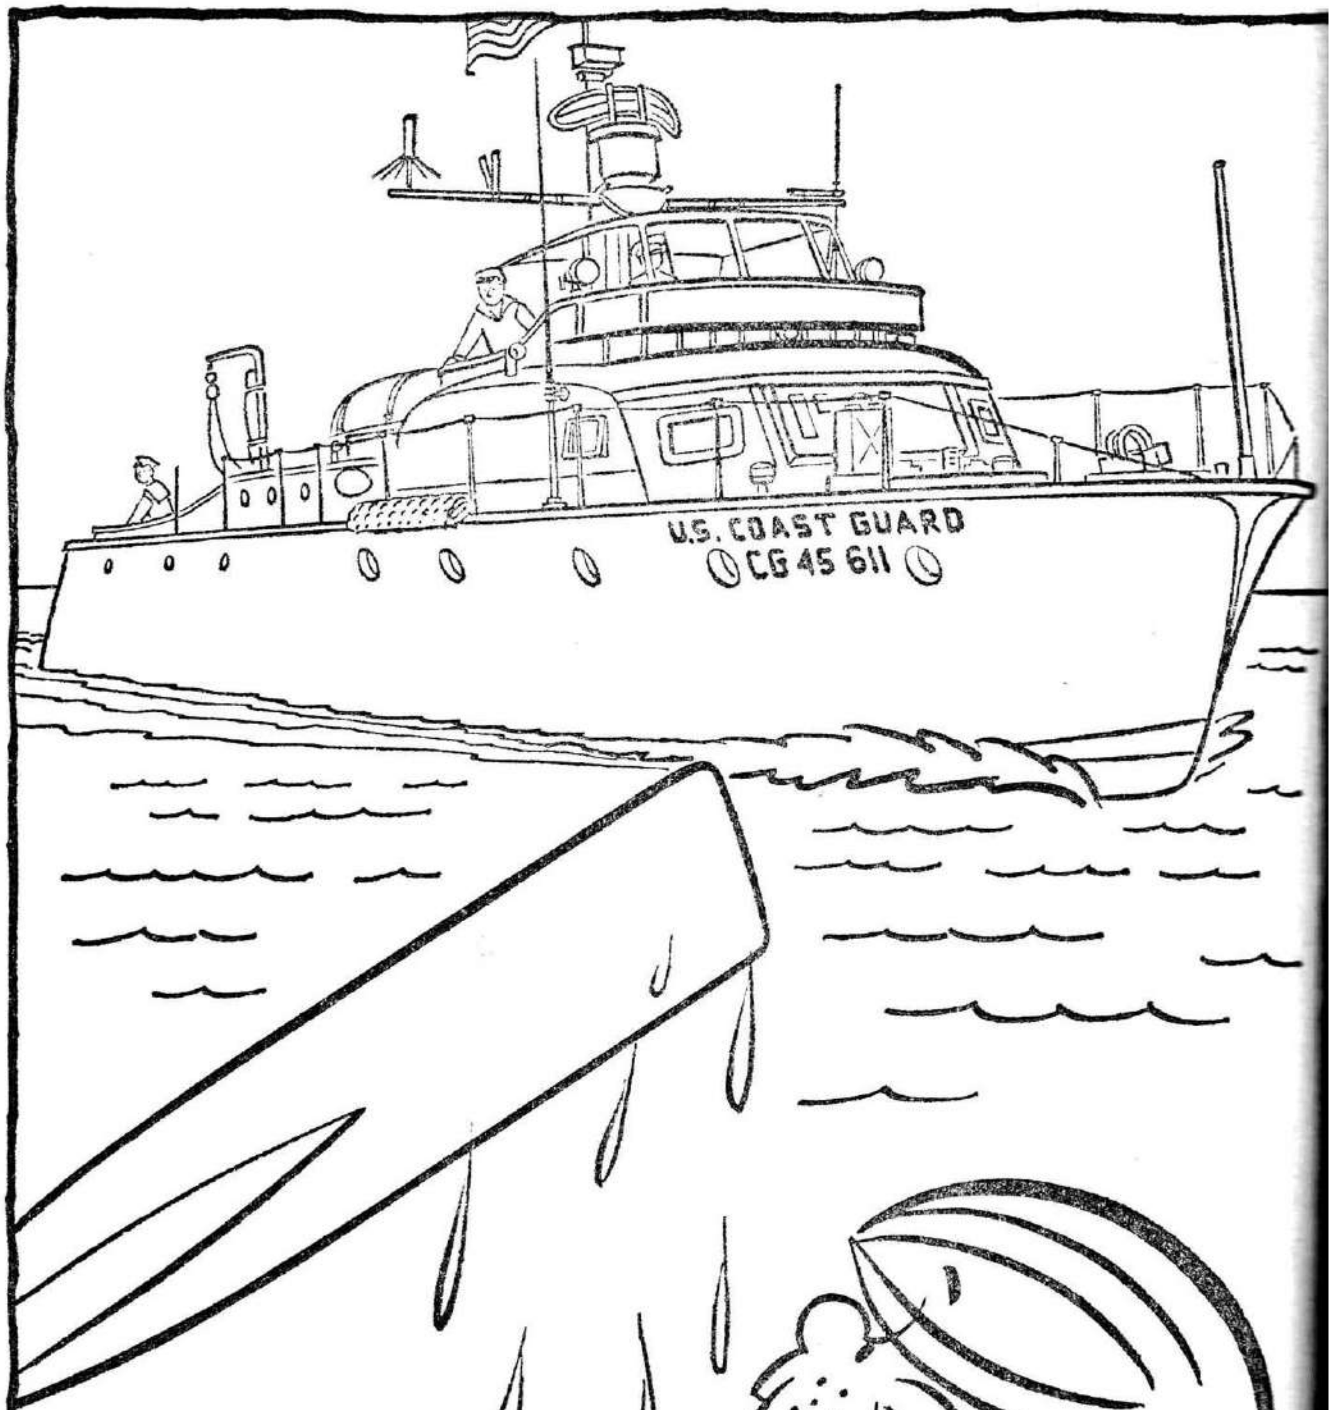

A strong little tugboat.

The ferry crosses the bay.

Here comes a big freighter.

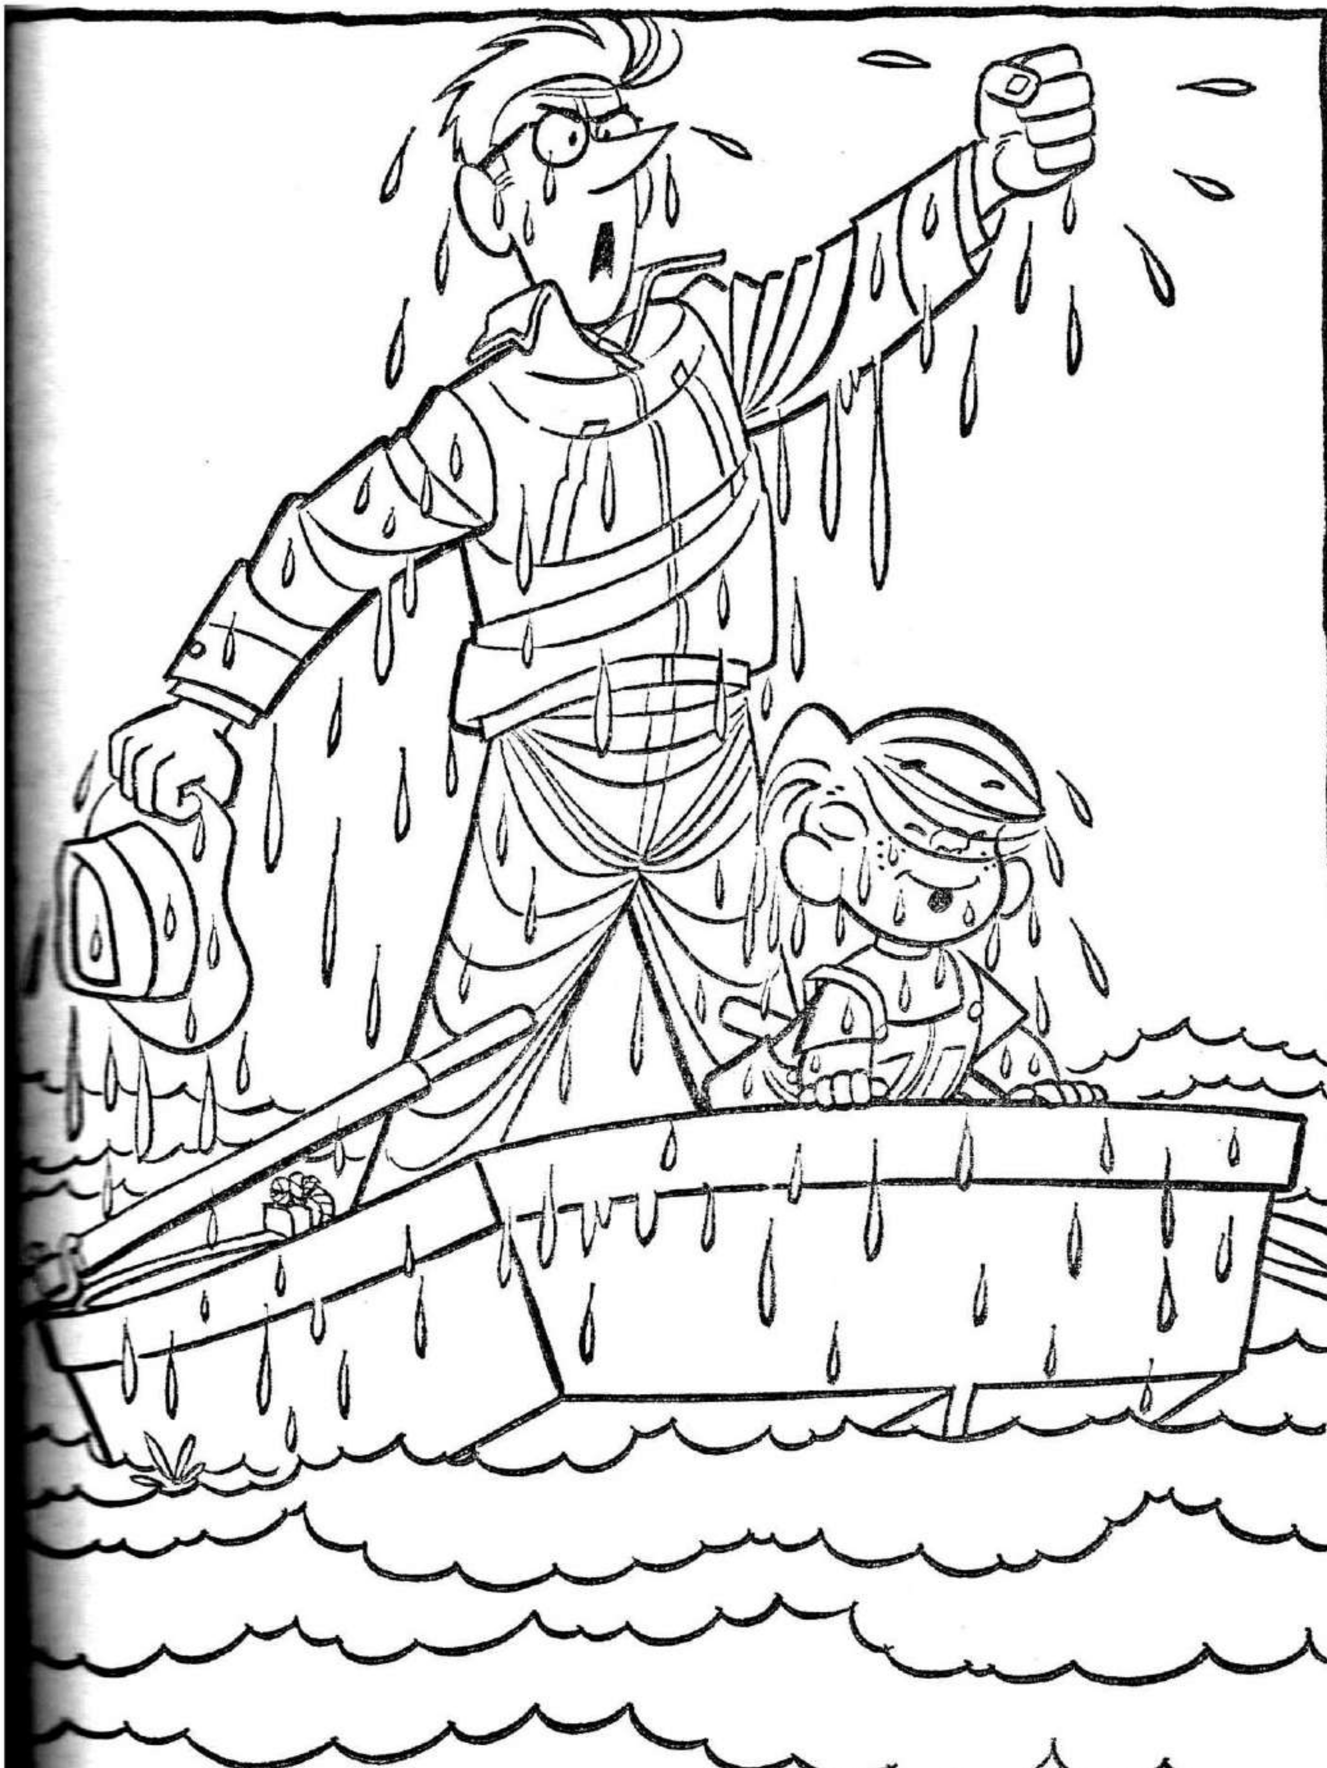

The Coast Guard patrol boat.

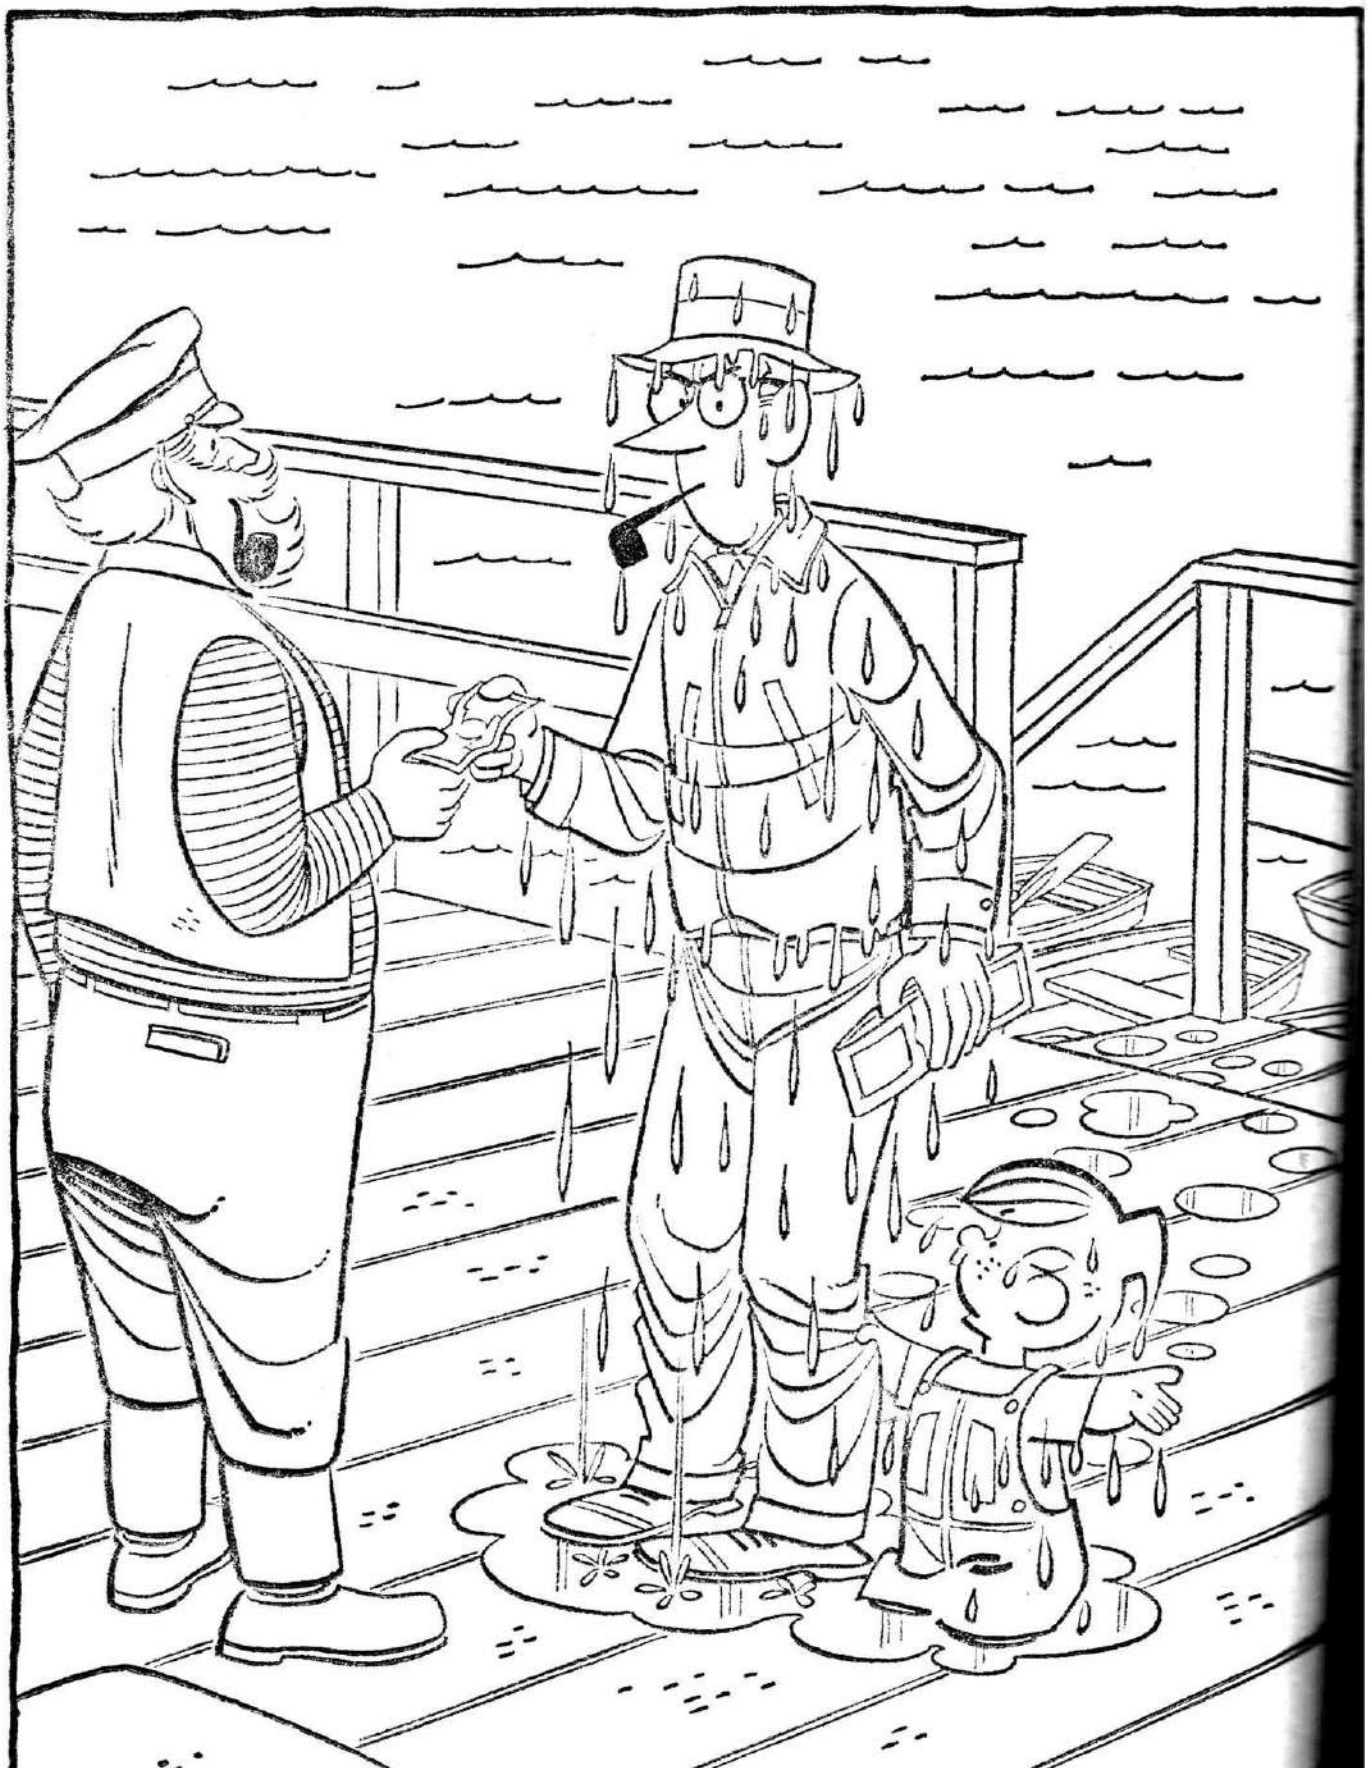

Here's a fast speedboat.

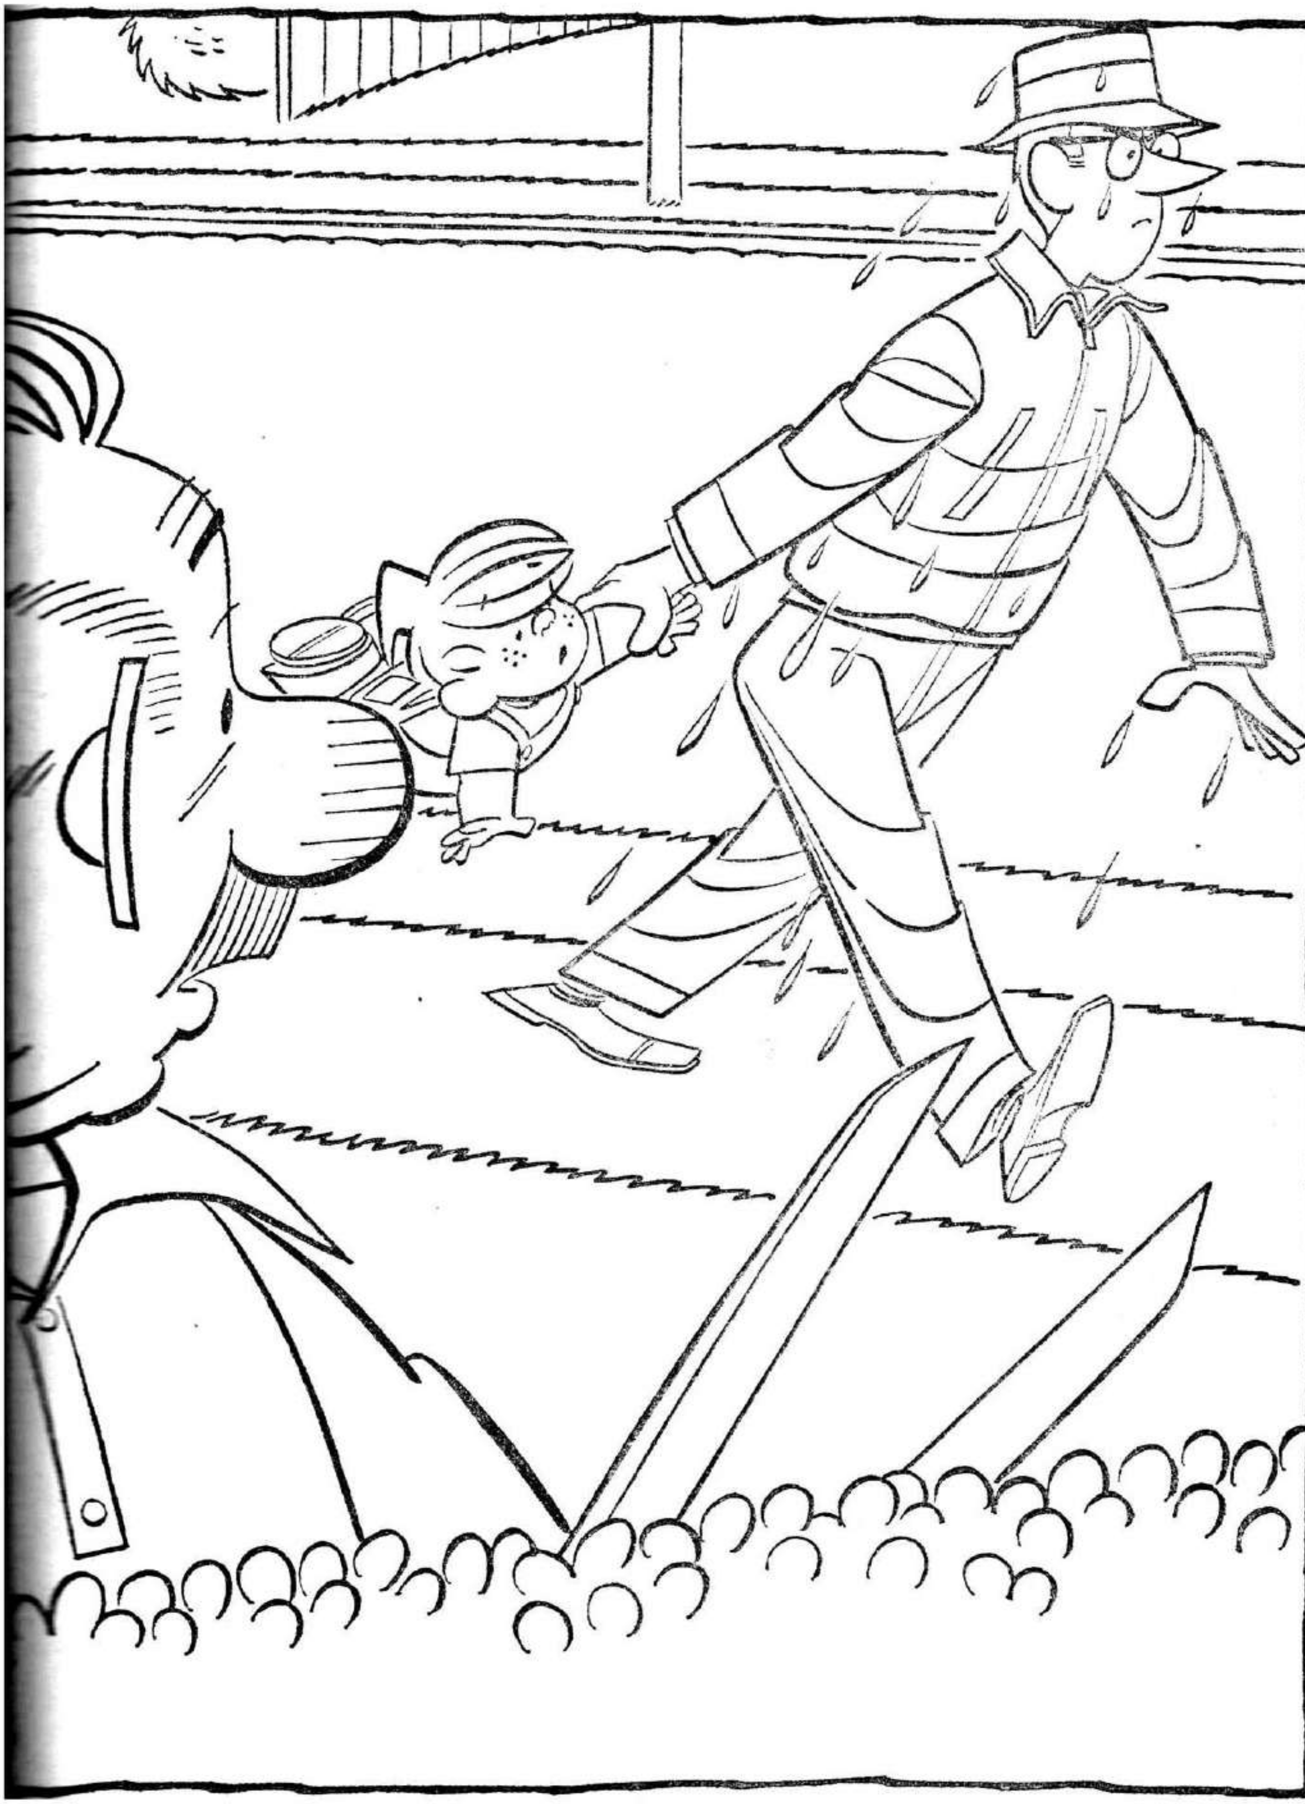

Watch out!

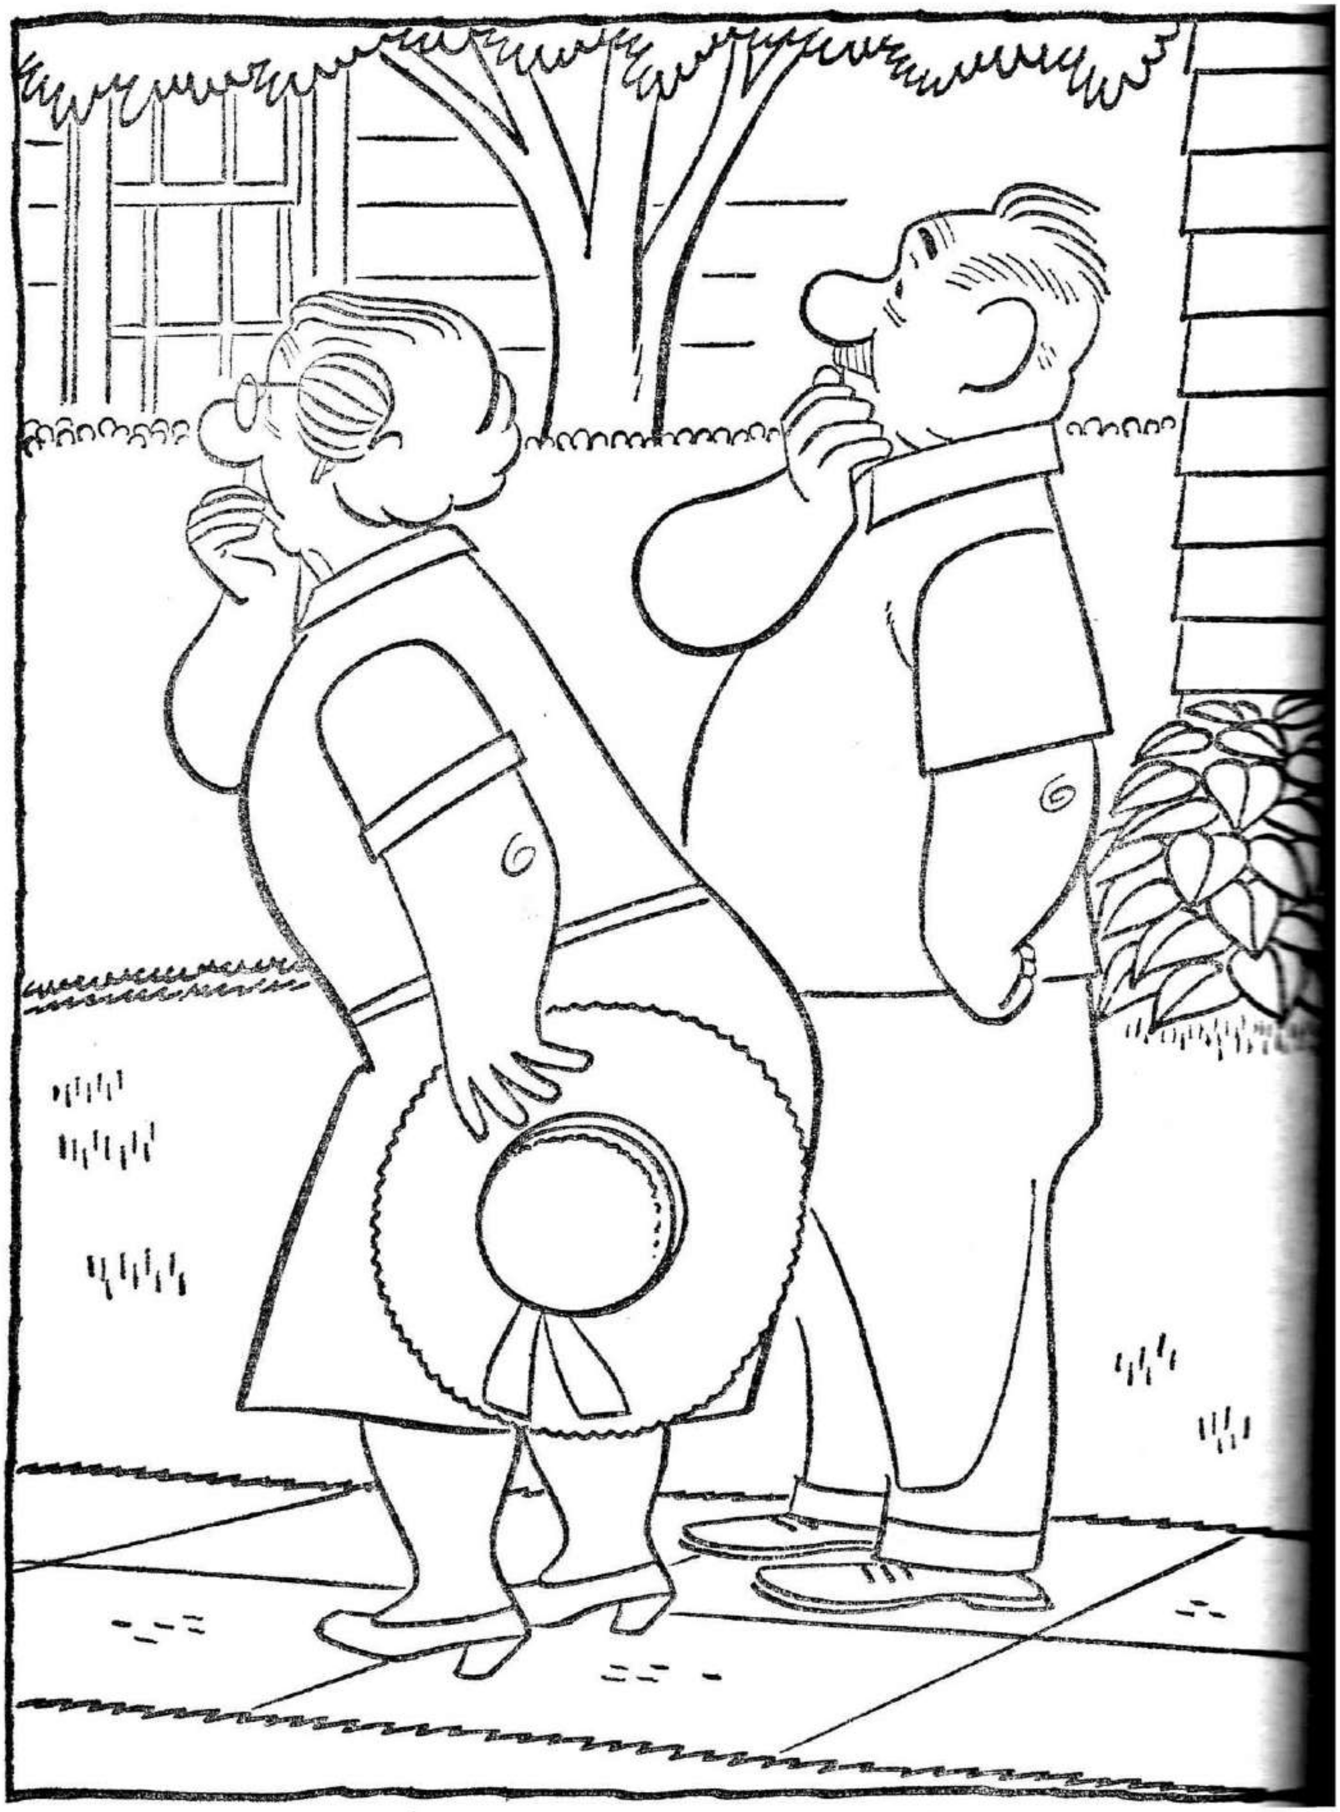

"Gee, Dad, that was fun!"

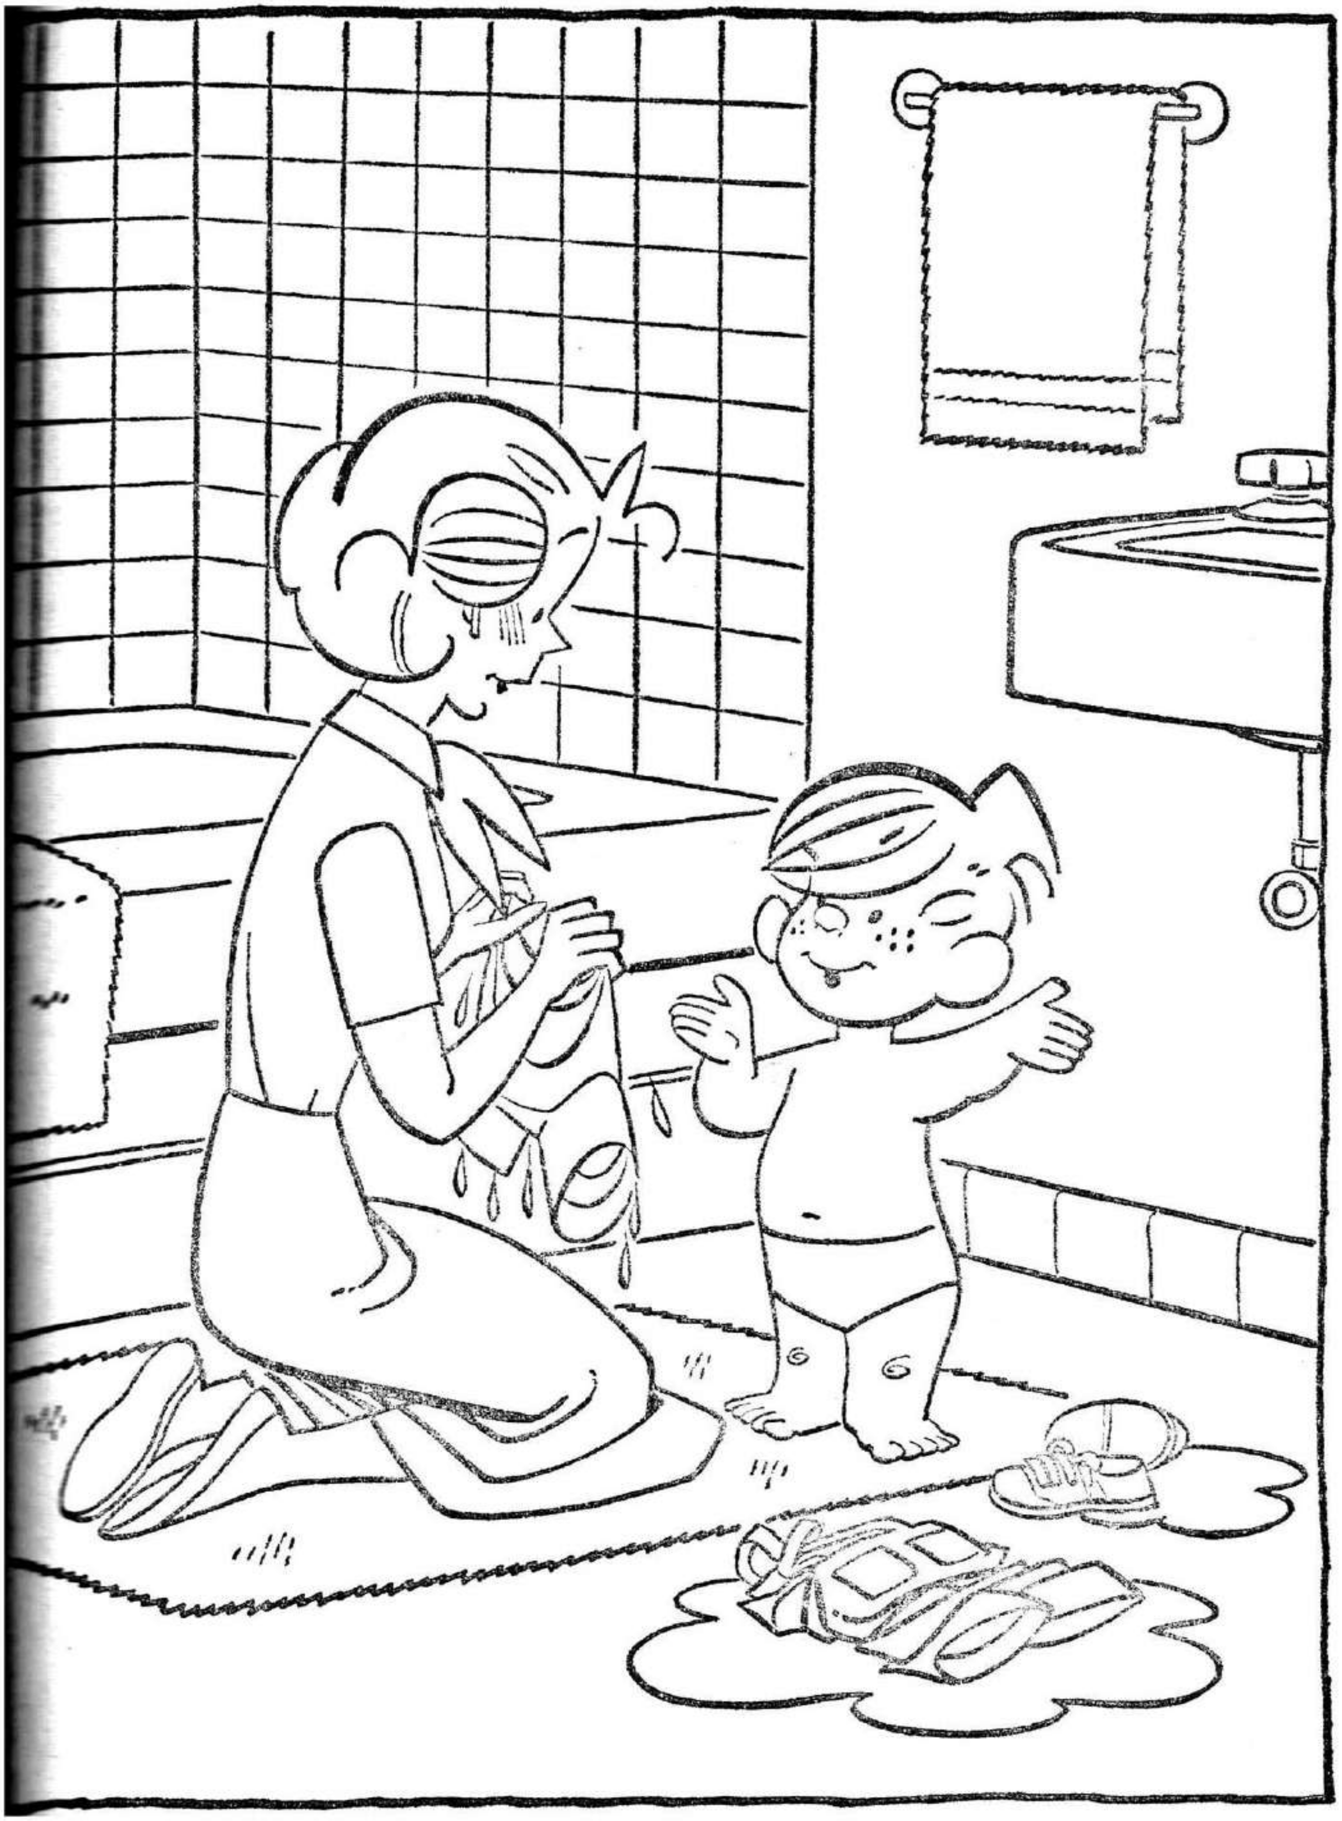

"Let's do it again sometime!"

"What's the rush, Dad?"

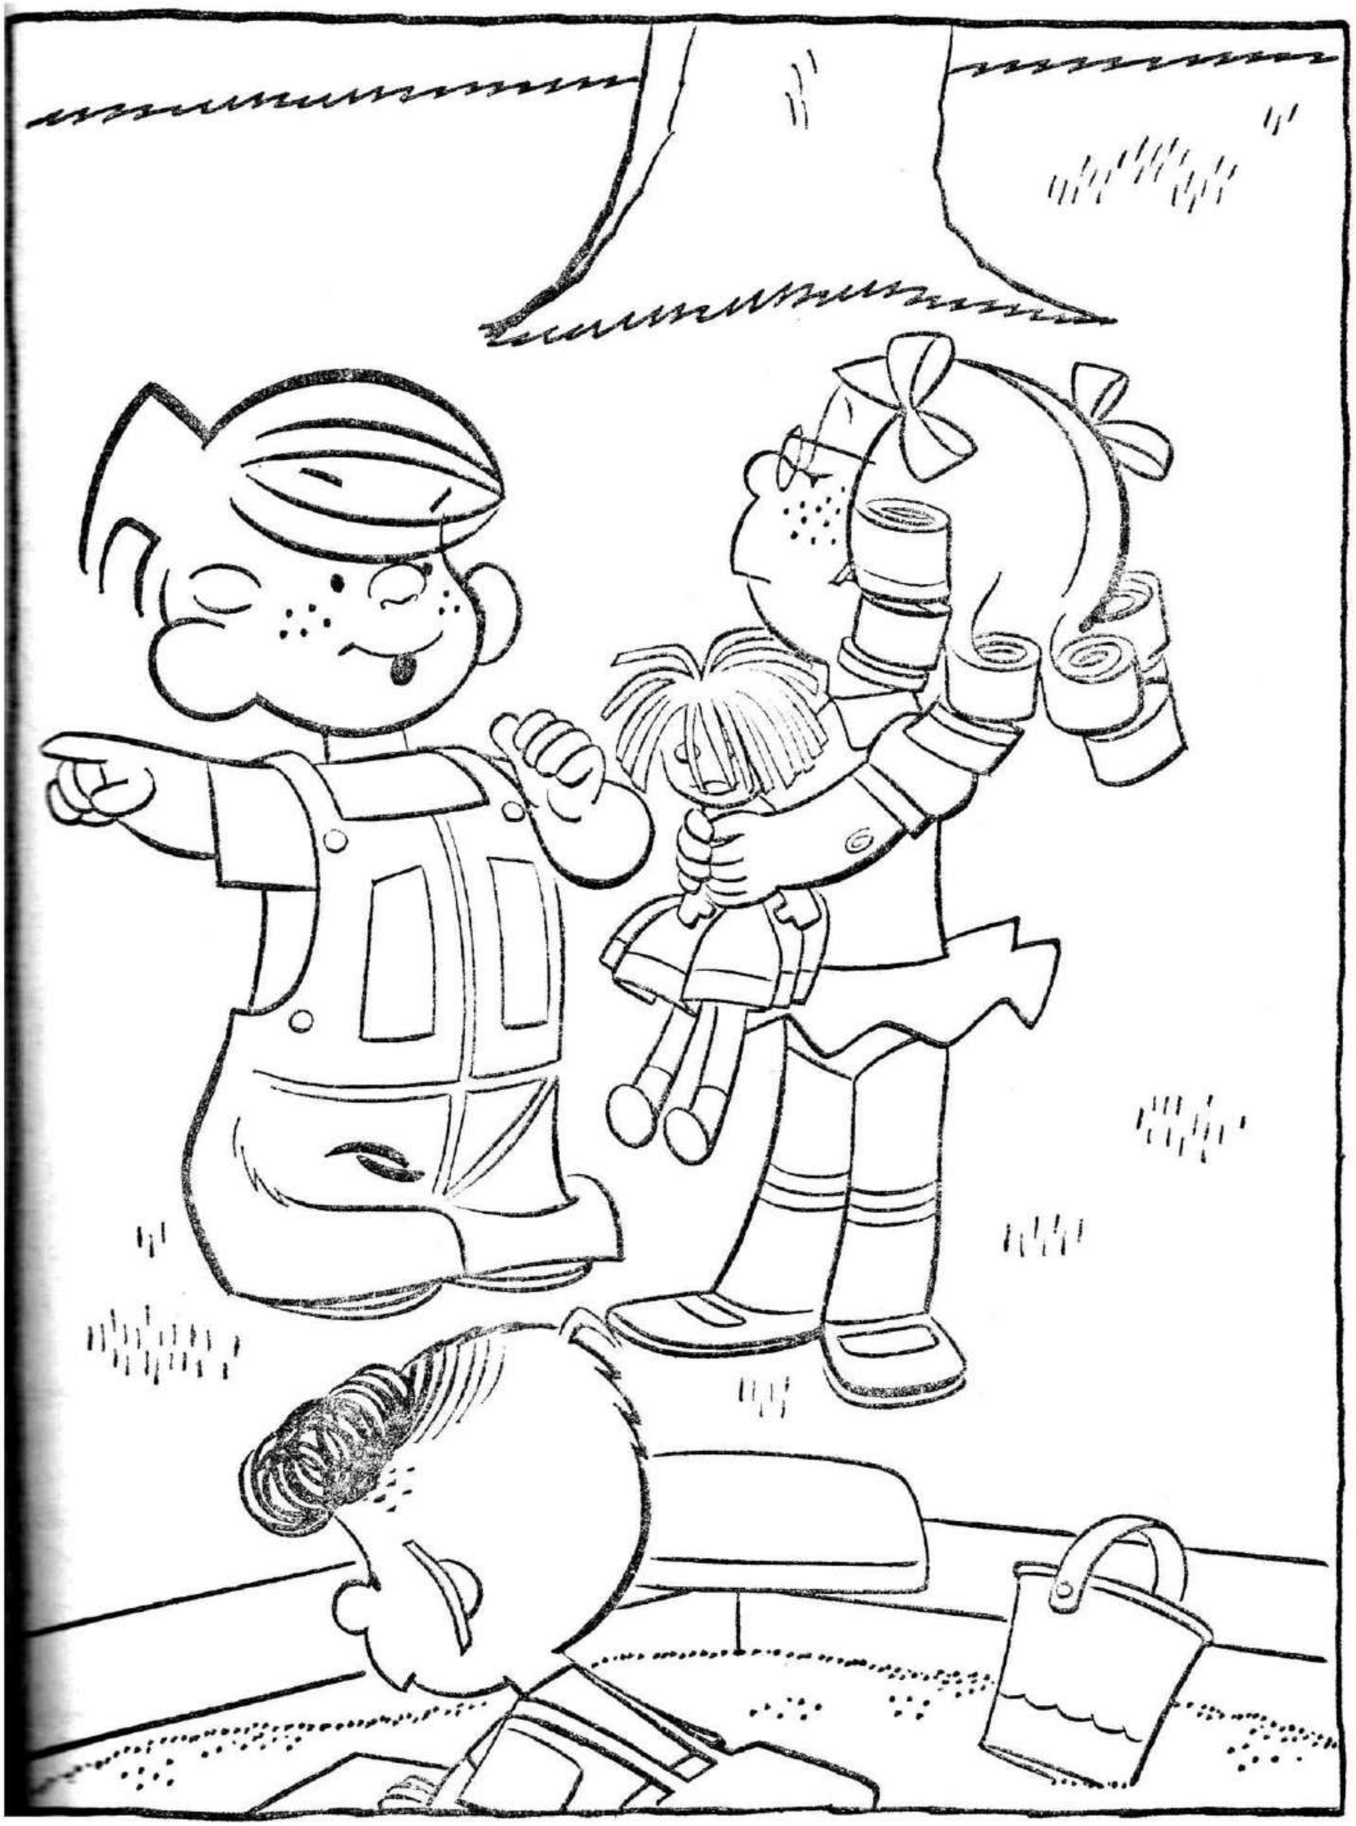

"It hasn't rained in weeks!"

"That was some boat ride!"

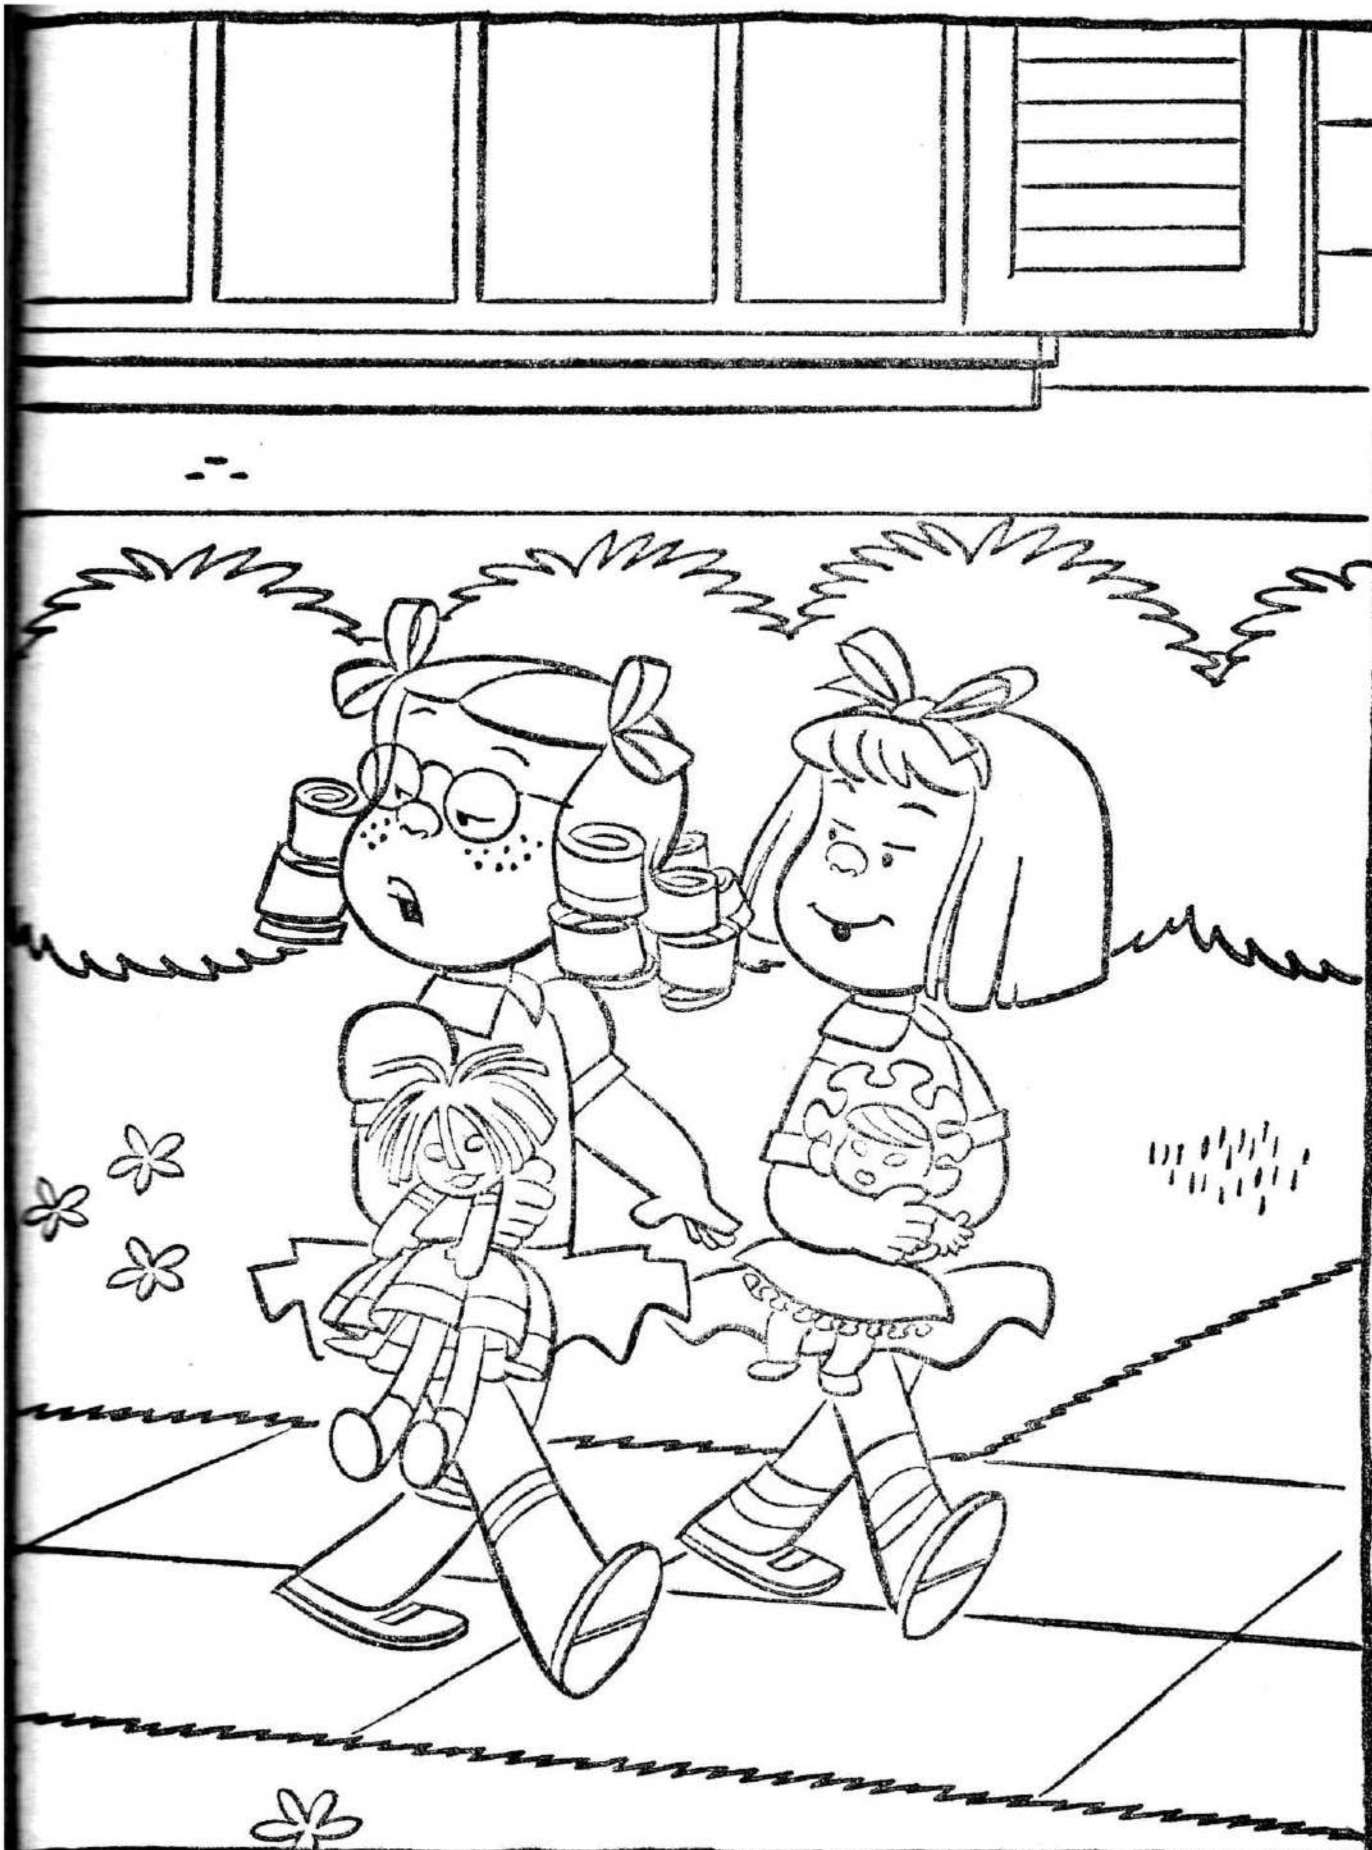

"I had a bath yesterday!"

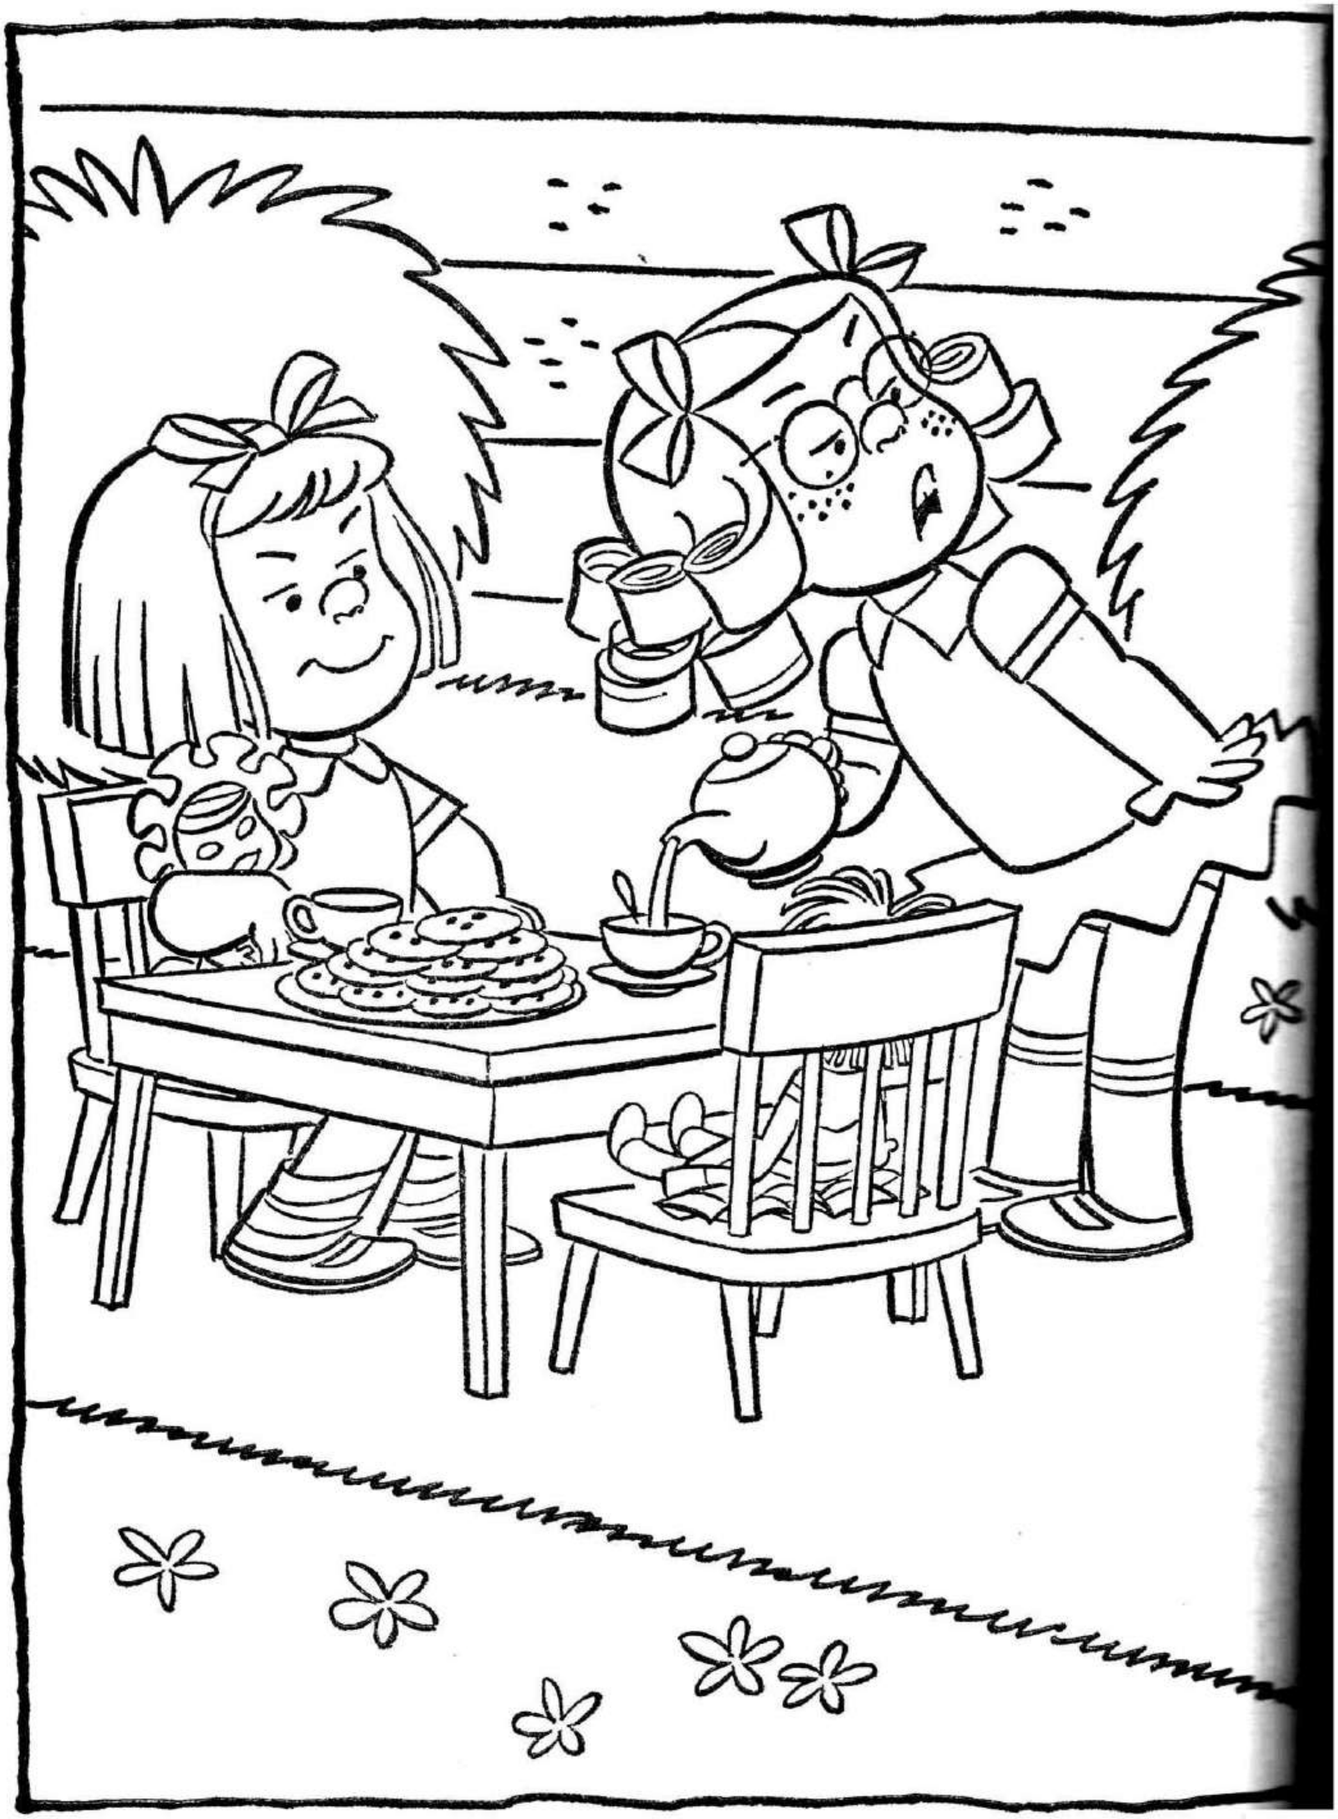

"I've got a ship!"

"Full speed ahead!"

"Boys are so silly!"

Margaret gives a tea party.

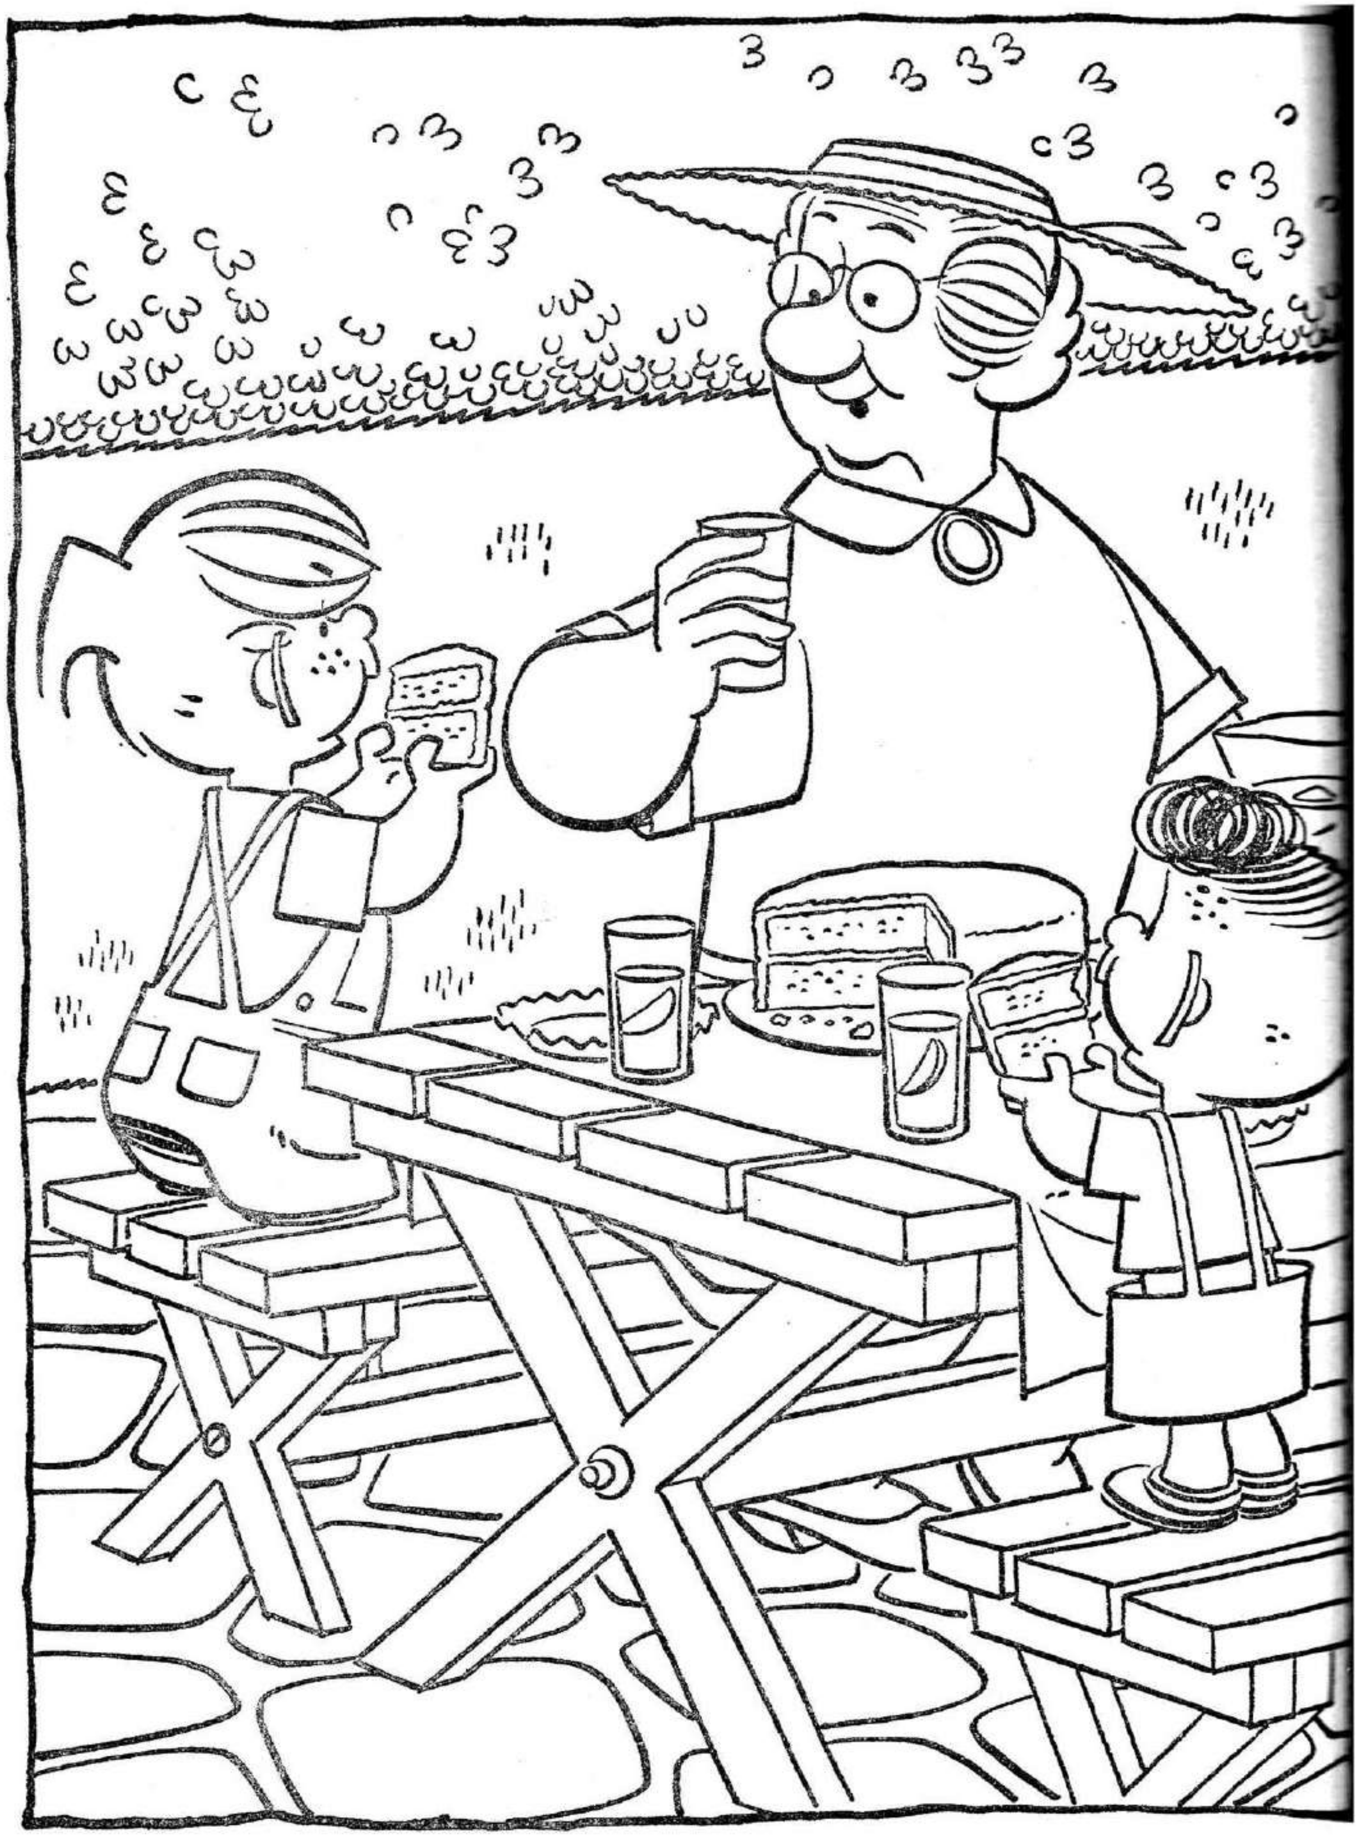

"Can we have a cookie?"

"This party is for girls!"

"Dennis! Joey! Come here, please!"

"Gee, you're nice, Mrs. Wilson!"

"Let's get Mrs. Wilson something!"

"They are three dollars each."

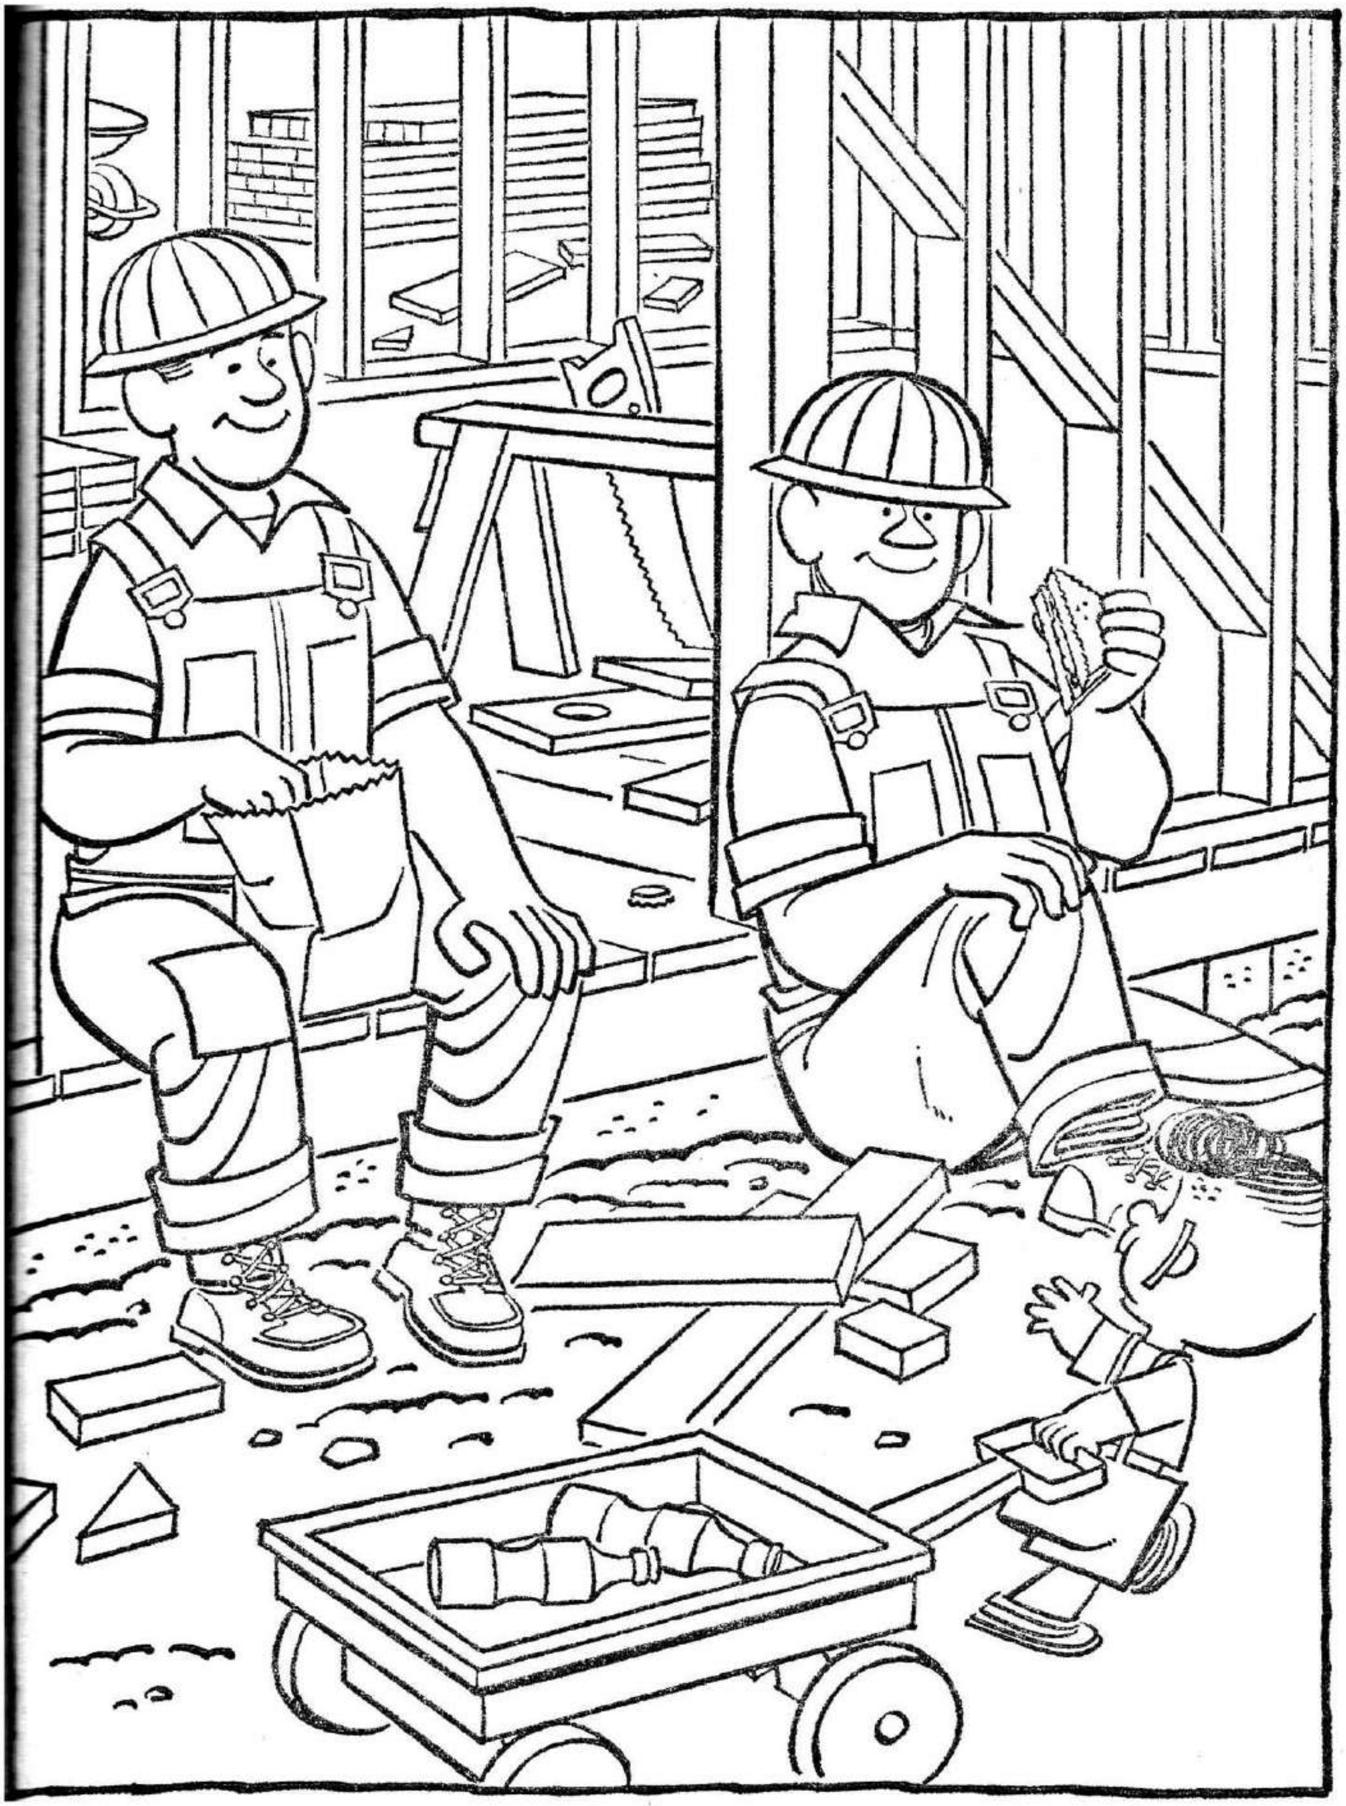

"We're in business!"

"A dollar and twenty cents."

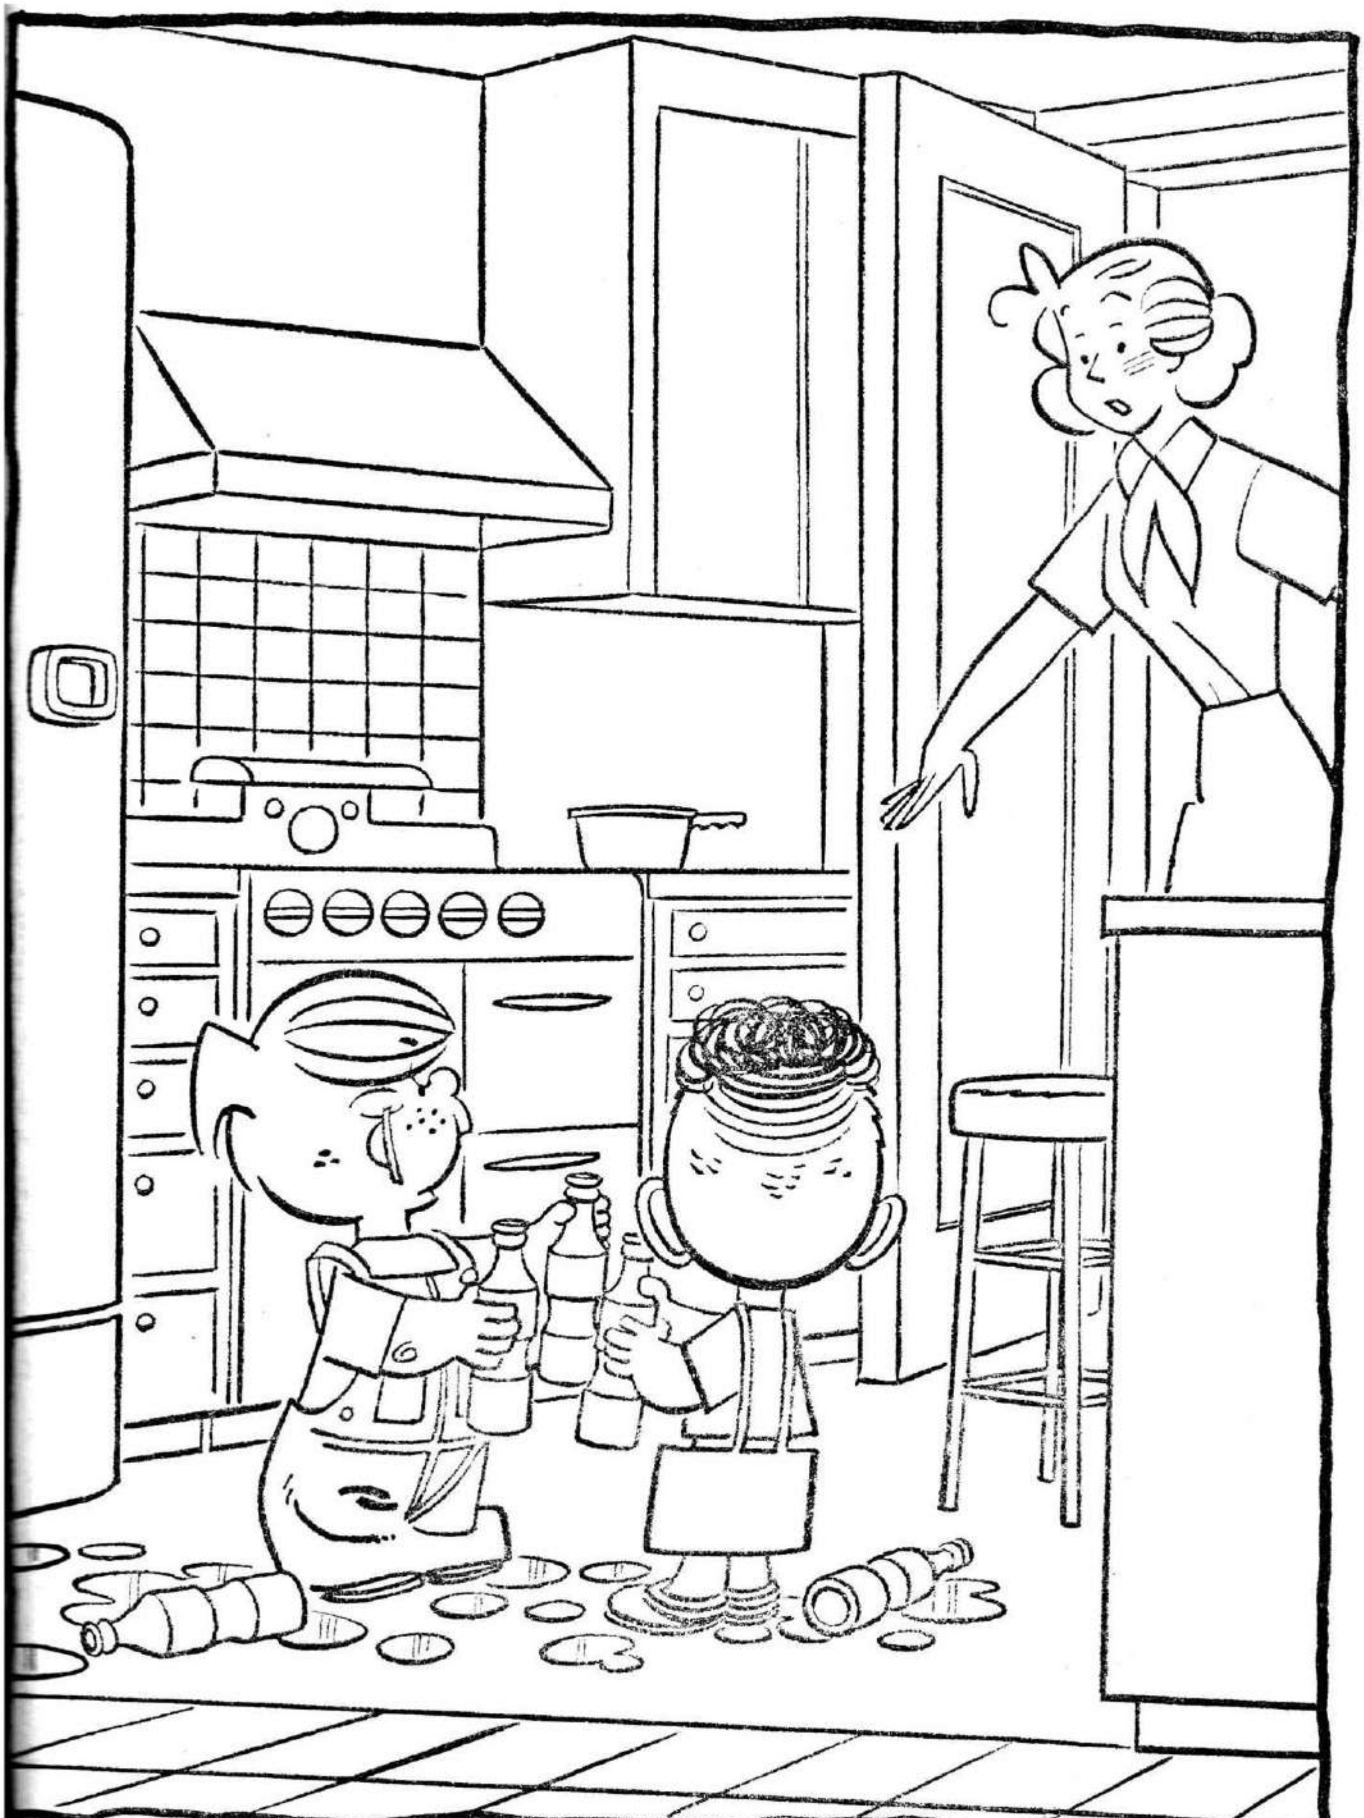

"There you are!"

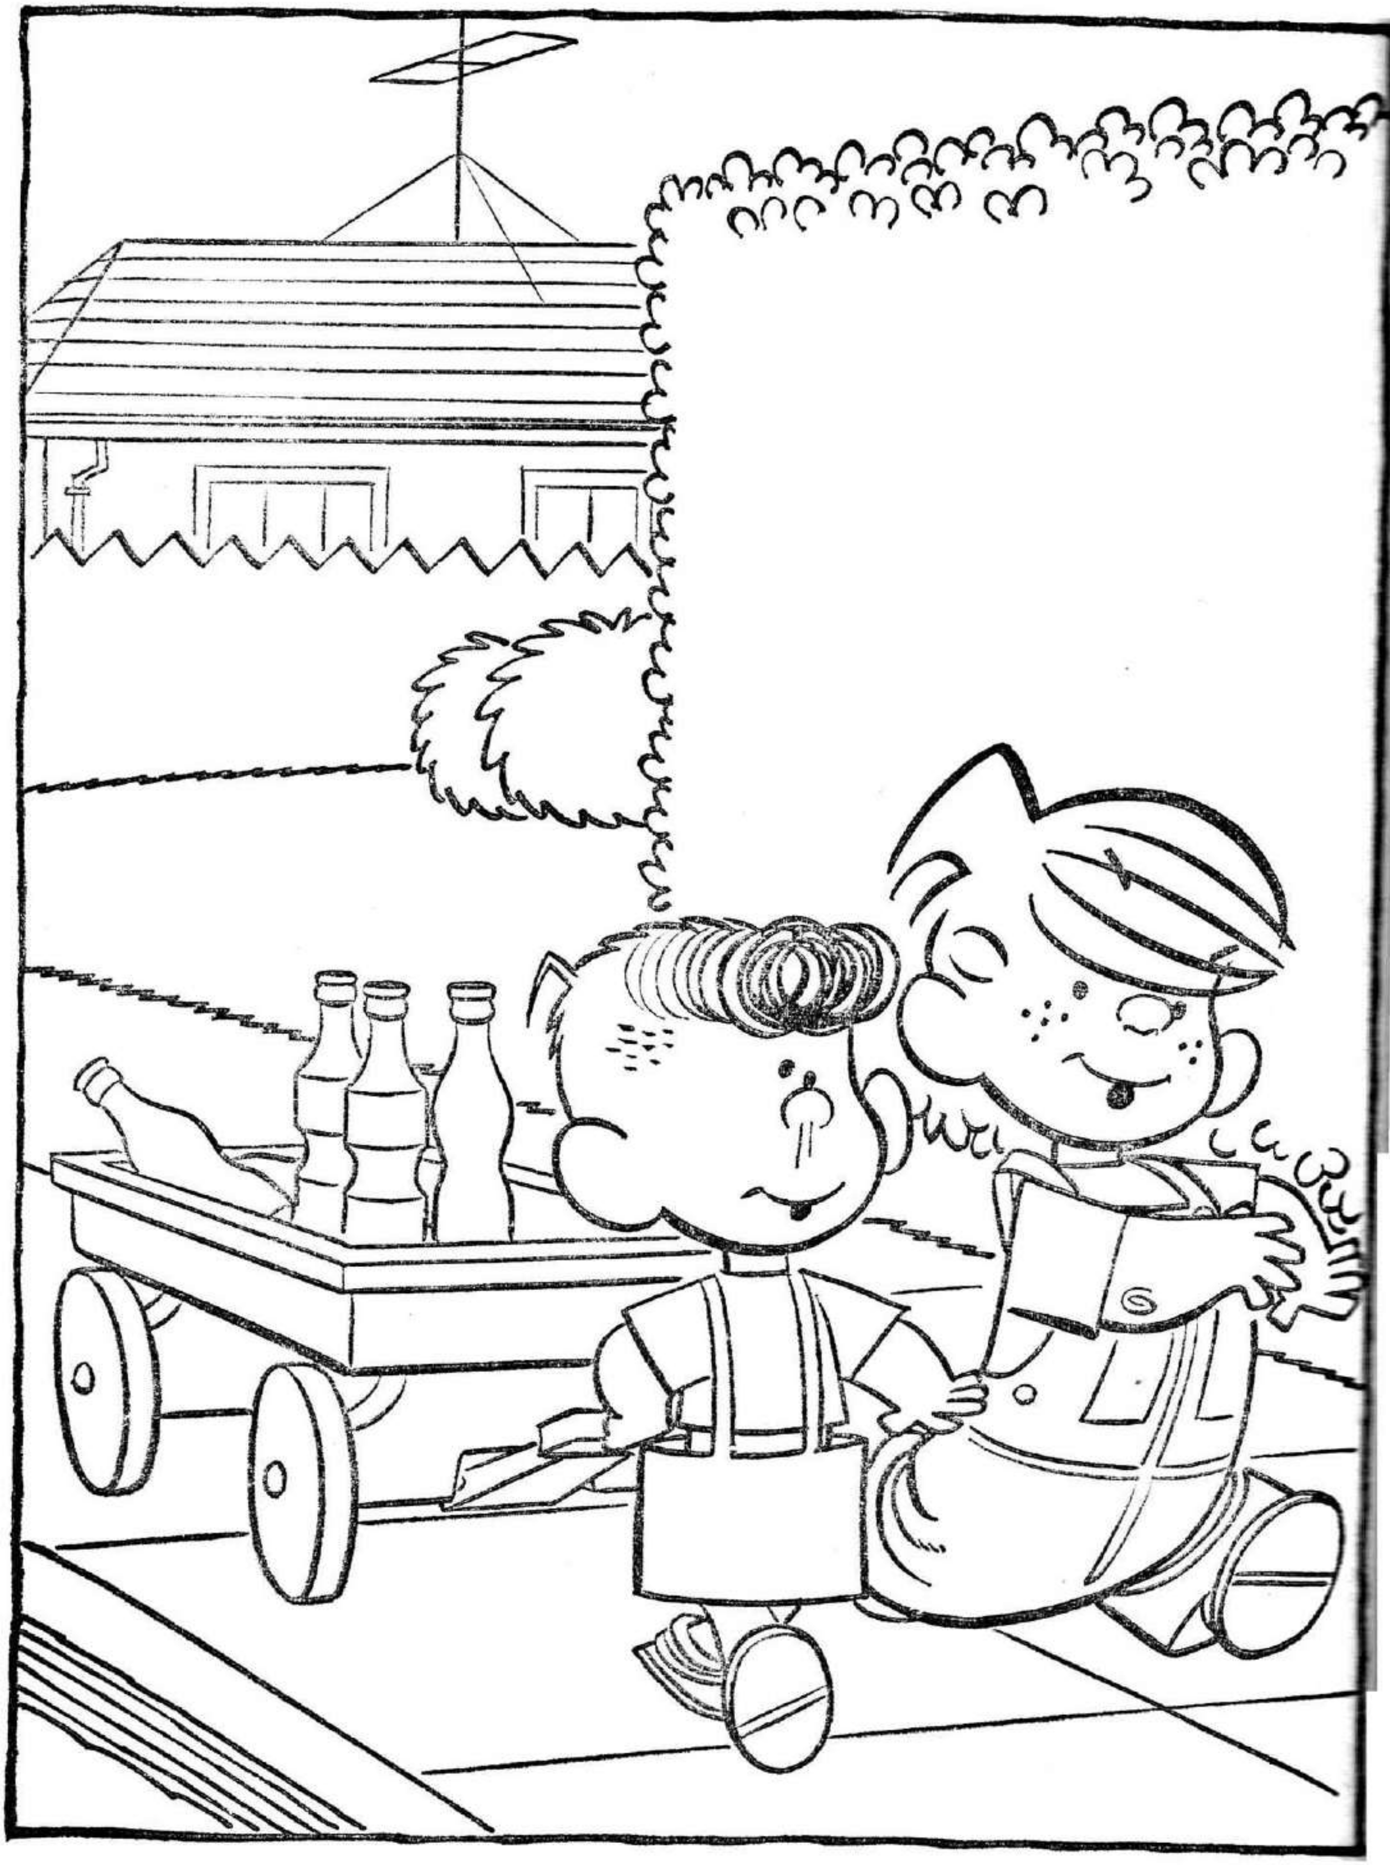

"Thanks, Mithter!"

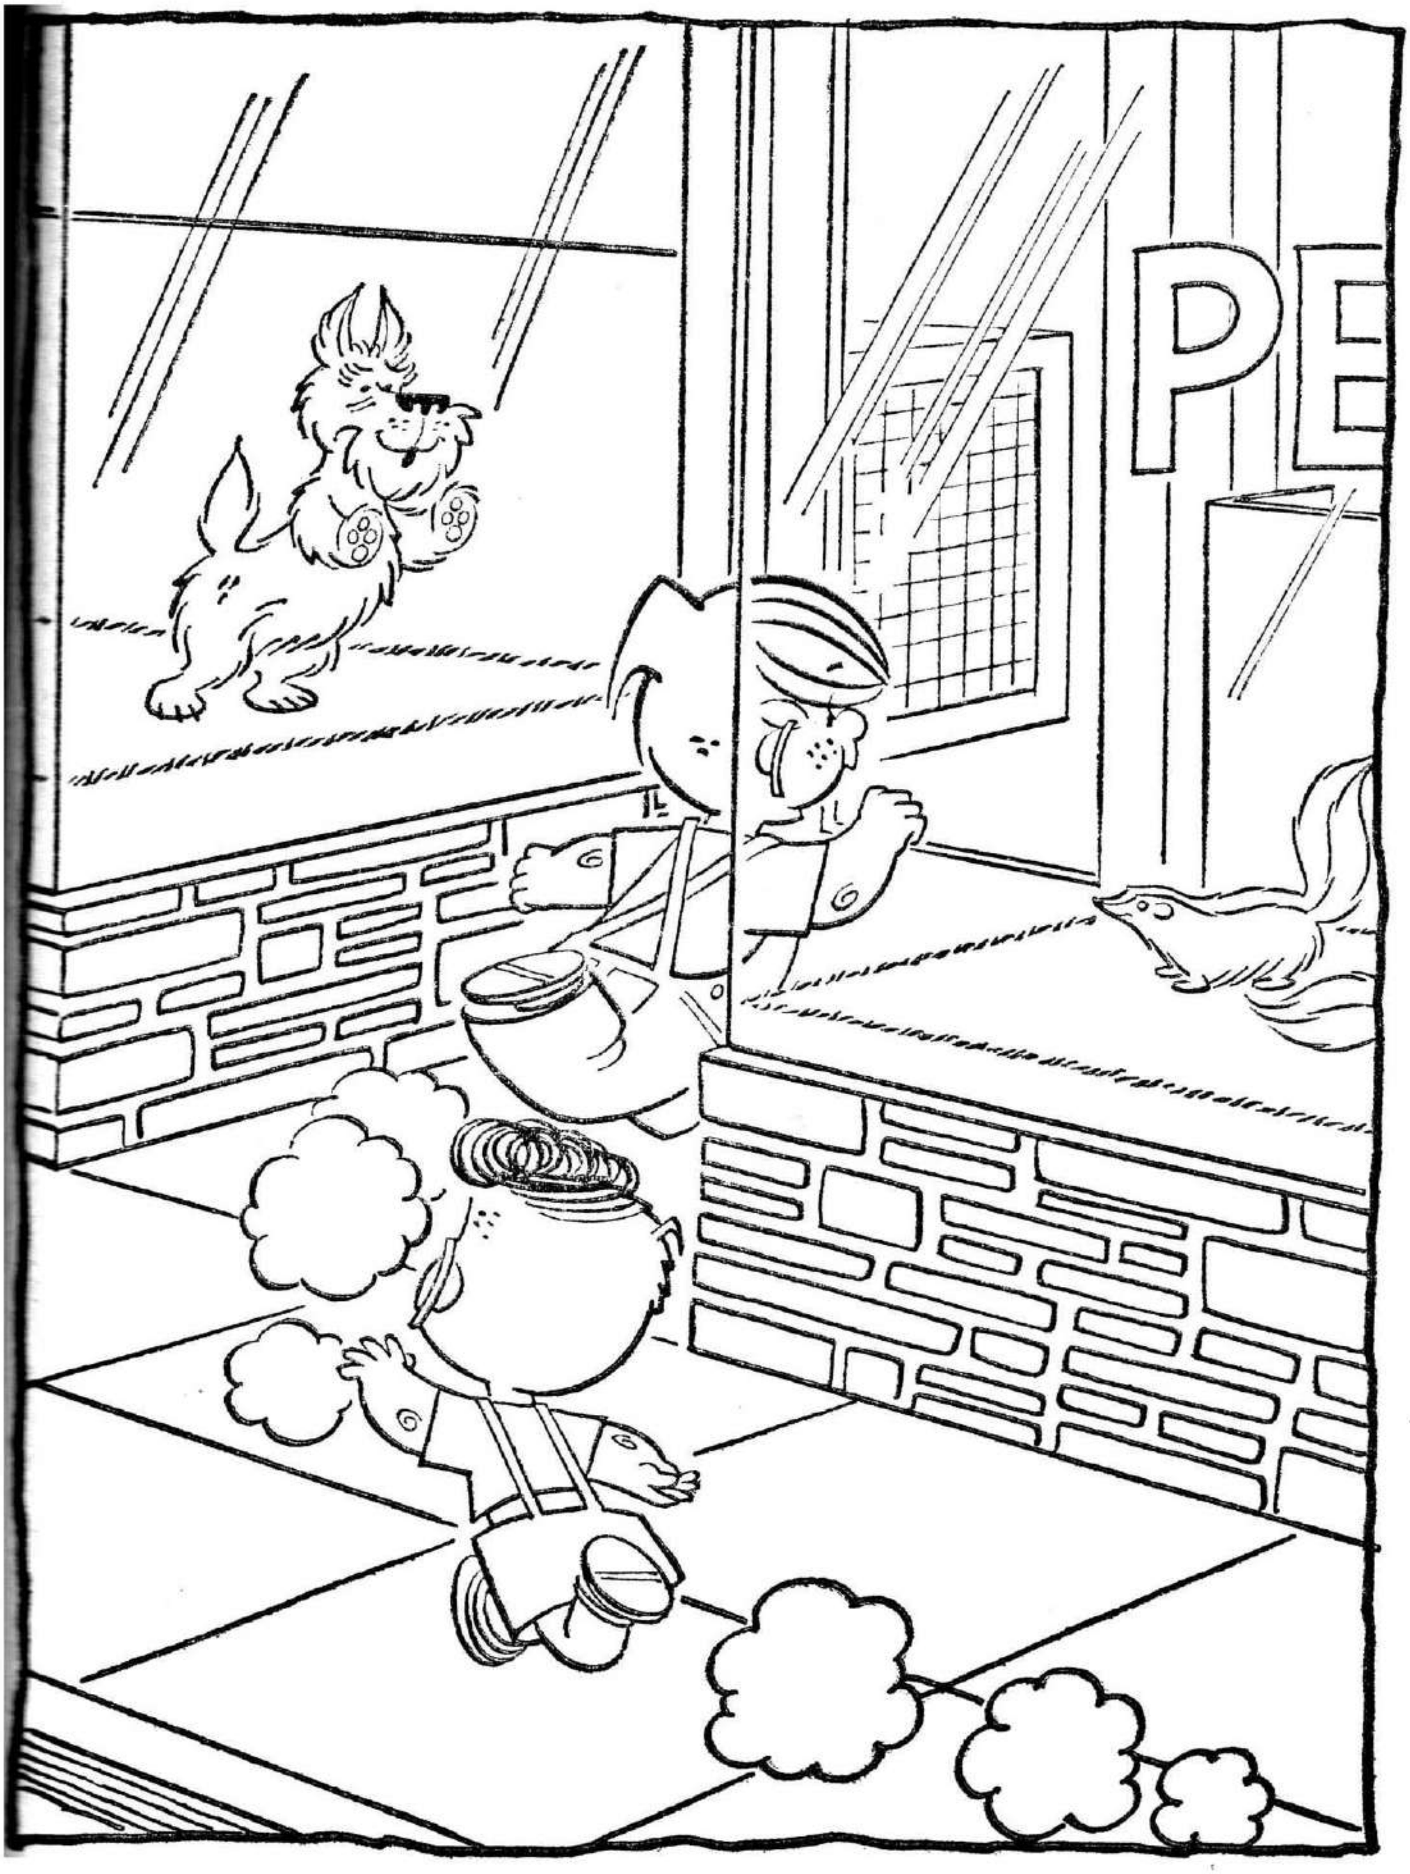

"We almost have enough!"

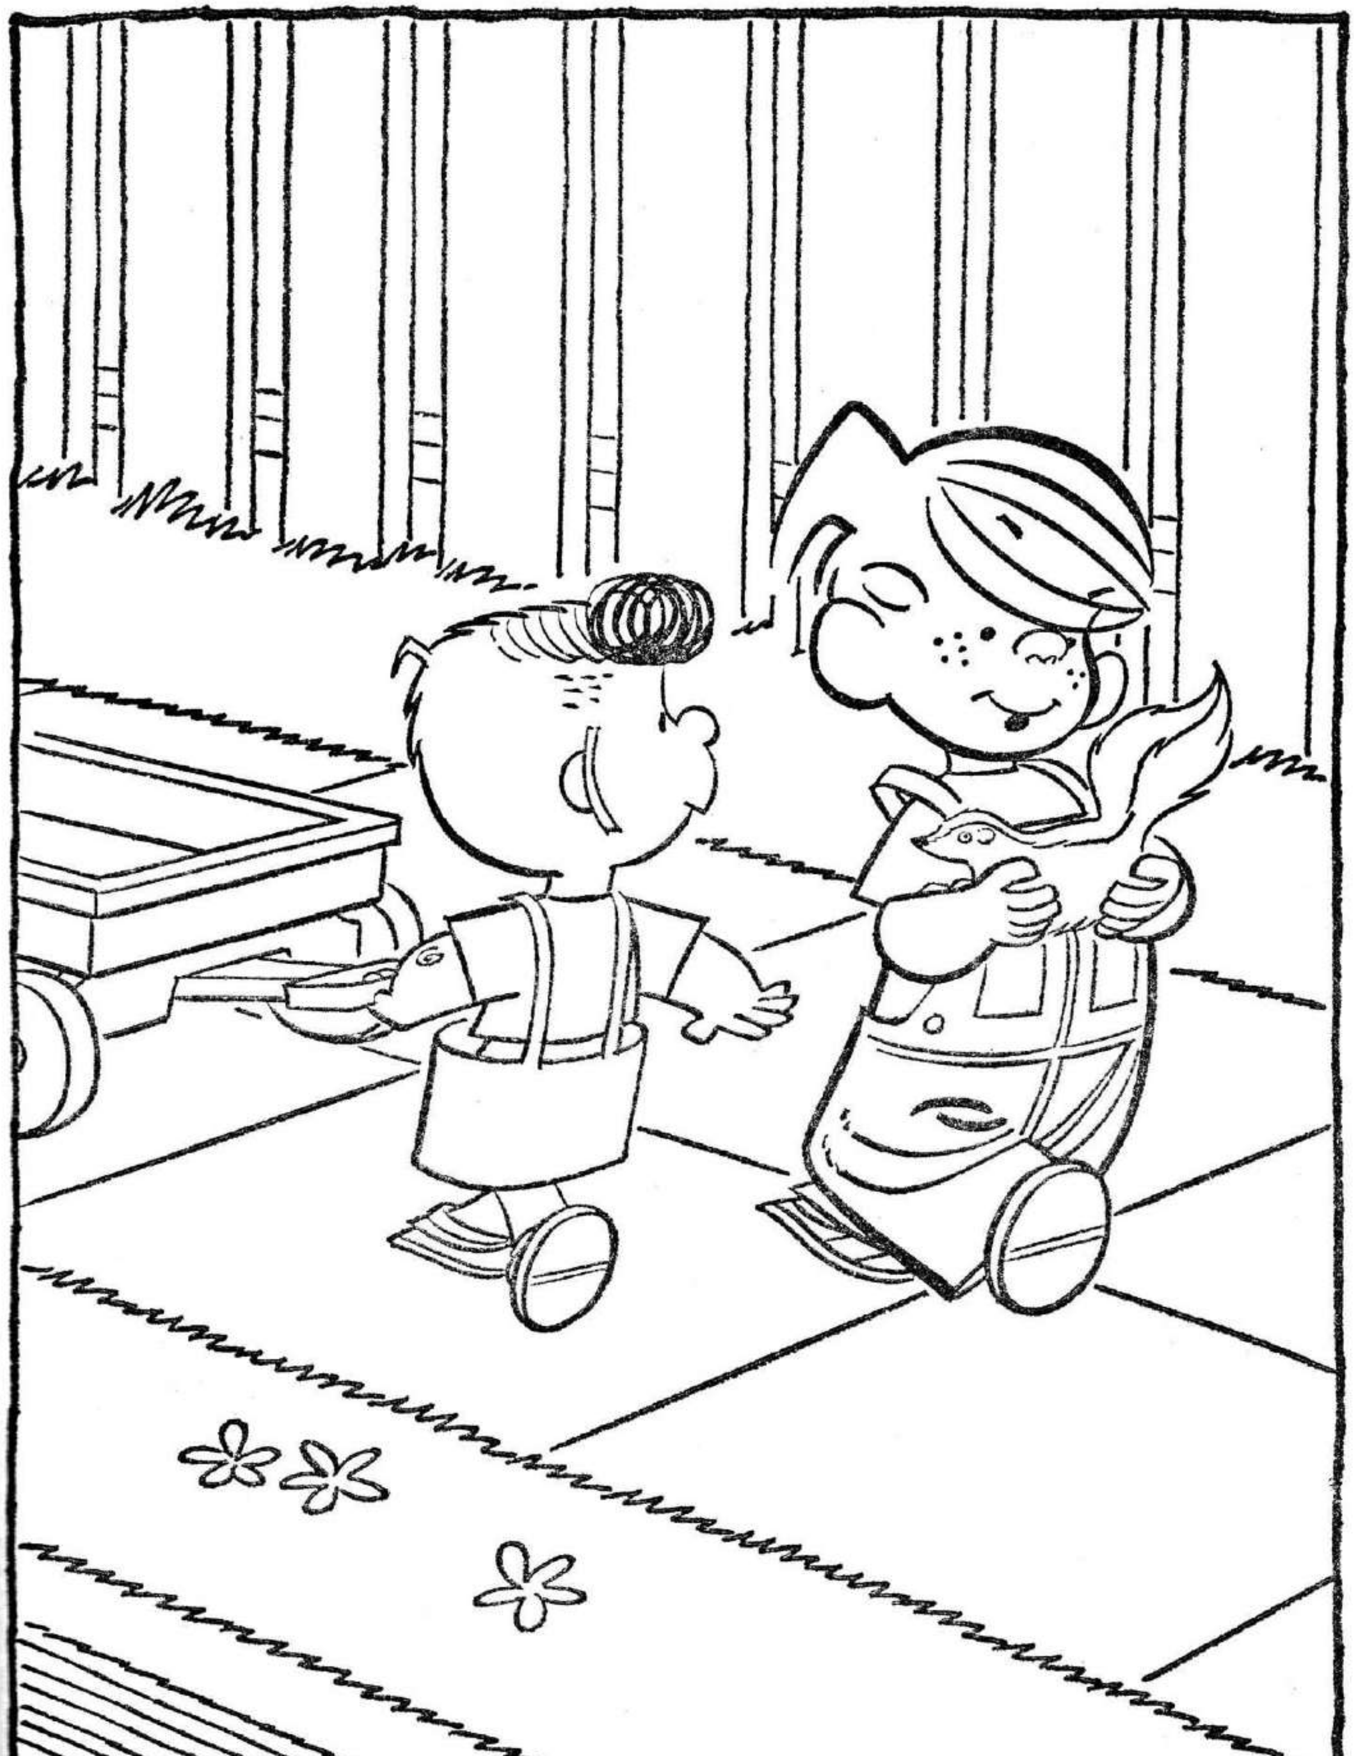

"Dennis!"

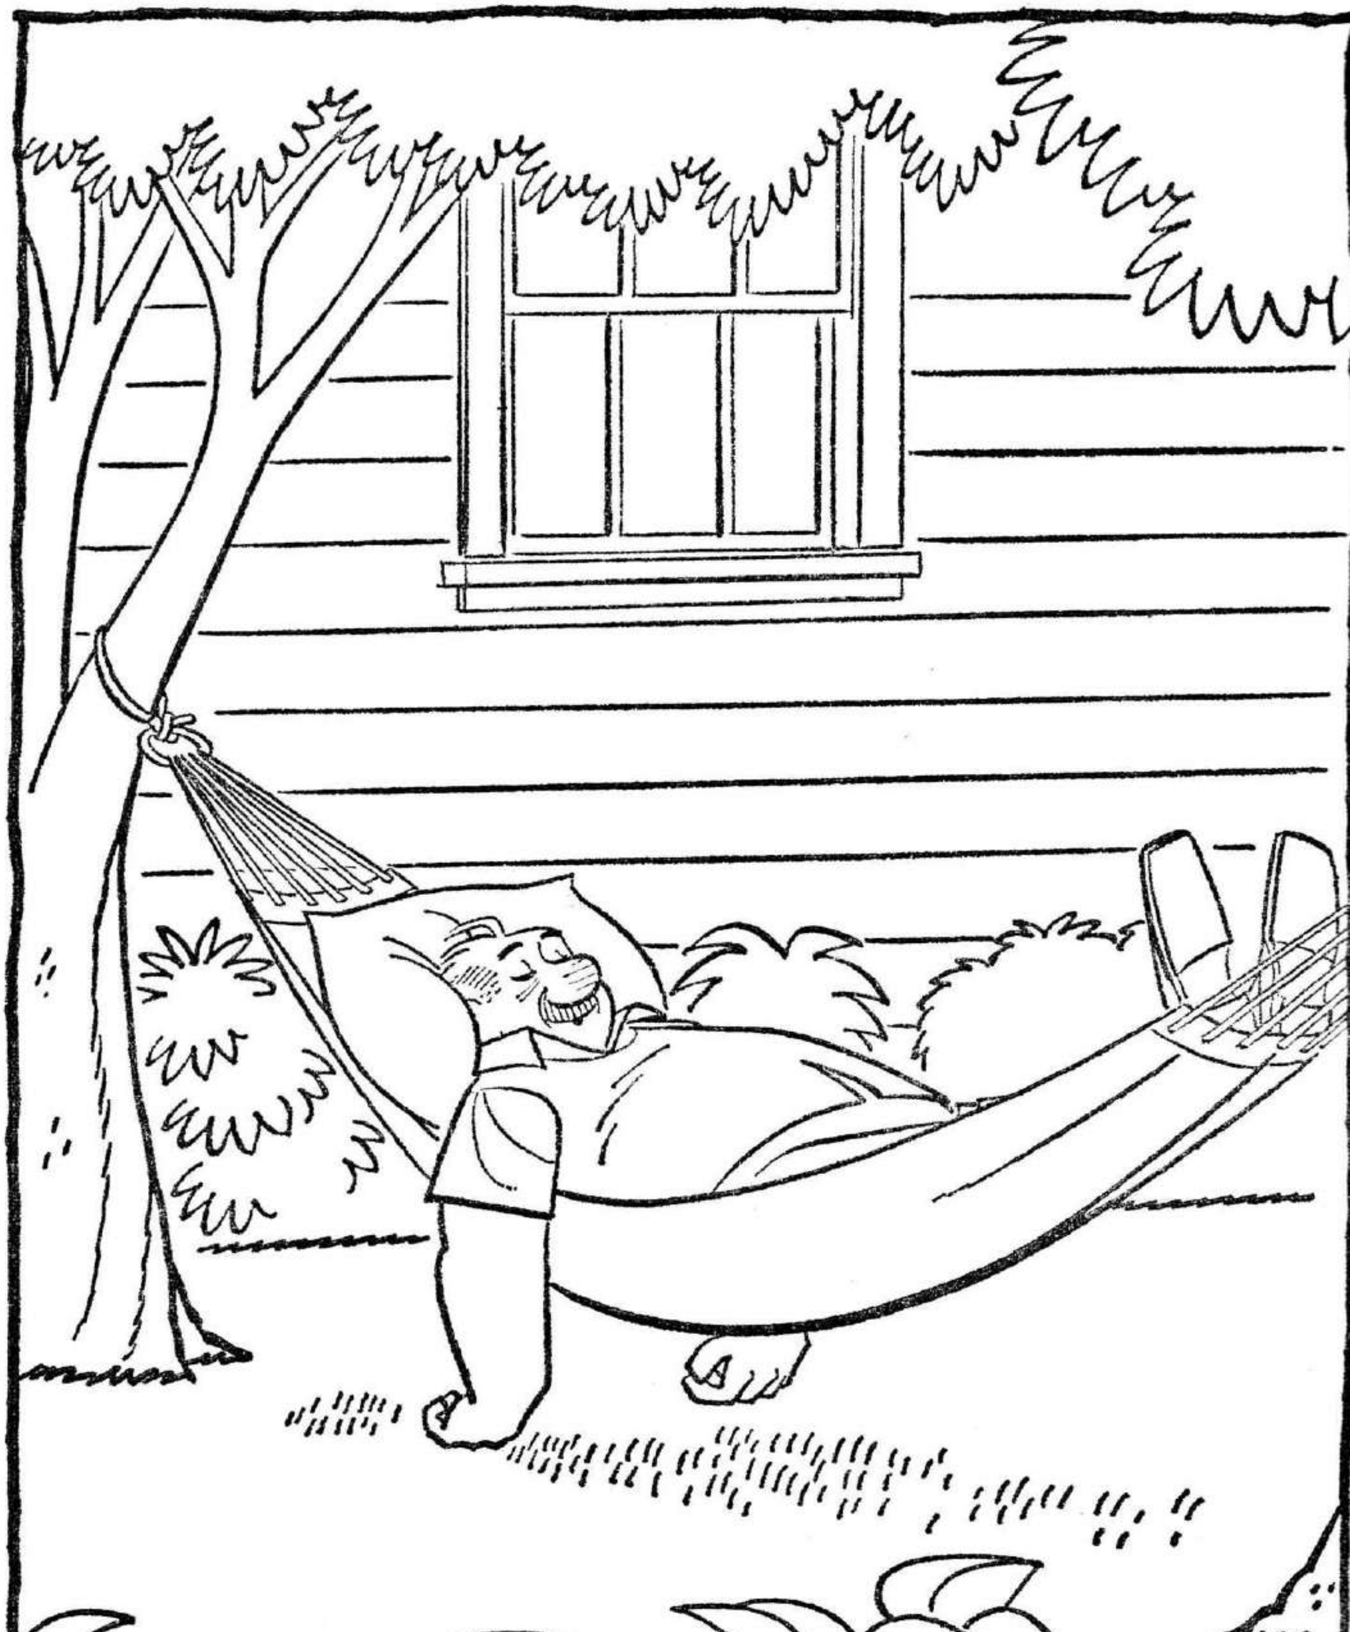

"This should do it!"

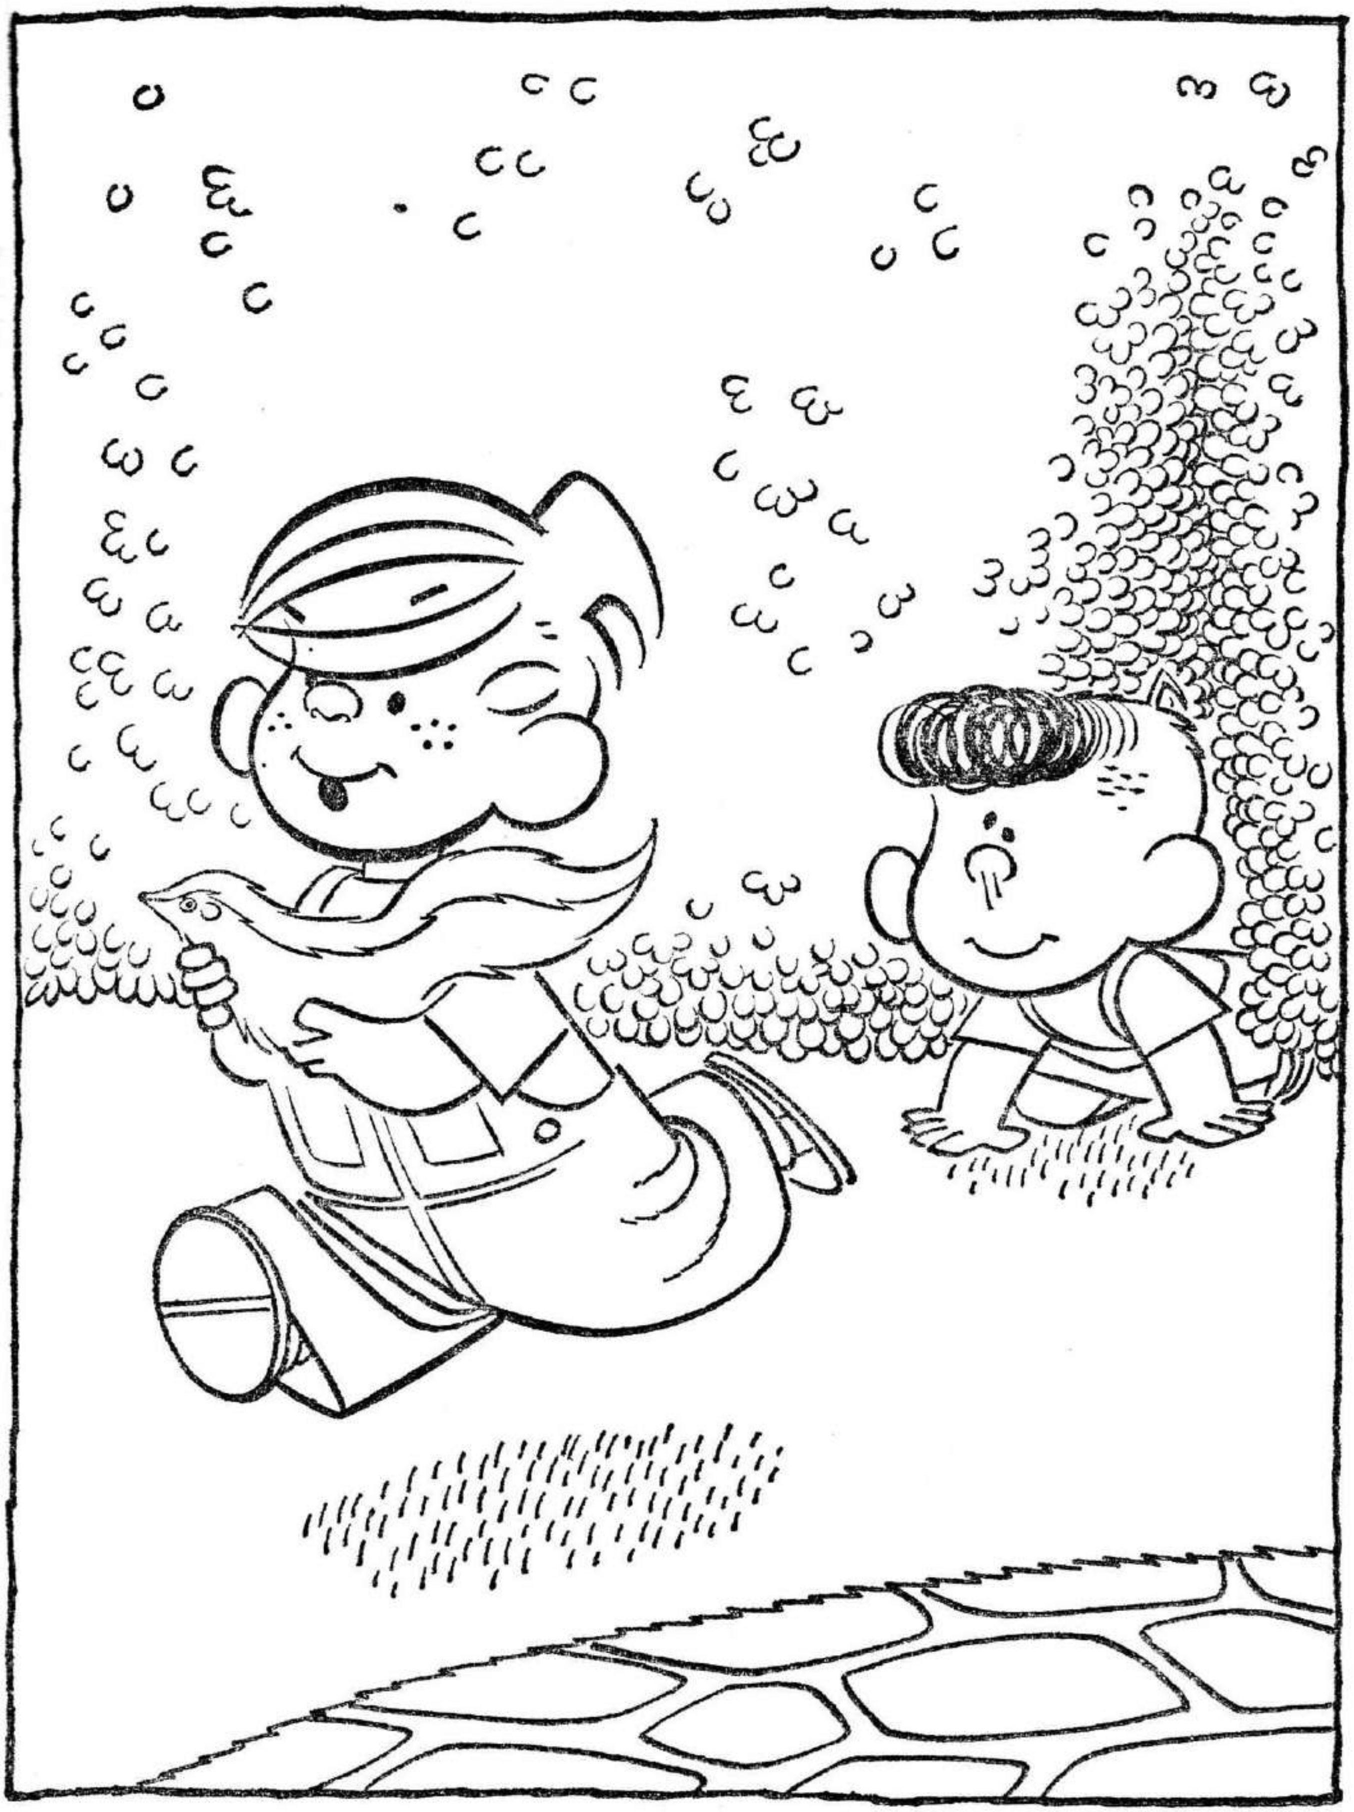

"Hey, Mister!"

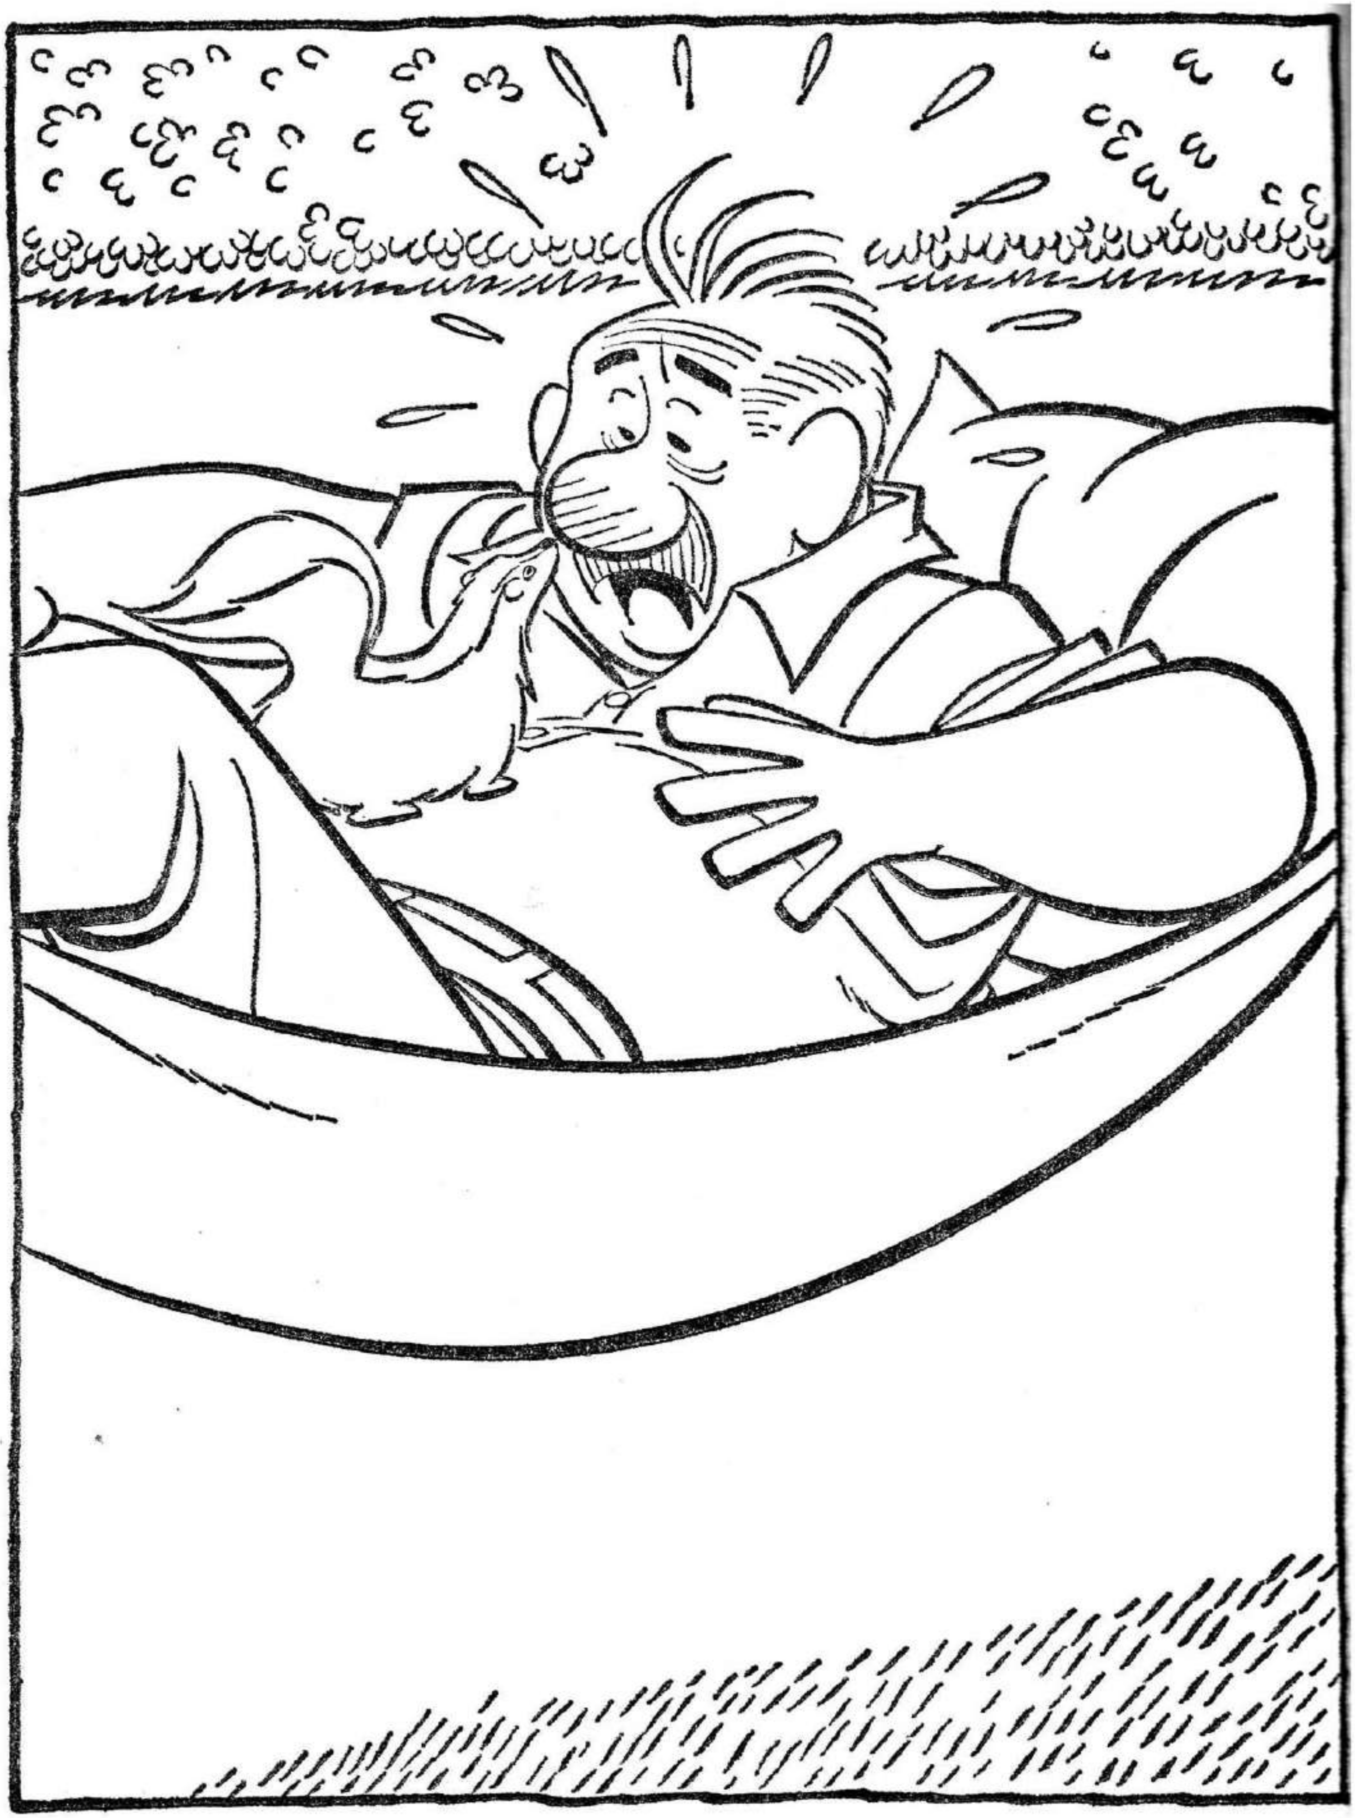

"Mrs. Wilson will love him!"

Mr. Wilson is resting.

"Hey, Mr. Wilson!"

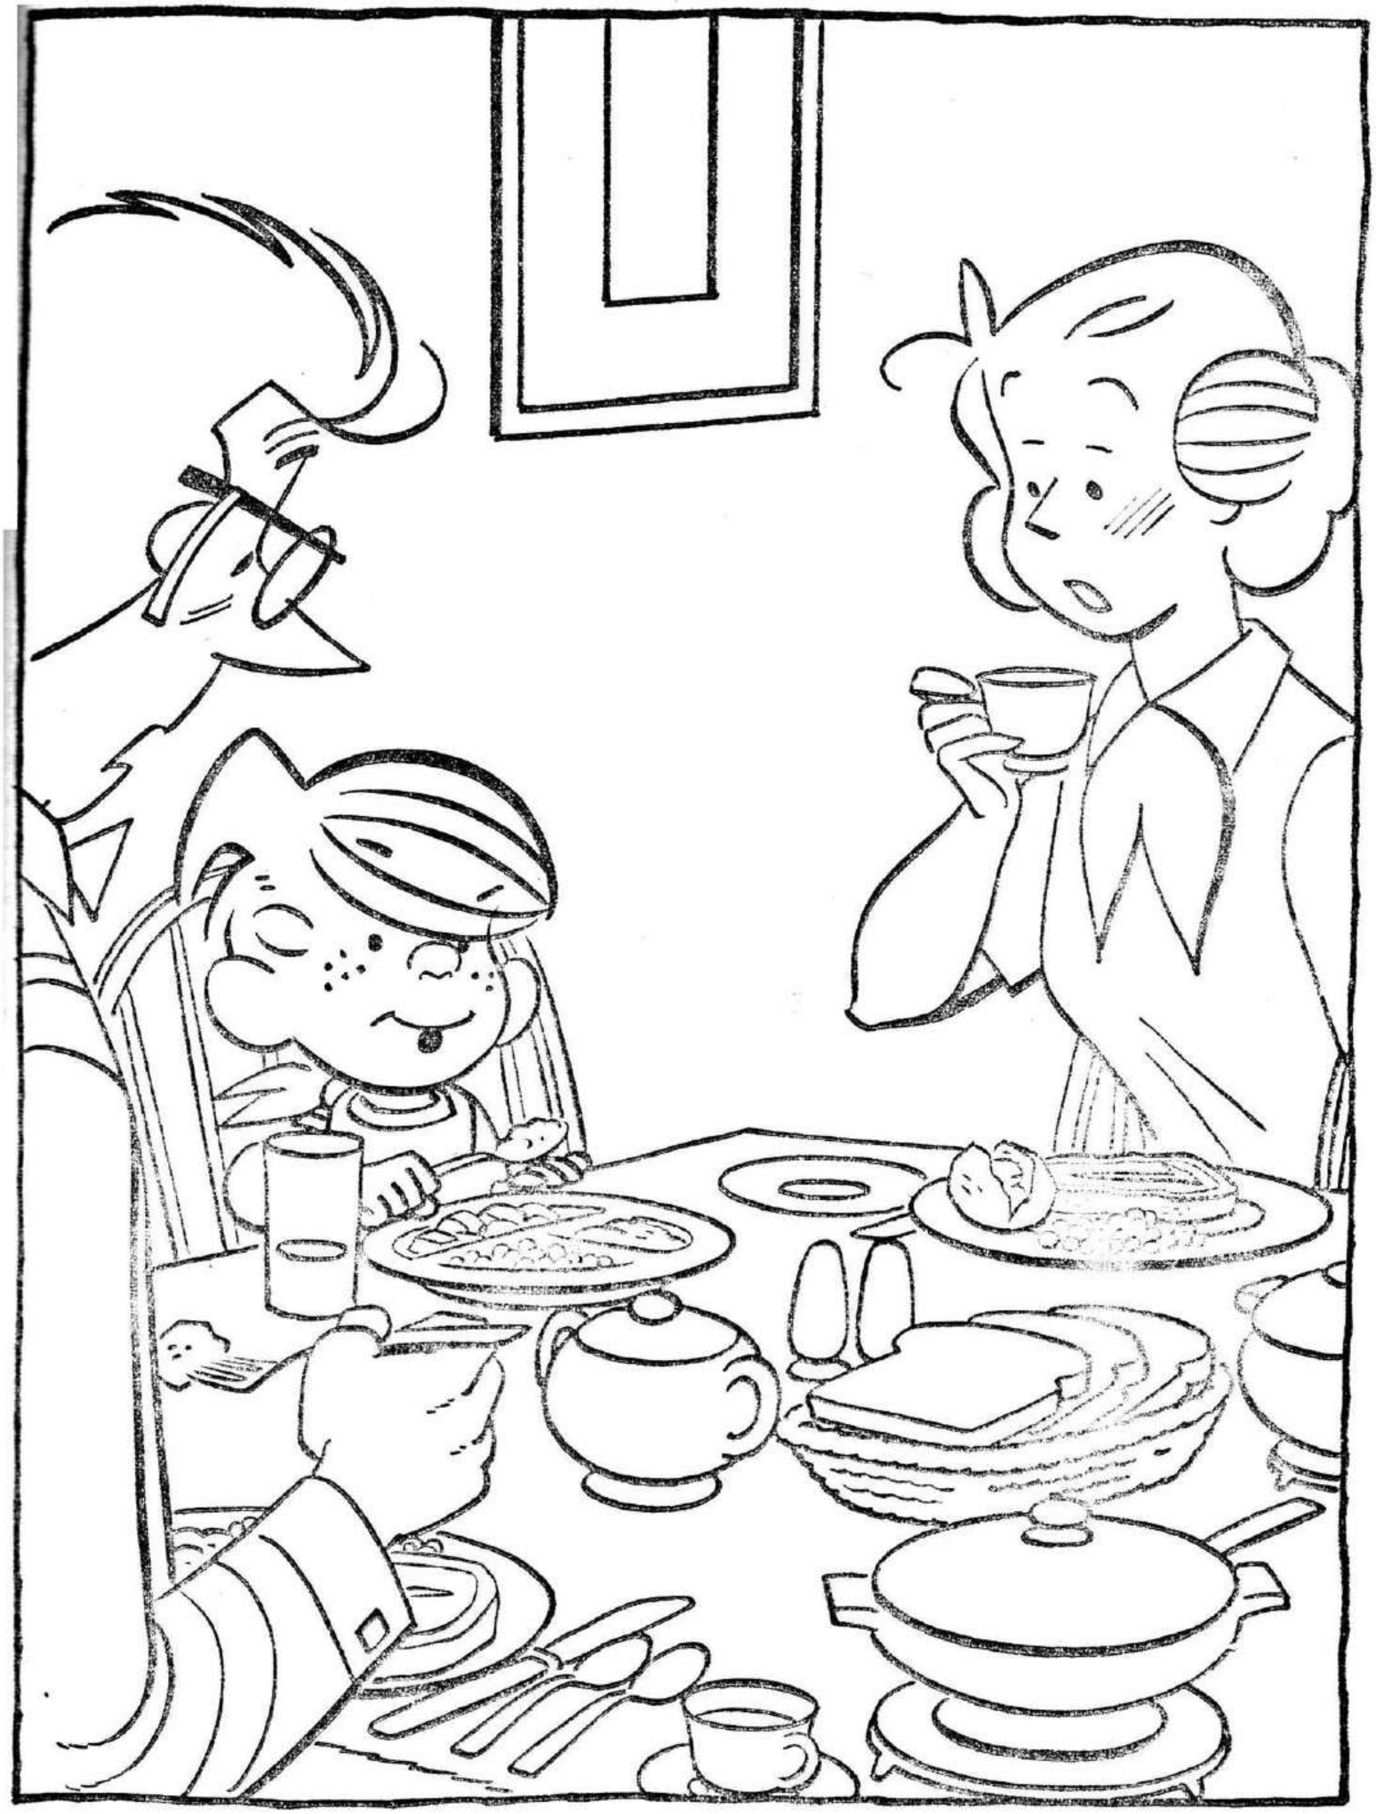

“Great Scott! A skunk!”

"Martha! My nerve pills!"

"But dear, it's de-scented!"

"Mr. Wilson doesn't like skunks."

"Two baths in one day!"

"....and God bless everybody."

"When is next Saturday?"
